Homer Mat Adams Of Springfield, Ill., Elected President Of Group

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Young Democratic clubs of America went down the line for the New Deal program in the 1940 campaign today in concluding their three-day biennial meeting.

The convention adopted resolutions urging President Roosevelt to "press forward with his 'liberal' objectives" and recommending nomination of candidates next year favoring his program. A New Dealer, 29-year-old Homer Mat Adams, Springfield, Ill., was unanimously elected president of the Young Democrats for the next two years.

Although the constitution forbids endorsement of candidates for the presidential nomination, the junior democrats applauded and cheered Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago when he demanded that Roosevelt run again.

HOPE FOR OCEAN FLIERS VANISHES

New Yorkers Attempting To Fly From Canada To Ireland Long Overdue

DUBLIN, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Hope for the safety of two New York fliers attempting to fly from Canada to Ireland vanished today as hours passed without word after their supply was estimated to have been exhausted.

The airmen, Alexander Loeb, 32, and Richard Decker, 23, left St. Peters, Nova Scotia, at 9:04 a.m. eastern standard time yesterday with 350 gallons of gasoline calculated to be enough to last 25 hours.

The odds were 100 to one against them, fliers at Baldonnel airport said, when the zero hour for that supply, 4 p.m. (8 a.m. eastern standard time) was reached without any report from west coast guard stations or ships at sea.

The fliers monoplane 'Shalom,' the Hebrew word for peace, carried no radio.

'Atlantic crazy' fliers overdue' read the headline over terse press accounts of the attempt of the two Americans to span the Atlantic in a plane similar to the one Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh used in 1927 when he flew from New York to Paris.

The Irish, who always are ready with a welcome for daring American adventurers, said weather conditions never were more favorable. There

GIRL TO TELL JURY OF HER ABDUCTION

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Jean Bolton, 19, night club singer, was summoned today to tell a grand jury on Tuesday her story of three harrowing days and nights as captive of a self-styled movie talent scout accused of slaying her companion, 17-year-old Frances Ruth Dunn.

Meanwhile State Attorney Phil O'Connell said the man, booked as Charles Jefferson on a charge of murder and abduction, probably would not be brought to trial until the next term of circuit court, which opens October 3.

Miss Dunn's slashed, beaten body was buried in Miami yesterday. She had been found early Thursday beside a lonely road near Boca Raton, nude and covered only with a raincoat, her throat slit and several stab wounds in her body.

Miss Bolton was unharmed, but was visibly worn by her experience.

Sheriff W. H. Lawrence today said he had sent Jefferson's fingerprints and description to police in several other states where there were unsolved slayings or assaults of theatrically ambitious girls.

Larchmont, N. Y., Police Chief William J. Keresey asked officials here to check Jefferson's whereabouts the night of October 11, 1938, when the battered body of Mary Imelda Coyle, 17, was found in a vacant lot behind a theater.

Harrisburg, Pa., officials asked that he be questioned concerning the unsolved slaying eight months ago of Margaret Martin, 19, and California police sought information concerning the death by bludgeoning of a Russion dancer, Anya Sosoyeva, at Hollywood.

Leche, administration candidate for governor, a manufactured majority of 64,060. BURFORD HEARING SET FOR MONDAY

U. S. Judge In Texas To Consider Removal Order And Habeas Corpus Writ

DALLAS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—United States Judge T. W. Davidson ruled today he would consider a removal order and hold a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus simultaneously Monday for Freeman W. Burford, wealthy independent oil operator, indicted at New Orleans on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Connally "hot oil" act.

His ruling followed Burford's arraignment before United States Commissioner John Davis on the removal order, at which Davis ordered the oil man remanded under $5,000 bond to the United States marshal for instanter appearance at New Orleans. Under the decision, Burford's attorneys were successful in staving off immediate removal to face the charges in Louisiana.

Burford was indicted along with former Governor Richard W. Leche of Louisiana and Seymour Weiss of New Orleans. A $5,000 bond made by Burford in his first appearance before the commissioner here was ordered continued in effect.

Judge Davidson's action followed application for a removal order filed by government attorneys. He technically opened the hearing on the writ of habeas corpus, then postponed it until Monday. This in effect consolidated taking of testimony in both matters.

Commissioner Davis said at the arraignment he did not deem it his duty to pass upon the question of whether or not the indictment states cause for action against Burford, inasmuch as the habeas corpus matter was pending in district court. Attorneys for Burford had obtained the writ on grounds the indictments failed to specify a crime against the United States.

'CHUTE SAVES AIRMEN AS ARMY PLANE FALLS

LANGLEY FIELD, Va., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Second Lieutenant C. T. Murrell of the air reserve corps, and Private Amelio Lenzeni parachuted to safety today when their army attack plane from Langley field fell in a swamp near Fort Eustis, about 15 miles from here.

The plane, second Langley field ship to crash within less than 24 hours, caught fire and was destroyed after it struck the ground.

A three-man board of inquiry, meanwhile, probed the flame-blackened wreckage of a Douglas B-18-A bomber which fell and burned yesterday at Langley field, killing its crew of two officers and seven enlisted men.

TROPICAL STORM SKIRTS FLORIDA

Several Communities Cut Off From Outside Communications By High Winds

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A tropical storm with winds of 60 miles an hour or more skirted the northwest Florida coast tonight, cutting off several communities from outside communications, and was expected to pass inland near Valpariso.

Apalachicola, where waterfront damage was known to have been caused, Port St. Joe, Carrabelle and other communities along the gulf and Franklin county coast were without telephone and telegraph communications.

Whether there was any serious damage or any casualties in that section was not known but it was believed here losses were not heavy.

The New Orleans weather bureau said the storm center passed over Port St. Joe about 6 p. m., eastern standard time, and was central at 7:30 p. m. near St. Andrews bay.

The barometer at Panama City was 29.25 inches—against a normal 30—at 7:30 when the storm was approaching, but more than two hours later winds

PROCUREMENT DIVISION CHIEF ORDERED TO COAST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Christian J. Peoples, who as director of the treasury's procurement division for four years was one of the government's heaviest spenders, was ordered to the Pacific coast today by the navy.

Effective in October, he will be general inspector of the navy supply corps for the Pacific coast.

HOLLAND TO USE SEA AGAINST FOE

Careful Plans Worked Out To Flood Vital Area In Case Of Invasion

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 12.—(AP)—If the Netherlands should be invaded her citizens may resort to a daring collaboration with their old enemy, the sea, in an attempt to hold off the new foe.

Military experts say that carefully worked out plans for flooding a vital area of this tiny country by opening the dykes and diverting the canals lie ready in the generals' offices.

The unique part of the "water line defense plan"—as it is called—is that the Netherlanders would be fighting not on the dry but on the wet side of the line.

The Netherlands hopes, of course, that she can remain neutral as she did in the World war and she is following a cautious diplomatic policy.

She is very careful especially not to say or do anything which might give offense to her mighty German neighbor.

WELFARE PLACED ON MERIT BASIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Social security board officials estimated today that the new "merit system" amendment to the social security act would prohibit political activity by 100,000 employes of state welfare offices.

The amendment, approved by the last session of congress and effective January 1, directs that all employes of state welfare offices which receive any part of their administrative expenses from the federal treasury must be selected and work wholly on a non-political basis.

Consequently, said a board official, "if a man goes out and does a little campaigning, we'll have to say to the state where he is employed, 'we can't give you a dime as long as this man is working.'"

The 100,000 employes are in state offices handling unemployment compensation and administering assistance to the blind, to children and to the aged. Such offices receive federal funds.

Board experts said that between now and the effective date of the amendment an approved "merit system" plan would be submitted to all states and territories.

"If a state declines to comply with the system," board officials said, "we'll have no alternative except to notify them that grants for administrative costs can no longer be made."

REMOVAL IS INTERRUPTED BY UNCHARTED PINNACLE

Gigantic Task Expected To Be Virtually Completed Later This Week

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The submarine Squalus with its cargo of 26 dead was held fast tonight by an uncharted mud hump it struck while being towed shoreward after the United States navy had raised the vessel 80 feet from a 240-foot depth in an epochal engineering feat.

"Squalus cannot be moved appreciably from position of first grounding," Rear Admiral Cyrus W. Cole, in charge of the operations, radioed from the salvage ship Falcon.

He added, however, that pontoons attached to the submarine would be re-set tomorrow for the second of three scheduled liftings.

Naval officers ashore said the mud pinnacle had halted the shoreward journey from 300 to 500 yards short of the first haul's destination. They expressed informal opinions that the unexpected grounding would simply change the scene of the second lift without materially interfering with the task of returning the Squalus to the Portsmouth navy yard.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The U. S. S. Squalus, a steel shroud for 26 men, was reclaimed in history making fashion by the navy today from the 240-foot depth to which the submarine sank 82 days ago.

In an operation that combined both beauty and a high degree of mathematical precision, an expert salvage crew first hoisted the flooded submarine approximately 80 feet from the ocean floor in a cradle of chains festooned from 10 big lifting pontoons and then towed her slowly into shallower water.

The shoreward progress of the Squalus was interrupted suddenly at 2:13 p. m. when she struck an uncharted pinnacle at about low tide after being moved nearly two miles.

TALKS CONTINUED BY AXIS POWERS

Conference Will Enter Third Day Today; Problems Termed Complex

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, Aug. 12.—(AP)—German-Italian discussions designed to outline a course of action in tense Europe will go into a third day because of their "complexity," responsible German sources said tonight.

Looking unusually stern and serious, Ciano returned to his Salzburg hotel tonight after spending almost four hours with Hitler and von Ribbentrop in the fuehrer's mountain chalet, the Berghof, near Berchtesgaden.

It was presumed the talks would continue tomorrow with Hitler at his retreat, German sources said, although it was quite possible that just the two foreign ministers would meet alone at Castle Fuschl, von Ribbentrop's summer place near Salzburg, as they did Friday at their first meeting.

German spokesmen explained that in a Europe "so laden with danger" it was necessary to take up each detail of the various problems affecting the

GRAND JURY SCHEDULED TO RECONVENE TUESDAY

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The East Baton Rouge parish grand jury, investigating alleged irregularities in public affairs, is scheduled to reconvene Tuesday under terms of a recess granted by district court.

It will probably gather each Tuesday and Friday the rest of this month to hear reports of investigators and witnesses. The court is now on vacation. The jury, so far, has returned indictments against 13 different people.

Nine army men—two officers and seven enlisted men—were killed when a twin-motored bombing plane crashed and burned shortly after its take-off from Langley Field, Va. JEALOUS SUITOR SHOOTS DIVORCEE

Young Man Wounds Woman And Policeman And Then Commits Suicide

SMITHTOWN BRANCH, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The ex-husband of a Broadway showgirl invaded a fashionable North Shore Long Island house today and in a jealous rage critically wounded a socially prominent young divorcee, shot a state trooper and then committed suicide.

Principals in the tragedy which followed a quiet house party were Mrs. Elizabeth Greve Caldwell Carolin, 31, mother of two children and daughter of William Marcus Greve, former New York financier; and Lawrence Sprague, 30, stepson of Dr. Shirley E. Sprague, prominent New York City physician.

For half an hour, after chasing Mrs. Carolin into a bedroom in the home of Mrs. Madelyn Waterman Higgins, Sprague threatened death while Mrs. Carolin waited in terror and Mrs. Higgins, having called the police, vainly tried to save her guest from harm. Mrs. Higgins is the fountain pen fortune heiress and estranged wife of a member of the Higgins ink family.

When two state troopers, John Busch and S. J. Bugala, arrived and entered the room, Sprague opened fire with a .25 caliber automatic pistol, hitting Busch in the left arm. Then Sprague fired three shots at Mrs Carolin, wounding her in the abdomen. Breaking free from the troopers who had seized him, Sprague then shot himself through the heart.

Mrs. Carolin, whose first husband, T. Grant Caldwell, bus and milk company executive, valued her affections at $250,000 in an alienation of affections suit brought last year against her second husband, Captain Edward M. M. Carolin, a British subject, was taken to the southside hospital Bayshore.

"He said, 'Either we make up or I'll kill you,'" she told State Police Lieutenant Charles La Forge, describing the scene with Sprague in the bedroom.

"I told him we just couldn't make up. He said, 'I know you've called the police. If anyone enters the door, I'm going to kill you and get him and then shoot myself.'"

Mrs. Carolin, who lives with her two children at Delafield farm, Noroton, Conn., across Long Island sound from here, arrived at the Higgins home

COMMISSION MAY SHUT DOWN TEXAS OIL WELLS

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Railroad Commissioners Ernest O. Thompson and Jerry Saddler, considering a proposal to shut down the 80,000 oil wells in Texas for 30 days, waited in a hotel lobby here tonight for the third commissioner, Chairman Lon A. Smith.

It was known Smith reached Houston some time previously but the other commissioners could not locate him. They were not sure when they would be able to find him and begin a formal meeting.

Thompson, who asked Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in Austin today to call a special session of the legislature to consider an oil tax to finance the state's social security program, had an order for the shutdown already drawn. He said he expected the commission to approve and sign it.

Saddler said he had not committed himself on the proposal.

P.-T. A. SCORES PEOPLE'S APATHY

Offers Remedy For 'Moral Laxity In Official Life' Of Louisiana

ALEXANDRIA, La., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The board of managers of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association in an official statement today recommended that "self-administered discipline" be substituted for "apathy of the people" to remedy "moral laxity in official life."

The association, in a special session, went on record as endorsing a three-point program for its members in view of "the shameful condition which Louisiana presents to the world today."

It urged that members register, inform themselves of the platforms and records of candidates and vote; demands properly supervised, open registration; demands full protection at the polls and an honest count of ballots cast.

The statement declared that "federal agents investigating our situation are of invaluable help in this emergency," but added, "Our cure lies in the self-administered discipline which an aroused citizenry can exert. Lasting betterment in Louisiana must come through training and practice in democracy and honesty in our schools and in our homes. . . .

"The few voices crying in the political wilderness have been effectively silenced by the apathy of the people quite as much as by the brazen aggressiveness of many politicians."

The statement said that, "though we have a good public school system," the association wished to point out the necessity for a state-wide voca-

PLEADS GUILTY TO GUNLESS ROBBERY

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A soft-spoken, curly-haired young marine corps private, Wilbur Russell Davis, who said his act was done on impulse, pleaded guilty today to the gunless, daylight holdup of the Annapolis Banking and Trust company.

The 23-year-old Davis, charged with violating the federal bank act and with robbery of $2,500, went to jail in $10,000 bail after his arraignment before United States Commissioner James K. Cullen.

Davis testified he had neither a gun nor explosives Wednesday when he shoved a note through the wicket to Teller W. Emerson Riley, demanding $2,500 on a threat to "blow the place up." Federal agents said $2,071 of the money had been recovered.

Davis, who enlisted in the marine corps at Alexandria, La., two and a half years ago and had been stationed at the naval academy for several months, was arrested by F. B. I. agents yesterday.

Cullen asked him when he got the idea to hold up the bank, which is located only half a block from the state house in Annapolis.

"It just came to me as I was passing the bank," Davis said. "I wrapped a handkerchief around my hand, as though I had something in it and walked in. I had never been in the bank before. It just came to me on impulse"

Davis said he wanted the money because his wife was in poor health and doctors had advised that she take a trip. Officers said Davis and his wife, married last March, were separated. Davis said his family was in Alexandria, La.

JURY RECESSES TO ENABLE U. S. TO FILE CHARGES

'Hot Oil,' Income Tax Evasion And Jury Tampering Probed During Week

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR TRIAL ON SEPTEMBER 5

Reports Of Monopoly In Richland Gas Field Turned Over To Federals

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Federal officials today said at least three new indictments were expected to be returned here Monday in the federal grand jury's broadening investigation of Louisiana political affairs.

O. John Rogge, assistant United States attorney general in charge of the inquiry, said the jury recessed today after a half-day session to give him and assistants time to prepare the indictments.

The jury, during the past week, interrogated witnesses in connection with "hot oil" transactions, income tax evasion and alleged "jury tampering" in the Abe Shushan income tax evasion trial three years ago. Shushan, former president of the Orleans levee board, was acquitted.

Some of the new leads that have been developed in the income tax investigation, Rogge said, involve income from gambling, book-making and "related industries." Many forms of gambling in New Orleans have been suspended and handbooks have been operating on a restricted basis since current investigations were started.

The gambling phase of the inquiry was of particular interest in view of the government indictment this week of M. L. Annenberg, operator of a race news service, for income tax evasion.

Harold Rosenwald of Washington, D. C., special assistant to the United States attorney general, arrived here today to assist in the government's preparation for the trial September 5 of five persons in connection with the Majority Floor Leader Of House Favors Vice-President For Nomination

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Representative Sam Rayburn, who as majority floor leader has piloted New Deal legislation through the house for three years, endorsed Vice-President Garner today for the 1940 Democratic presidential nomination.

Rayburn announced his support of his fellow Texan in a statement issued in response to an inquiry from the Fort Worth (Tex.) Star-Telegram as to his stand.

"I am for that outstanding Texan and liberal Democrat, John N. Garner, for the presidential nomination in 1940, believing that if elected he will make the country a great president," the statement said.

Garner's friends here were obviously elated at Rayburn's public stand, not only because he has been an ardent supporter of President Roosevelt's policies, but because he is listed as an author of such important New Deal

MEXICAN OIL ROW CONFABS CALLED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—With the prolonged negotiations in the Mexican oil controversy apparently deadlocked, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles today invited both sides to separate conferences Monday.

First, he proposes to talk with Mexican Ambassador Castillo Najera, and then with Donald Richberg, counsel for a group of American oil companies which owned the properties before the Mexican government expropriated them.

Welles did not indicate whether the department contemplated any action. Up to the present, it has maintained that the controversy was strictly one between the companies and Mexico, and that its own position was that of an impartial observer.

Mexico expropriated the American oil properties, unofficially valued at $150,000,000, in March, 1938, and also took over British and Dutch properties. For months, there have been negotiations over proposed return of the properties to the oil companies under some form of operating agreement.

The deadlock in the negotiations is understood to have come over the question whether the Mexican government, or the oil companies, should control the management of the properties.

'CHUTE SAVES AIRMEN AS ARMY PLANE FALLS

LANGLEY FIELD, Va., Aug. 12—(AP)—Second Lieutenant C. T. Murrell of the air reserve corps, and Private Amelio Lenzeni parachuted to safety today when their army attack plane from Langley field fell in a swamp near Fort Eustis, about 15 miles from here.

The plane, second Langley field ship to crash within less than 24 hours, caught fire and was destroyed after it struck the ground.

A three-man board of inquiry, meanwhile, probed the flame-blackened wreckage of a Douglas B-18-A bomber which fell and burned yesterday at Langley field, killing its crew of two officers and seven enlisted men.

TROPICAL STORM SKIRTS FLORIDA

Several Communities Cut Off From Outside Communications By High Winds

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A tropical storm with winds of 60 miles an hour or more skirted the northwest Florida coast tonight, cutting off several communities from outside communications, and was expected to pass inland near Valpariso.

Apalachicola, where waterfront damage was known to have been caused, Port St. Joe, Carrabelle and other communities along the gulf and Franklin county coast were without telephone and telegraph communications.

Whether there was any serious damage or any casualties in that section was not known but it was believed here losses were not heavy.

The New Orleans weather bureau said the storm center passed over Port St. Joe about 6 p. m., eastern standard time, and was central at 7:30 p. m. near St. Andrews bay.

The barometer at Panama City was 29.25 inches—against a normal 30—at 7:30 when the storm was approaching, but more than two hours later winds

PROCUREMENT DIVISION CHIEF ORDERED TO COAST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Christian J. Peoples, who as director of the treasury's procurement division for four years was one of the government's heaviest spenders, was ordered to the Pacific coast today by the navy.

Effective in October, he will be general inspector of the navy supply corps for the Pacific coast.

Careful Plans Worked Out To Flood Vital Area In Case Of Invasion

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 12.—(AP)—If the Netherlands should be invaded her citizens may resort to a daring collaboration with their old enemy, the sea, in an attempt to hold off the new foe.

Military experts say that carefully worked out plans for flooding a vital area of this tiny country by opening the dykes and diverting the canals lie ready in the generals' offices.

The unique part of the "water line defense plan"—as it is called—is that the Netherlanders would be fighting not on the dry but on the wet side of the line.

They would stay on in the inundated area with intercommunication assured, they believe, by certain central roads possessing elevation enough to remain above the water level.

The Netherlands hopes, of course, that she can remain neutral as she did in the World war and she is following a cautious diplomatic policy.

She is very careful especially not to say or do anything which might give offense to her mighty German neighbor.

WELFARE PLACED ON MERIT BASIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Social security board officials estimated today that the new "merit system" amendment to the social security act would prohibit political activity by 100,000 employes of state welfare offices.

The amendment, approved by the last session of congress and effective January 1, directs that all employes of state welfare offices which receive any part of their administrative expenses from the federal treasury must be selected and work wholly on a non-political basis.

Consequently, said a board official, "if a man goes out and does a little campaigning, we'll have to say to the state where he is employed, 'we can't give you a dime as long as this man is working.'"

The 100,000 employes are in state offices handling unemployment compensation and administering assistance to the blind, to children and to the aged. Such offices receive federal funds.

Board experts said that between now and the effective date of the amendment an approved "merit system" plan would be submitted to all states and territories.

"If a state declines to comply with the system," board officials said, "we'll have no alternative except to notify them that grants for administrative costs can no longer be made."

TALKS CONTINUED BY AXIS POWERS

Conference Will Enter Third Day Today; Problems Termed Complex

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, Aug. 12.—(AP)—German-Italian discussions designed to outline a course of action in tense Europe will go into a third day because of their "complexity," responsible German sources said tonight.

Looking unusually stern and serious, Ciano returned to his Salzburg hotel tonight after spending almost four hours with Hitler and von Ribbentrop in the fuehrer's mountain chalet, the Berghof, near Berchtesgaden.

It was presumed the talks would continue tomorrow with Hitler at his retreat, German sources said, although it was quite possible that just the two foreign ministers would meet alone at Castle Fuschl, von Ribbentrop's summer place near Salzburg, as they did Friday at their first meeting.

German spokesmen explained that in a Europe "so laden with danger" it was necessary to take up each detail of the various problems affecting the

GRAND JURY SCHEDULED TO RECONVENE TUESDAY

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The East Baton Rouge parish grand jury, investigating alleged irregularities in public affairs, is scheduled to reconvene Tuesday under terms of a recess granted by district court.

It will probably gather each Tuesday and Friday the rest of this month to hear reports of investigators and witnesses. The court is now on vacation. The jury, so far, has returned indictments against 13 different people.

TWO WHO DIED IN BOMBER CRASH

JEALOUS SUITOR SHOOTS DIVORCEE

Young Man Wounds Woman And Policeman And Then Commits Suicide

SMITHTOWN BRANCH, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The ex-husband of a Broadway showgirl invaded a fashionable North Shore Long Island house today and in a jealous rage critically wounded a socially prominent young divorcee, shot a state trooper and then committed suicide.

Principals in the tragedy which followed a quiet house party were Mrs. Elizabeth Greve Caldwell Carolin, 31, mother of two children and daughter of William Marcus Greve, former New York financier; and Lawrence Sprague, 30, stepson of Dr. Shirley E. Sprague, prominent New York City physician.

For half an hour, after chasing Mrs. Carolin into a bedroom in the home of Mrs. Madelyn Waterman Higgins, Sprague threatened death while Mrs. Carolin waited in terror and Mrs. Higgins, having called the police, vainly tried to save her guest from harm. Mrs. Higgins is the fountain pen fortune heiress and estranged wife of a member of the Higgins ink family.

When two state troopers, John Busch and S. J. Bugala, arrived and entered the room, Sprague opened fire with a .25 caliber automatic pistol, hitting Busch in the left arm. Then Sprague fired three shots at Mrs Carolin, wounding her in the abdomen. Breaking free from the troopers who had seized him, Sprague then shot himself through the heart.

Mrs. Carolin, whose first husband, T. Grant Caldwell, bus and milk company executive, valued her affections at $250,000 in an alienation of affections suit brought last year against her second husband, Captain Edward M. M. Carolin, a British subject, was taken to the southside hospital Bayshore.

"He said, 'Either we make up or I'll kill you,'" she told State Police Lieutenant Charles La Forge, describing the scene with Sprague in the bedroom.

"I told him we just couldn't make up. He said, 'I know you've called the police. If anyone enters the door, I'm going to kill you and get him and then shoot myself.'"

COMMISSION MAY SHUT DOWN TEXAS OIL WELLS

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Railroad Commissioners Ernest O. Thompson and Jerry Saddler, considering a proposal to shut down the 80,000 oil wells in Texas for 30 days, waited in a hotel lobby here tonight for the third commissioner, Chairman Lon A. Smith.

It was known Smith reached Houston some time previously but the other commissioners could not locate him. They were not sure when they would be able to find him and begin a formal meeting.

Thompson, who asked Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in Austin today to call a special session of the legislature to consider an oil tax to finance the state's social security program, had an order for the shutdown already drawn. He said he expected the commission to approve and sign it.

Saddler said he had not committed himself on the proposal.

P.-T. A. SCORES PEOPLE'S APATHY

Offers Remedy For 'Moral Laxity In Official Life' Of Louisiana

ALEXANDRIA, La., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The board of managers of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association in an official statement today recommended that "self-administered discipline" be substituted for "apathy of the people" to remedy "moral laxity in official life."

The association, in a special session, went on record as endorsing a three-point program for its members in view of "the shameful condition which Louisiana presents to the world today."

It urged that members register, inform themselves of the platforms and records of candidates and vote; demands properly supervised, open registration; demands full protection at the polls and an honest count of ballots cast.

The statement declared that "federal agents investigating our situation are of invaluable help in this emergency," but added, "Our cure lies in the self-administered discipline which an aroused citizenry can exert. Lasting betterment in Louisiana must come through training and practice in democracy and honesty in our schools and in our homes. . . .

"The few voices crying in the political wilderness have been effectively silenced by the apathy of the people quite as much as by the brazen aggressiveness of many politicians."

The statement said that, "though we have a good public school system," the association wished to point out the necessity for a state-wide voca-

PLEADS GUILTY TO GUNLESS ROBBERY

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A soft-spoken, curly-haired young marine corps private, Wilbur Russell Davis, who said his act was done on impulse, pleaded guilty today to the gunless, daylight holdup of the Annapolis Banking and Trust company.

The 23-year-old Davis, charged with violating the federal bank act and with robbery of $2,500, went to jail in $10,000 bail after his arraignment before United States Commissioner James K. Cullen.

Davis testified he had neither a gun nor explosives Wednesday when he shoved a note through the wicket to Teller W. Emerson Riley, demanding $2,500 on a threat to "blow the place up." Federal agents said $2,071 of the money had been recovered.

Davis, who enlisted in the marine corps at Alexandria, La., two and a half years ago and had been stationed at the naval academy for several months, was arrested by F. B. I. agents yesterday.

Cullen asked him when he got the idea to hold up the bank, which is located only half a block from the state house in Annapolis.

"It just came to me as I was passing the bank," Davis said. "I wrapped a handkerchief around my hand, as though I had something in it and walked in. I had never been in the bank before. It just came to me on impulse."

Davis said he wanted the money because his wife was in poor health and doctors had advised that she take a trip. Officers said Davis and his wife, married last March, were separated. Davis said his family was in Alexandria, La.

JURY RECESSES TO ENABLE U. S. TO FILE CHARGES

Reports Of Monopoly In Richland Gas Field Turned Over To Federals

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Federal officials today said at least three new indictments were expected to be returned here Monday in the federal grand jury's broadening investigation of Louisiana political affairs.

O. John Rogge, assistant United States attorney general in charge of the inquiry, said the jury recessed today after a half-day session to give him and assistants time to prepare the indictments.

The jury, during the past week, interrogated witnesses in connection with "hot oil" transactions, income tax evasion and alleged "jury tampering" in the Abe Shushan income tax evasion trial three years ago. Shushan, former president of the Orleans levee board, was acquitted.

Some of the new leads that have been developed in the income tax investigation, Rogge said, involve income from gambling, book-making and "related industries." Many forms of gambling in New Orleans have been suspended and handbooks have been operating on a restricted basis since current investigations were started.

The gambling phase of the inquiry was of particular interest in view of the government indictment this week of M. L. Annenberg, operator of a race news service, for income tax evasion.

Harold Rosenwald of Washington, D. C., special assistant to the United States attorney general, arrived here today to assist in the government's preparation for the trial September 5 of five persons in connection with the

GARNER ENDORSED BY SAM RAYBURN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Representative Sam Rayburn, who as majority floor leader has piloted New Deal legislation through the house for three years, endorsed Vice-President Garner today for the 1940 Democratic presidential nomination.

Rayburn announced his support of his fellow Texan in a statement issued in response to an inquiry from the Fort Worth (Tex.) Star-Telegram as to his stand.

"I am for that outstanding Texan and liberal Democrat, John N. Garner, for the presidential nomination in 1940, believing that if elected he will make the country a great president," the statement said.

Garner's friends here were obviously elated at Rayburn's public stand, not only because he has been an ardent supporter of President Roosevelt's policies, but because he is listed as an author of such important New Deal

MEXICAN OIL ROW CONFABS CALLED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—With the prolonged negotiations in the Mexican oil controversy apparently deadlocked, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles today invited both sides to separate conferences Monday.

First, he proposes to talk with Mexican Ambassador Castillo Najera, and then with Donald Richberg, counsel for a group of American oil companies which owned the properties before the Mexican government expropriated them.

Welles did not indicate whether the department contemplated any action. Up to the present, it has maintained that the controversy was strictly one between the companies and Mexico, and that its own position was that of an impartial observer.

Mexico expropriated the American oil properties, unofficially valued at $150,000,000, in March, 1938, and also took over British and Dutch properties. For months, there have been negotiations over proposed return of the properties to the oil companies under some form of operating agreement.

The deadlock in the negotiations is understood to have come over the question whether the Mexican government, or the oil companies, should control the management of the properties.

3 MEN HELD IN DEATH OF WOMAN

One Of Trio Arrested In Texas As Body Is Found In Huntsville, Ala.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Three men were held tonight, one in Texas, in the death of a 26-year-old woman whose body was found beneath the home of Eddie McAnally here.

Sheriff H. C. Blakemore reported the arrest at McKinney, Tex., of James McAnally, charged with the murder of Flossie Putman, missing since April 30, 1937.

The Putman woman's body, unearthed beneath the kitchen of the McAnally home, was identified from clothing and shoes by Mrs. May Putman, mother of the victim.

Arresting officers at McKinney took James McAnally in custody after a telephone conversation with Huntsville police. McAnally, who had lived quietly in the Texas town with a large family during the past year, refused to waive extradition.

The coroner's jury withheld its verdict until receipt of a report from Dr. H. W. Nixon, state toxicologist, who will examine the body. A. B. Marshall, toxicologist's assistant who transported the body to Nixon's laboratory at Auburn, expressed doubt an examination would establish cause of death unless the woman suffered skull or bone fractures.

Sheriff Blakemore went yesterday to the McAnally home in West Huntsville on a search warrant sworn by the dead woman's mother. The body, buried in a sitting position, was discovered after deputies dug less than four feet beneath the kitchen floor, Blakemore said. Members of the McAnally family are living in the house, he added.

WAR AND A WOMAN

Cast of Characters

Marcia King—Navy girl, loved a flyer.

George Cameron—Linda's fiance.

CHAPTER I

"It's queer," Linda Storm said thoughtfully, as she stood beside Marcia King near the car that was parked on the flying field at Pensacola. "Back home, the university dominates the town. Everything depends on the university. And here—the air station dominates. It's a sort of university, too, isn't it?"

"I'll say it is!" Marcia answered. "The toughest air course in the world, Baby, we turn out flyers!" Pride rang in her voice. Her eyes swept skyward, to where a long line of airplanes flew across the cloud-banked sky. The roar of their motors was strong and full-throated. "A couple of months ago, the boys up there were green as grass. But now they're on their way. And Jimmy helped put 'em where they are, and where they're going. I want to tell you, Linda, my Jimmy's the best flyer on this whole base. The best instructor! Oh, just wait till you meet him!"

Linda smiled at her. Her own eyes, wide and golden, followed the clean, swift flight of those ships overhead. But she thought, helplessly, that Marcia didn't quite understand what she meant. Marcia was a Navy girl. This was thrilling, glorious, to her. But to Linda, who had been taught to see behind the scenes, it meant only one thing. The same thing she always heard, shuddering, behind the strains of martial music. The same thing she always saw, sadly, behind columns of marching men. War.

They rigged it out in ceremony and beauty. They made it seem attractive, even heroic. But it wasn't. It was ugly and barbarous and she hated it.

She thought of Queensville, where the old, ivy-covered buildings sprawled across the campus. Mellowed by tradition, they spoke eloquently of knowledge. The broad sweep of history. The young men who walked the streets of Queensville were being taught to think, and to reason, and to understand. But here, these low white buildings were unutterably different. Once this place had been a fort. It was still a fortress of battle. Battle brought up to date, made infinitely more dreadful in its implications. Here the young men who walked the streets were being trained for other things. Not for them the quiet laboratories and the long discipline of study in book-filled rooms. They were being taught harder lessons here. Sacrifice and heroism and courage beyond the right of any school to exact.

"But maybe I'm wrong," she murmured. "Maybe those are Daddy's ideas, cropping out in me. Daddy could be wrong." But she had never thought so before. It was confusing to find herself questioning and doubting, when Marcia was so proud; when this whole air station was so solid and impregnable, when every officer and every student here was so sure. . . .

Marcia had told her how many bitterly disappointed lads were washed out, in the first few months. Marcia had explained how perfect they had to be, physically and mentally, even to be accepted at all.

The university at home was more democratic. You could wear glasses and be knocked-kneed; all they asked was that you possess a mind capable of learning.

Linda's eyes followed the clean swift flight of those planes overhead. To Marcia, standing there on the running board, this was thrilling, glorious. To Linda, it meant only one thing—WAR!

Linda sighed. To be prepared for death, it seemed you had to be the best of your kind. So the crime of it would be even greater. The waste of it even more pathetic.

"What's the matter, Linda? You look so queer!" Marcia was saying. "Is it all the noise? I've gotten so used to it, I can't sleep without the sound of airplane motors in my ears."

Linda didn't answer. A spurt of white water rose like a geyser from the glinting bay as a ship dived and bombed. She caught her breath and turned away.

"That was a beauty!" said Marcia. "Direct hit!"

Then Marcia leaned forward and turned the key in the switch. "I guess this much gives you an idea, Linda. We can't sight-see any more. We're late now. Mother would have my head off if she knew I'd taken you straight from the train to the field. She's probably wondering where we are, or if you were on the train at all."

As they drove through the sunny streets, Linda looked at the palm trees and the Spanish houses. "It's pretty here," she said uncertainly. Even peaceful—away from the field.

"Just think, it's been two years since we've seen each other!" her friend prattled. "You're just the same. Just as beautiful as ever." She giggled. "I guess I'm just the same, too. Snub nose and carrot hair and freckles. I bet you never thought I'd hogtie me a beau! But, darling, wait till you see him! Just wait! I'm pinching myself every minute to make sure it's real, because he's so perfect, Linda!

"And I've loved him since I was knee-high to a duck. When we were kids, our fathers served on the same stations, you know I've played with Jimmy Cooper on naval stations from Norfolk to Hawaii and back." She tramped on the brake suddenly as a truck crossed their path. "There I go, all wrapped up in gabbling and nearly getting killed again. You'll find it's dangerous driving with me."

* * *

She was blithely unaware of Linda's inattention. "Now tell me all about your own beau, darling! I've had my eye on that ring ever since you stepped off the train. It's a beauty. Of course a Navy gal doesn't rate a ring like that. Not unless there's money lying around that isn't connected with the service, and I can assure you, Daddy may be practically an admiral, but that doesn't buy diamonds. And Jimmy's pay. . . ."

Linda roused herself. The ring on her finger glittered as she moved her hand. "Oh, my ring? George didn't earn it either, I'm afraid. Scientists don't make fortunes. But George's grandfather invented a simple gadget that humanity couldn't live without, or something."

"Tell me about George! You write such tiny letters!"

"There's not much to tell, Marcia. He's sweet and serious and all wrapped up in his experiments and—and—" Her voice trailed off. And he was devoting his life to fight against microbes, so that men could live longer and more useful lives. While here, hundreds of men devoted their lives to learning how to fly bombing planes so that—

She couldn't go on. "What's the matter with me?" she asked herself irirtably. She had come here to be Marcia's maid of honor at the wedding two weeks away. She had come because Marcia begged her to, and because it was summer and Daddy, freed from the classroom, had buried himself in rare books. While George unwilling to halt work on his experiments, locked himself up in the lab. She understood both of them, and loved them for it, but she had been just a little lonely. She had promised herself two weeks of gaiety. This was hardly an auspicious start.

That night, as Marcia flew excitedly from her own room to the guest room in every imaginable state of undress, Linda shook off the first chill doubting. She had a new evening dress, white and gauzy and beautiful as a dream. It clung to her young curve of bosom, and billowed out at the skirt, so that she looked like a very young child in a very old-fashioned gown. She piled her soft, golden hair high on her head, and tied a ribbon around the curls. Looking into the mirror, she knew that she was beautiful. As Marcia said, playfully envious, "You've always backed me right off the map. I shouldn't have asked you! You'll steal my wedding scene, you're so lovely."

* * *

But downstairs, in the room that was filled with white naval uniforms and the bare shoulders of gay Navy girls, Linda felt out of place. Everyone knew everyone else. Their very talk was unintelligible to her. "Poor kid, it was thumbs down on the check-off, and he's blaming it on the instructor."

"Did you see the new patrol ship? It's a honey!"

"Passed over? Oh no—that's not what happened. When he left North Island—"

Marcia and her mother were busy receiving the guests. Marcia whispered hastily that Jimmy had been held up on the station. "He'll be here later. Excuse me. . . ."

After a while, Linda drifted out to the porch. There were great white stars overhead, and the warm tropical night was so beautiful that she put her head against a post and stared out, dreamily, to where a palm tree swayed against the sky.

"Queensville was never like this," she murmured, half aloud. "Oh, how lovely!"

"Queensville?" asked a masculine voice beside her, startlingly. "There's no naval base there, I bet!"

"Oh!" She jumped, and turned around quickly. A tall man in uniform was smiling down at her. His lean, tanned face, and the look in his brown eyes, and then he was asking, like a man in a daze, "Who are you? I—I've only dreamed you, even now, haven't I? You can't be real!"

"I am real," she whispered. "I'm Linda Storm. Who are you?"

And then there was a shout behind them and Marcia's voice saying, Jimmy! Why didn't you come straight on in, you worm?"

LIFE SAVING TO BE TAUGHT

Oliver Allen From National Headquarters Plans Course Here

Oliver P. Allen, first aid and life saving representative of the American Red Cross, will come to Monroe to conduct a course in life saving for one week which will be conducted starting at the Swayze natatorium tomorrow.

Already the following have enrolled for the course: Oswald Adams, 213 North Sixth street, West Monroe; Vernon Evans, 213 North Sixth street, West Monroe; James Hamilton, R. F. D. No. 2, Bastrop; Sara Harris, 601 Park avenue; Billy Hart, Fox court; Benton Holt, 407 North First street; Noel Learned, 111 Hilton street; Sackman Marx, 811 North Third street; Lee Melton, 1415 McGuire street, West Monroe; William Patton, 318 Rochelle; Zell Smith, 1811 North Fourth street; Buddy Stewart, 309 Bres avenue; Raymond Thompson, R. F. D. No. 1, West Monroe; Miss Ann Croy, Louisiana State university; Miss Faye Hill, Louisiana State university. Others are expected to enter the class when it opens tomorrow.

Miss Croy and Miss Hill are from Kentucky. They have been attending college in Baton Rouge and their positions next year are such as to require first aid and life saving training, and they are accordingly taking advantage of attending the nearest school which is conducted in life saving. Russell Harding, who has been conducting the preliminary course here, states that the class has completed 15 hours of hard water practice and is now ready for the course that will be given by Mr. Allen.

The entire life saving and water safety instruction program is now operated on a new plan and based on the use of text-books, "Life Saving and Water Safety" and "Swimming and Diving," a 30-hour course of instruction being arranged for the qualifying of instructors. This training program is divided into two phases, the preliminary training course and the teacher training course. The Ouachita parish Red Cross chapter has completed plans for the holding of the courses by Mr. Oliver at this time and a large enrollment is anticipated.

Mr. Allen has taken an active part in community first aid and life saving programs since 1928 and has been a Red Cross examiner since 1932. He attended the Red Cross national aquatic school at Brevard, N. C., for two years before becoming an instructor on the staff. The Red Cross schools give instruction in aquatics generally and teach advanced water safety and rescue methods.

As assistant life guard at Winter Haven, Fla., and assistant water front director of a large boys' camp for four seasons, Mr. Allen is said to bring a complete background of experience to the work he has undertaken. On several occasions he has conducted community aquatic schools under the direction of the Red Cross chapters and cooperating groups.

He is a graduate of the University of Georgia and as student assistant in the zoology department, lectured regularly to university groups.

COMMODITIES GIVEN TO PARISH NEEDY

Ouachita parish residents received surplus commodities having an estimated fair value of $9,005.47 during July, it was announced yesterday by A. R. Johnson, state welfare commissioner.

A total of 5,263 persons in 1,676 families were certified as eligible for the comodities by the parish office of the state intake and certification bureau.

Mr. Johnson said that farmers of Louisiana derived considerable benefit from the surplus commodity program because of the removal of surplus agricultural commodities from the market as well as through direct payments received on crops purchased for distribution.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Henry Dearman yesterday sold to Lena Stennett Hemphill lot 4 of a partition of the estate of Alex Blazier in the northwest quarter of section 46, township 18 north, range 3 east for $200, according to a deed filed in the office of the clerk of court of Ouachita parish.

DOYLE FUNERAL SET FOR TODAY

Services For Accident Victim To Be Held At Assembly Of God Church

Funeral services for Mrs. J. I. Doyle, 62, of 505 Louisville avenue, who was instantly killed when hit by an automobile late Friday as she was crossing the street in front of her home, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Assembly of God church in West Monroe, wth Rev. E. L. Tanner, pastor, officiating. Interment will be made in Hasley cemetery.

Mrs. Doyle, who came here last March and had been renting a room in a house also occupied by Misses Alice and Theresa Baur and Mrs. Josie B. Henderson, had lived in Mississippi and at Chicago before coming here. Her maiden name was Miss Fannie Lewis, and she is survived by a brother, Ed Lewis, who lives here.

An automobile driven by Russell Sampagnaro, 30, an employe of the city who lives at 805 Bres avenue, was said to have hit Mrs. Doyle about 7:40 p.m. Friday.

Dr. Irving J. Wolff, parish coroner, conducting an investigation into the accident, stated yesterday that four witnesses had been questioned during the day but that two more, who lived out of the city, had been summoned for questioning. Dr. Wolfe's investigation will not be completed until the other witnesses are questioned.

Police said no charges had been filed against Sampagnaro yesterday.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Doyle will be in charge of Peters Funeral Service.

The active pallbearers will be Carl Cobb, L. Hall, J. D. McDaniels, S. W. Hamilton, Tony Baur and Louis Baur. The honorary pallbearers will be Berny Oakland, Frank Roddy, Leon Osterland and F. T. Smith.

WALLACE ORDERS MARKETS SURVEY

Findings To Be Used To Determine Future International Trade Policies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace, taking cognizance of an 18 per cent decline in American farm exports during the last fiscal year, has ordered the agriculture department to make a world-wide survey of possible new markets.

Disclosing this today, officials said the findings would be used in helping the administration determine future agricultural control and international trade policies.

Instructions for the survey went out as the department reported that foreign sales of American farm products during the fiscal year which ended June 30 totaled $682,914,000, compared with $890,771,000 in the previous year. Before the 1929 depression, exports often exceeded a billion dollars.

The instructions said the government has recognized from the beginning that loss of our foreign business would involve a heavy sacrifice of comparative advantages and serious contraction of our agricultural industry."

Loss of foreign markets in recent years has contributed largely, officials contend, to an accumulation of surpluses which have depressed prices.

In connection with the survey of possible new markets, departmental experts were asked to suggest "ways in which American agriculture may tackle" the problem of regaining lost markets and of establishing new ones.

The slump in exports during the past season was marked by a 43 per cent decline in shipment abroad of cotton, long the nation's No. 1 farm export crop. However, a number of other products suffered. The government is attempting to regain cotton markets by offering a bounty on sales made abroad. Such sales will cost the government about $7.50 a bale.

The department's trade authorities were asked to study the effect on world trade of such factors as agricultural price-fixing, import controls, bilateral trading, military policies and other so-called barriers to international trade.

"It requires an appraisal," said the instructions, "of our own contribution toward the strangulation of international trade, our post-war high tariffs and our growing tariff-mindedness in agriculture as well as in industry."

FISH-DEALER PLAYS CUPID TO COUPLE

BAYONNE, N. J., Aug 12—(AP)—A forgiving fish-dealer played cupid in police court today to a young couple whose scheduled marriage was threatened by a larceny charge against the bridegroom.

Recorder James L. Sweeney performed the wedding ceremony after hearing a complaint against a 19-year-old Bayonne youth who Police Lieutenant Thomas A. Masterson said admitted taking from the fish-dealer's apartment a suit in which four $50 bills had been hidden.

Sam Dvock, the owner of the suit, told by Masterson that the youth took the suit only so he could "look nice" at his wedding, said he would be satisfied if $175 of the $200 was returned to him. The remaining $25 would be his wedding present to the couple, he added.

Detective Captain Thomas McGrath, in whose custody the youth was paroled pending further hearing Monday, said the young man decided to "get a real engagement ring" for his intended bride when he found the money in the suit.

Friends of the couple said they would raise $175 to give the fish dealer before Monday's hearing.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD
West Monroe
E. L. Tanner, Pastor

We are glad to announce to our many friends that Rev. James Flowers of Mobile, Ala., will begin a series of revival services with us Wednesday night August 16, to continue two weeks. Rev. Flowers is a young man and a graduate from Central Bible institute, Springfield, Mo. He is a very deeply consecrated man and an interesting speaker. Do not miss hearing him at each service.

Services today will begin with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., D. O. McDaniel, superintendent. The pastor will occupy the pulpit at both preaching hours which are 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m.

Christ Ambassador class meets at 6:45 p.m.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
St. John And Grammont Streets
Rev. L. T. Hastings, Pastor

Rev. Brownlow Hastings, August supply pastor, will preach at both services Sunday. His subject for the morning service will be "Why Am I Here?" The evening sermon will be "What Shall I Do To Inherit Eternal Life?" Visitors are heartily welcomed at all of the services of this church.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
West Monroe
Dr. A. E. Prince, Pastor
Dallas Goss, Music Director
Miss Beulah Doerr, Educational Director

"The Chest of Joash" will be presented at the morning service in this church today, and the members are requested to make their special offering to enable the church to consummate the refinancing plan. Instead of the usual fall drive, which has been made annually, this church is refinancing its debt in order that it may be paid monthly and that the annual fall drives may be omitted. Those who have been accustomed to making their offering in November are requested to make such offering as they can now, and the cash and pledges will be presented today. The plan of King Joash, used about nine hundred years before Christ, will be presented at this service. Every member of the church is urged to be present. The Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a.m. The B. T. U. leaders at 6:30 p.m. The Brotherhood and B. T. U. will meet at 7 p.m. The pastor will preach at 10:50 a.m. and 8 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
812 Mississippi Street
I. J. Brooks, Pastor

The pastor and Mrs. Brooks have returned home from their vacation, very much improved physically. The pulpit was supplied while he was away by Rev. H. L. Driskell of this city. His ministry was very edifying to the people and satisfying to the pastor.

Let everybody be in their places on time Sunday morning for a great Sunday school, and Sunday evening for a great B. T. U. Hear the pastor Sunday morning on the subject, "The Man of Sorrows," (John 11:35), and at evening on "The Heroic Highwayman," (Luke 23:42). The little church with a big welcome. We invite you.

Worship service at 10:50 a.m. Anthem by the choir. Sermon, "The Conquering Life."

Evening service at 8:00 p.m. The church officers will be ordained and installed at this service. The sermon will be appropriate to the occasion.

Choir practice will be held Thursday evening at 7:45, at the church.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Corner Of South Second And Apple Streets
J. P. Lowery, Minister

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Classes for all ages. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Evening worship at 7:45 p. m. Bible study and prayer service each Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

The "Lord's Supper" is observed each Sunday.

We are in the midst of our revival services which have been in progress since August 6 and will continue through Sunday, August 20. W. H. Roy, Jr., of Vicksburg, Miss., is doing the preaching.

The lesson at 11 a. m. will be "A New Commandment." For the evening service the subject will be "What We Teach and Why We Teach It." Everyone is cordially invited.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
Corner North Second And Auburn

"Soul" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 13, 1939.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him." (Lamentations 3:24).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is." (Psalm 63:1).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When reading the scriptures, the substitution of the word sense for soul gives the exact meaning in a majority of cases." (p. 481).

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for the 10th Sunday after Trinity are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. and again at 9:30 a.m. Hymns will be sung during this Eucharist and the rector will preach the sermon. The only service during the week is on Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Meditation, St. Matthew 10th chapter, verses 29-31. The Sharing God. In this declaration of Jesus contained in St. Matthew's gospel we find the assurance that God is the kind of a Father who knows every one of His children with an intimate knowledge and cares for each one with unwearied interest and concern. That we are individuals in God's sight, that He never thinks of us in the mass, but always as persons, is hard to believe, and yet of no truth was Jesus more sure. He tells us that everything that is real to us is real to God, that in every detail of our inner life He shares. He is infinitely comprehending and understanding, as only the most loving of all friends could be. And because He understands so perfectly He always sees the best in us and trusts it.

The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH
Harrison And D'Arbonne Streets
Vernon C. Grosse, Pastor

Sunday school meets at 9:30 a.m. Morning services at 10:45 a.m. Special service at Delhi at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to worship with us.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Jackson At Wood Street
Monroe, Louisiana

In the absence of our minister who is conducting a revival in Tallulah, Rev. V. D. Morris, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Columbia, La., will fill our pulpit at the morning hour. A special feature of this service will be a duet, "Hark, Hark My Soul," by Misses Eloise Temple and Thelma Hargus.

There will be no evening services in the church during the month of August and it is hoped that our members will avail themselves of this opportunity to worship with other congregations.

The Woman's Missionary society will have a program meeting at the church on Tuesday at 3 p. m. Circle No. 9 will be in charge of the program.

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH

I. L. Yeager, Pastor

"To every man there openeth
A way, and ways, and the way;
And the high soul takes the high way,
And the low soul takes the low.
And in between on the misty flats
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openeth
A high way and a low;
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go."
—John Oxenham.

Friend, at this hour, this moment the two ways are open before you. You, and you alone can make the choice, and you will choose one of these ways. May it be the "high way," the only way that leads to high, holy things, and to life eternal. "I am the way, the truth and the life."—The words of Christ, John 14:6. Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. The Lord's supper will be taken at 11 a.m. Christian Endeavor at 7 p.m. Evangelistic service at 7:45 p.m. Circles will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. Robert Lankford, 3408 South Grand street. ARREST IS MADE IN SLAYING CASE

Partial Deaf-Mute Confesses Killing Negro Girl In Woods Near Swartz

A partial deaf mute, Harry Brigson, 26-year-old negro of Swartz, yesterday was facing a charge of murder following his alleged confession of the slaying of Mary McDonald, 16-year-old negro girl, in woods near Swartz a week ago, according to Sheriff Milton Coverdale.

Sheriff Coverdale said the negro was being held in the Ouachita parish jail here and that Henry McDonald, father of the slain girl, was expected to come here Monday to file murder charges against the Brigson negro.

The negro man was arrested for investigation in connection with the killing several hours after the girl's body was found beside a woodland path by Mamie Kennedy, negro, but he denied any knowledge of the slaying.

However, bloodstained clothing, identified as belonging to Brigson, was found buried near the negro's home Thursday, and, when confronted with the clothing, he confessed killing the girl, Sheriff Coverdale stated.

According to Brigson's confession, which was obtained with difficulty because of his inability to speak plainly and the fact that he is almost deaf, Sheriff Coverdale stated, he met the girl on the path, got into a fight with her and then slashed her throat with a knife.

Brigson was "in love" with the girl, but she had rejected him, according to information obtained by Sheriff Coverdale and deputies. But despite her objections to his company, the negro was said ot have "hung around" her house. Three weeks ago the girl's father allegedly caught Brigson prowling about in his yard at night and fired a shotgun into the air to scare him away.

Sheriff Coverdale said the negro, apparently moved by jealousy because the girl would have nothing to do with him, met her as she was coming home from work about 12:30 p.m. Saturday a week ago and killed her.

The negro had apparently tried to wash the blood from his clothing before burying them, Sheriff Coverdale said. The shirt, with evidence of blood on the collar, was "soaking wet" when found. The overalls, splattered with spots of blood, were damp.

Residents of the Swartz area were credited by Sheriff Coverdale with supplying evidence that led to the arrest of the negro and finally the finding of his clothes.

WALLACE ORDERS MARKETS SURVEY

Findings To Be Used To Determine Future International Trade Policies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace, taking cognizance of an 18 per cent decline in American farm exports during the last fiscal year, has ordered the agriculture department to make a world-wide survey of possible new markets.

Disclosing this today, officials said the findings would be used in helping the administration determine future agricultural control and international trade policies.

Instructions for the survey went out as the department reported that foreign sales of American farm products during the fiscal year which ended June 30 totaled $682,914,000, compared with $890,771,000 in the previous year. Before the 1929 depression, exports often exceeded a billion dollars.

The instructions said the government has "recognized from the beginning that loss of our foreign business would involve a heavy sacrifice of comparative advantages and serious contraction of our agricultural industry."

Loss of foreign markets in recent years has contributed largely, officials contend, to an accumulation of surpluses which have depressed prices.

In connection with the survey of possible new markets, departmental experts were asked to suggest "ways in which American agriculture may tackle" the problem of regaining lost markets and of establishing new ones.

The slump in exports during the past season was marked by a 43 per cent decline in shipment abroad of cotton, long the nation's No. 1 farm export crop. However, a number of other products suffered. The government is attempting to regain cotton markets by offering a bounty on sales made abroad. Such sales will cost the government about $7.50 a bale.

The department's trade authorities were asked to study the effect on world trade of such factors as agricultural price-fixing, import controls, bilateral trading, military policies and other so-called barriers to international trade.

"It requires an appraisal," said the instructions, "of our own contribution toward the strangulation of international trade—our post-war high tariffs, and our growing tariff-mindedness in agriculture as well as in industry."

FISH-DEALER PLAYS CUPID TO COUPLE

BAYONNE, N. J., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A forgiving fish-dealer played cupid in police court today to a young couple whose scheduled marriage was threatened by a larceny charge against the bridegroom.

Recorder James L. Sweeney performed the wedding ceremony after hearing a complaint against a 19-year-old Bayonne youth who, Police Lieutenant Thomas A. Masterson said, admitted taking from the fish-dealer's apartment a suit in which four $50 bills had been hidden.

Sam Divock, the owner of the suit, told by Masterson that the youth took the suit only so he could "look nice" at his wedding, said he would be satisfied if $175 of the $200 was returned to him. The remaining $25 would be his wedding present to the couple, he added.

Detective Captain Thomas McGrath, in whose custody the youth was paroled pending further hearing Monday, said the young man decided to "get a real engagement ring" for his intended bride when he found the money in the suit.

Friends of the couple said they would raise $175 to give the fish dealer before Monday's hearing.

Sand was used to dry ink on documents until blotting paper was discovered. When a paper mill owner, in the 19th century, tried to write on paper which had not been sized, his ink spread to such a degree that he conceived the idea of blotting paper.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD
West Monroe
E. L. Tanner, Pastor

We are glad to announce to our many friends that Rev. James Flowers of Mobile, Ala., will begin a series of revival services with us Wednesday night August 16, to continue two weeks. Rev. Flowers is a young man and a graduate from Central Bible institute, Springfield, Mo. He is a very deeply consecrated man and an interesting speaker. Do not miss hearing him at each service.

Services today will begin with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., D. O. McDaniel, superintendent. The pastor will occupy the pulpit at both preaching hours which are 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m.

Christ Ambassador class meets at 6:45 p.m.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
St. John And Grammont Streets
Rev. L. T. Hastings, Pastor

Rev. Brownlow Hastings, August supply pastor, will preach at both services Sunday. His subject for the morning service will be "Why Am I Here?" The evening sermon will be "What Shall I Do To Inherit Eternal Life?" Visitors are heartily welcomed at all of the services of this church.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
West Monroe
Dr. A. E. Prince, Pastor
Dallas Goss, Music Director
Miss Beulah Doerr, Educational Director

"The Chest of Joash" will be presented at the morning service in this church today, and the members are requested to make their special offering to enable the church to consummate the refinancing plan. Instead of the usual fall drive, which has been made annually, this church is refinancing its debt in order that it may be paid monthly and that the annual fall drives may be omitted. Those who have been accustomed to making their offering in November are requested to make such offering as they can now, and the cash and pledges will be presented today. The plan of King Joash, used about nine hundred years before Christ, will be presented at this service. Every member of the church is urged to be present. The Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a.m. The B. T. U. leaders at 6:30 p.m. The Brotherhood and B. T. U. will meet at 7 p.m. The pastor will preach at 10:50 a.m. and 8 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
812 Mississippi Street
I. J. Brooks, Pastor

The pastor and Mrs. Brooks have returned home from their vacation, very much improved physically. The pulpit was supplied while he was away by Rev. H. L. Driskell of this city. His ministry was very edifying to the people and satisfying to the pastor.

Let everybody be in their places on time Sunday morning for a great Sunday school, and Sunday evening for a great B. T. U. Hear the pastor Sunday morning on the subject: "The Man of Sorrows," (John 11:35), and at evening on "The Heroic Highwayman," (Luke 23:42). The little church with a big welcome. We invite you.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

E. H. Williamson, Church School Supt.
Mrs. J. R. Cullipher, Choir Director

Church school at 9:45 a.m. International lesson materials used.

Worship service at 10:50 a.m. Anthem by the choir. Sermon, "The Conquering Life."

Evening service at 8:00 p.m. The church officers will be ordained and installed at this service. The sermon will be appropriate to the occasion.

Choir practice will be held Thursday evening at 7:45, at the church.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Corner Of South Second And Apple Streets
J. P. Lowery, Minister

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Classes for all ages. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Evening worship at 7:45 p. m. Bible study and prayer service each Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

The "Lord's Supper" is observed each Sunday.

We are in the midst of our revival services which have been in progress since August 6 and will continue through Sunday, August 20. W. H. Roy, Jr., of Vicksburg, Miss., is doing the preaching.

The lesson at 11 a. m. will be "A New Commandment." For the evening service the subject will be "What We Teach and Why We Teach It." Everyone is cordially invited.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
Corner North Second And Auburn

"Soul" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 13, 1939.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him." (Lamentations 3:24).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee; my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is." (Psalm 63:1).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When reading the scriptures, the substitution of the word sense for soul gives the exact meaning in a majority of cases." (p. 481).

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for the 10th Sunday after Trinity are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. and again at 9:30 a.m. Hymns will be sung during this Eucharist and the rector will preach the sermon. The only service during the week is on Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Meditation, St. Matthew 10th chapter, verses 29-31. The Sharing God. In this declaration of Jesus contained in St. Matthew's gospel we find the assurance that God is the kind of a Father who knows every one of His children with an intimate knowledge and cares for each one with unwearied interest and concern. That we are individuals in God's sight, that He never thinks of us in the mass, but always as persons, is hard to believe, and yet of no truth was Jesus more sure. He tells us that everything that is real to us is real to God, that in every detail of our inner life He shares. He is infinitely comprehending and understanding, as only the most loving of all friends could be. And because He understands so perfectly He always sees the best in us and trusts it.

The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH
Harrison And D'Arbonne Streets
Vernon C. Grosse, Pastor

Sunday school meets at 9:30 a.m. Morning services at 10:45 a.m. Special service at Delhi at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to worship with us.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Jackson At Wood Street
Monroe, Louisiana

In the absence of our minister, who is conducting a revival in Tallulah, Rev. V. D. Morris, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Columbia, La., will fill our pulpit at the morning hour. A special feature of this service will be a duet, "Hark, Hark My Soul," by Misses Eloise Temple and Thelma Hargus.

There will be no evening services in the church during the month of August and it is hoped that our members will avail themselves of this opportunity to worship with other congregations.

The Woman's Missionary society will have a program meeting at the church on Tuesday at 3 p. m. Circle No. 9 will be in charge of the program.

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
Stone Avenue And South Third Street
I. L. Yeager, Pastor

"To every man there openeth
A way, and ways, and the way;
And the high soul takes the high way,
And the low soul takes the low.
And in between on the misty flats
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openeth
A high way and a low;
And every man decideth
—John Oxenham.

Friend, at this hour, this moment the two ways are open before you. You, and you alone can make the choice, and you will choose one of these ways. May it be the "high way," the only way that leads to high, holy things, and to life eternal. "I am the way, the truth and the life."—The words of Christ, John 14:6. Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. The Lord's supper will be taken at 11 a.m. Christian Endeavor at 7 p.m. Evangelistic service at 7:45 p.m. Circles will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. Robert Lankford, 3408 South Grand street. Prayer service Thursday evening at 7:45. Mrs. Leora Johnston will lead the meeting. We invite you to attend services with us.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Ernest Duncan Holloway, Minister
Grammont At Catalpa Street

The public is cordially invited to worship with us.

ARREST IS MADE IN SLAYING CASE

A partial deaf mute, Harry Brigson, 26-year-old negro of Swartz, yesterday was facing a charge of murder following his alleged confession of the slaying of Mary McDonald, 16-year-old negro girl, in woods near Swartz a week ago, according to Sheriff Milton Coverdale.

Sheriff Coverdale said the negro was being held in the Ouachita parish jail here and that Henry McDonald, father of the slain girl, was expected to come here Monday to file murder charges against the Brigson negro.

The negro man was arrested for investigation in connection with the killing several hours after the girl's body was found beside a woodland path by Mamie Kennedy, negro, but he denied any knowledge of the slaying.

However, bloodstained clothing, identified as belonging to Brigson, was found buried near the negro's home Thursday, and, when confronted with the clothing, he confessed killing the girl, Sheriff Coverdale stated.

According to Brigson's confession, which was obtained with difficulty because of his inability to speak plainly and the fact that he is almost deaf, Sheriff Coverdale stated, he met the girl on the path, got into a fight with her and then slashed her throat with a knife.

Brigson was "in love" with the girl, but she had rejected him, according to information obtained by Sheriff Coverdale and deputies. But despite her objections to his company, the negro was said ot have "hung around" her house. Three weeks ago the girl's father allegedly caught Brigson prowling about in his yard at night and fired a shotgun into the air to scare him away.

Sheriff Coverdale said the negro, apparently moved by jealousy because the girl would have nothing to do with him, met her as she was coming home from work about 12:30 p.m. Saturday a week ago and killed her.

The negro had apparently tried to wash the blood from his clothing before burying them, Sheriff Coverdale said. The shirt, with evidence of blood on the collar, was "soaking wet" when found. The overalls, splattered with spots of blood, were damp.

Residents of the Swartz area were credited by Sheriff Coverdale with supplying evidence that led to the arrest of the negro and finally the finding of his clothes.

SIMS HELD IN ASSAULT

Rodelle Sims, charged with assault and beating, short of maiming, was arrested yeterday by sheriff's deputies on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Eva Short, it was reported. Sheriff's officers said Mrs. Short accused Sims of beating Mrs. P. L. Sims yesterday. Sims was being held in the Ouachita parish jail with his bond fixed at $500.

It is to be hoped that this new concession will be operated in accordance with the best modern principles of such arrangements, namely, that both parties shall benefit in proportion to what each contributes to the enterprise. For when such an arrangement is worked out, much of the curse is off what we have learned to hate as "imperialism."

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

One of the little-known ideas now being promoted in congress is a proposal for fractional currency. That is, for paper money of 50-cent and 25-cent denominations.

It seems worth more study than many bills introduced. Anyone who has ever had to sit down and write a check for 50 cents to pay a bill by mail, anyone who has ever tried to send two dimes and a nickel in a letter, or tried to pay for a catalogue or some such by-mail article in stamps, knows there might be some point to the idea.

It is not new. The United States has had such fractional currency in the past, and many foreign countries have it now.

Such a proposal might be worth study next session if there proved to be a popular demand and no valid objections to the proposal.

GAS MASKS—IN COLOR

It is hard for us in the United States to get accustomed to the gas mask idea. In Europe they have become a commonplace of everyday life, and only the most rugged individualists refuse to give them a place in the background of every daily activity.

But to make them acceptable even to very young babies, the British home office is now about to turn them out "in attractive colors." Mothers are being urged to let baby play with them so they will not be afraid if the time comes when they are donned in a desperate hurry while the sirens scream.

A few years ago it was a cartoonist's joke to picture a European baby cutting its teeth on a Mill's bomb. Today baby is encouraged to play with his gas mask. Yesterday's sardonic jest has become today's grim reality.

NO LONGER AN EXPERIMENT

During August, representatives of hundreds of agricultural marketing cooperatives will hold an annual meeting in Chicago. And the delegates, while they plan for the future, will be justified in looking back with pride on years of achievement.

More and more of the produce of the farm moves into market through farmer cooperation. And the result is that a larger and fairer percentage of the eventual selling price is returned to the pockets of the producers. Markets are widened and stabilized. Thus, fluctuations in the craft of agriculture are lessened in severity.

Marketing cooperation was once an experiment. Today it is an established fact, which has earned the support of business as well as agriculture.

WASHINGTON. The Hatch bill outlawing "pernicious political activities," as its printed title expresses it, has a neat surprise package in it which practically everybody overlooked while it was being passed.

Its opening sentence states that it shall be unlawful for any person to intimidate, threaten or coerce any other person for the purpose of influencing that person's vote in a presidential or congressional election.

Because of its phraseology, this, according to Senator Hatch, its author—applies not only to politicians but also to employers of labor. It means that any employer who threatens his workers with a shutdown if so-and-so isn't elected is liable to a $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment.

Nobody paid the least attention to this while the bill was pending, although Senator Hatch says he tried his best to point out that this paragraph was intended to apply to employers as well as to politicians.

"I just couldn't get anybody to listen to me," he said. "Two senators got the point and two correspondents [illegible] have asked me about it. And [illegible] in New York [illegible] wrote and asked me if that was what the bill meant. I wrote and told them it was and they replied saying that they were all for it."

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

ABOARD THE S. S. MATSONIA EN ROUTE TO HONOLULU, Aug. 12. [illegible] going on aboard ship. It was a thoroughly amusing comedy drama. After the show the audience filed out of the theater all laughing together. Suddenly we weren't strangers to each other. We'd been made brothers by our common enjoyment of a motion picture.

I found myself grinning at one fellow. He smiled back and asked [illegible] I said [illegible] and first thing you know we were friends. I met his wife, he met my wife, we introduced a few acquaintances back and forth, and lo, today we're booked to swim together on Deck "F." Provided I don't open my mouth with some crack about Nelson Eddy (my new friend's wife adores Nelson), we'll probably get along swell together.

All of which illustrates what I've been saying about the screen for years. The movies should be friend-building. They should weld people together, not just people of our own country, but people of the world. Pictures should never spread propaganda and hatred. Instead, they should send Japanese and Chinese, German and English out of the theater arm in arm.

In other words, while the movies can be a means of creating hatred and wars—they should be the most powerful instrument for the promotion of world peace.

Oh, oh! There goes the lunch call. So long for today. Don't you think Beatrice Lillie should give her English title of Lady Peel to Gypsy Rose Lee?

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Admiral: Since talking with Dick Powell this morning, we're worried about you. Seems he was fishing near the Coronado islands the other day and, all of a sudden, a giant sword fish—as long as Jimmy Durante's nose and as big around as one of Martha Raye's screams—charged their boat which, after the bout, had to put back to San Diego for repairs. Of course, the S. S. Matsonia is a far cry from a fishing boat, but you'd understand our nervousness if you'd seen Dick's expression when he described that fish. Jonah couldn't have spoken more respectfully of the whale.

With fish for breakfast, we'll throw [illegible] about a rift [illegible] Errol Flynn and Lili Damita will be vindicated [illegible] and soon. One of their intimates stopped in this morning with the word that their final disagreement will probably be announced before the month is out. After all the auto accidents they've been through together, too!

Here're a few random jottings to mull over while you pace the decks: Your pal Arthur (Dagwood) Lake has written a thriller titled "The Ghost Goes Hollywood" and has it up for sale with one of the majors . . . That yachting trip to Alaska that Frank Morgan was crowing about is off; the studio nixed it because of changes in the shooting schedule . . . OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

[illegible] in the education of the [illegible] every [illegible] to have such teachers in proportion to the number of such children in the schools. They should know the children and their families personally and plan their studies in relation to the ability of the children. It is useless, it is cruel, to make a backward child struggle to reach the standard of scholarship that only the most intellectually gifted can reach. It is a waste of time, money and human energy.

These children have a shorter learning time than the fast-learning children. The finer the mind the longer its growing span. The duller the mind the shorter its growing span. That means that one must begin very early to teach such children, and lose no opportunity. The end of their learning time may be very close at hand and once its limit has been reached there is no chance of stretching it further. Begin and keep on working, shifting the instruction as the child's mind shifts, taking advantage of every phase of power, every shade of interest he shows, to forward his growth.

It is useless to blame a child's school failure on his "lack of concentration." Concentration is centered attention. Attention is stimulated by curiosity, then interest holds it. A backward child's curiosity is not keen about most school activities, and his interest is short lived in work he cannot do. Saying he lacks concentration is saying he cannot attend to school work, something the teacher knew about the end of the first week of work. When that is discovered it is time to examine the child and rearrange his school life with the view toward making him a happy, useful citizen.

Drill won't do this. Neither will discipline, nor military school, nor the reform school nor any other school that is not suited to the needs of the backward child. Of all children in schools today, his is the hardest lot. Of all children in need of guidance and training, this one heads the list. He is the problem of every community in the land, yet little seems to be done for him.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—This outgoing session of congress could easily go down in history as the second war of the rebellion.

In it the south fought off domination by northern and western elements of the party led by the New Deal. Likewise it won most battles in which northern industry was pitted against southern industry. In both classes of issues, naturally enough, there were exceptions among southerners for some stood staunchly by the New Deal.

The south was not in complete rebellion, of course, nor was it always alone in rebellion. Southern support was credited with salvaging the reorganization bill, trimmed though it was. In turn there was almost unanimous congressional support for the agriculture bill, in which administration objections were overridden heartily. The big money additions were made in the senate where, under leadership of Senator Russell of Georgia, well more than a quarter billion was added to the agriculture budget figure. And the [illegible] benefits were directed [illegible].

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

LITTLE possibility of the release of any of the 35 U. S. stamps of the "Famous Americans" series before 1940 was indicated following Postmaster General James A. Farley's announcement of the final selection of authors, poets, artists, educators, inventors, composers and scientists to be so honored.

Stamp commitments for the balance of the present calendar year apparently will prevent issuance of even the first group of five before January. Postal authorities, however, promised that every effort will be made to rush the stamps into production.

Tentative plans call for the issuance of the series in seven groups of five each, in 1-cent, 1½-cent, 2-cent, 3-cent and 5-cent denominations. Details as to designs, colors, and date and place of first-day sales will be announced later.

The selection, long awaited by philatelists, is the result of polls conducted among collectors, and of suggestions of various educational, business and patriotic groups from all parts of the country. Actively backing the proposed issue was President Roosevelt, generally credited with originating the idea.

The "Famous Americans" who will be honored by stamps are:

Poets: Henry W. Longfellow, James Whitcomb Riley, Walt Whitman, John Greenleaf Whittier and James Russell Lowell.

There's Imperialism—And Imperialism

The grant to the Standard Oil company of California of an oil concession covering the whole kingdom of Saudi Arabia is a very significant event.

Twenty years ago a great cry of "imperialism" would probably have gone up at any such announcement. But the very fact that this concession was obtained by Americans at all shows that today there is imperialism—and imperialism.

There is the technical imperialism which is a matter of capital in Country A obtaining economic control of certain resources in Country B. But there is another imperialism afoot today, in which such a concession would be nothing but a stepping-stone toward a greater imperialism, one which would mean actual, tangible, physical and political control.

It is said to be because he mistrusted their motives that King Ibn Saud rejected frantic offers for his oil concession on the part of Germany, Italy and Japan, as well as Britain and France. He felt that none of them would be content merely to exploit the oil and have done with it, for each has political ambitions and plans which might affect Saudi Arabia. The United States has none, as King Ibn Saud well knows.

So, although the American offer was not up to the glittering marks set by special envoys from the German, Italian and Japanese governments, the king accepted it, knowing it to be a plain, simple business proposition without political strings, from a people who could have no conceivable designs on his country.

So if this be American imperialism—and a few years ago it would certainly have been so called—make the most of it. For it is plain that this Arabian king found it infinitely preferable to the other kinds of imperialism with which he was confronted.

There might be the germ of a thought here for some of the South American countries who have been afraid of American "imperialism," at various times in the past perhaps not as ungrounded fear. But for 10 years the United States has made it quite clear that such business as it does with foreign countries is without political strings. And some of these countries may well start asking themselves, is this true of all other countries with whom we may be dealing?

It is to be hoped that this new concession will be operated in accordance with the best modern principles of such arrangements, namely, that both parties shall benefit in proportion to what each contributes to the enterprise. For when such an arrangement is worked out, much of the curse is off what we have learned to hate as "imperialism."

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

One of the little-known ideas now being promoted in congress is a proposal for fractional currency. That is, for paper money of 50-cent and 25-cent denominations.

It seems worth more study than many bills introduced. Anyone who has ever had to sit down and write a check for 50 cents to pay a bill by mail, anyone who has ever tried to send two dimes and a nickel in a letter, or tried to pay for a catalogue or some such by-mail article in stamps, knows there might be some point to the idea.

It is not new. The United States has had such fractional currency in the past, and many foreign countries have it now.

Such a proposal might be worth study next session if there proved to be a popular demand and no valid objections to the proposal.

GAS MASKS—IN COLOR

It is hard for us in the United States to get accustomed to the gas mask idea. In Europe they have become a commonplace of everyday life, and only the most rugged individualists refuse to give them a place in the background of every daily activity.

But to make them acceptable even to very young babies, the British home office is now about to turn them out "in attractive colors." Mothers are being urged to let baby play with them so they will not be afraid if the time comes when they are donned in a desperate hurry while the sirens scream.

A few years ago it was a cartoonist's joke to picture a European baby cutting its teeth on a Mill's bomb. Today baby is encouraged to play with his gas mask. Yesterday's sardonic jest has become today's grim reality.

NO LONGER AN EXPERIMENT

During August, representatives of hundreds of agricultural marketing cooperatives will hold an annual meeting in Chicago. And the delegates, while they plan for the future, will be justified in looking back with pride on years of achievement.

More and more of the produce of the farm moves into market through farmer cooperation. And the result is that a larger and fairer percentage of the eventual selling price is returned to the pockets of the producers. Markets are widened and stabilized. Thus, fluctuations in the craft of agriculture are lessened in severity.

Marketing cooperation was once an experiment. Today it is an established fact, which has earned the support of business as well as agriculture.

WASHINGTON—The Hatch bill outlawing "pernicious political activities," as its printed title expresses it, has a neat surprise package in it which practically everybody overlooked while it was being passed.

Its opening sentence states that it shall be unlawful for "any person" to intimidate, threaten or coerce any other person for the purpose of influencing that person's vote in a presidential or congressional election.

Because of its phraseology, this—according to Senator Hatch, its author—applies not only to politicians, but also to employers of labor. It means that any employer who threatens his workers with a shutdown if so-and-so isn't elected is liable to a $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment.

Nobody paid the least attention to this while the bill was pending, although Senator Hatch says he tried his best to point out that this paragraph was intended to apply to employers as well as to politicians.

"I just couldn't get anybody to listen to me," he says. "Two senators got the point, and two correspondents—counting you—have asked me about it. And some bond house in New York City wrote and asked me if that was what the bill meant. I wrote and told them it was, and they replied saying that they were all for it."

Organizing Techniques

Odd sidelights on the contrasting ways of labor organizers, as revealed in the records of the wage-and-hour division covering the appearance of Clarence R. Miller, Texas mill owner, before the textile industry committee at Atlanta early in July:

"Q. Has there been any attempt to organize your employes by union representatives?

"A. Yes. They have tried in about four instances.

"The C. I. O. tried to do it three times, and they came without notice disguised as workmen and asked for positions in the mills, but they couldn't get any signers. The A. F. of L. organizer came to my office and introduced himself to me and asked if I would cooperate with them in organizing the company."

Mr. Miller added that he told this latter gent that it was no dice and that this organizing attempt got no farther than the others had.

Cities Do Own Mediating

The movement to settle industrial disputes through mediation rather than through strikes seems to be growing, and a fair number of cities have set up local boards of conciliation and mediation. Latest tabulation at the department of labor shows that during the last year such boards have been in existence in Seattle, Minneapolis, Sioux Falls, Milwaukee, Toledo, Philadelphia, Sheboygan, Newark and Ventura, Calif.

Most famous of these, of course, is the Toledo industrial peace board, which—operating throughout on a purely voluntary basis—was at the first of this year credited with having handled 212 disputes involving 35,000 employes. Included were the settling of 37 strikes and the averting of 36.

In some cities, according to officials of the labor department's conciliation service, such boards are short-lived, coming into existence solely at the instance of the mayor and dying when he leaves office or loses interest. In others, however, they have made a definite place for themselves and have rendered the community a lot of service.

In general, the conciliation service is inclined to think that a conciliator from a state or federal agency is apt to have more success, simply because he comes from out of town, isn't involved in any local relationships, and may carry a bit more prestige than a local man would carry. But they like the idea of city boards of this kind and hope the trend continues.

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

ABOARD THE S. S. MATSONIA EN ROUTE TO HONOLULU, Aug. 12.—Dear Staff: You certainly learn things about Hollywood and the movies when you go away from the film city. For example, I've just discovered that a motion picture is a fine, friend-making medium. Here's what I mean:

Last night, I attended the picture being shown aboard ship. It was a thoroughly amusing comedy drama. After the show, the audience filed out of the theater, all laughing together. Suddenly we weren't strangers to each other. We'd been made brothers by our common enjoyment of a motion picture.

I found myself grinning at one fellow. He smiled back and asked, "How many bells would you give that one?" I said "Three," and first thing you know we were friends. I met his wife, he met my wife, we introduced a few acquaintances back and forth—and lo, today we're booked to swim together on Deck "F." Provided I don't open my mouth with some crack about Nelson Eddy (my new friend's wife adores Nelson), we'll probably get along swell together.

All of which illustrates what I've been saying about the screen for years. The movies should be friend-building. They should weld people together—not just people of our own country, but people of the world. Pictures should never spread propaganda and hatred. Instead, they should send Japanese and Chinese, German and English, out of the theater arm in arm.

In other words, while the movies can be a means of creating hatred and wars—they should be the most powerful instrument for the promotion of world peace.

Oh, oh! There goes the lunch call. So long for today. Don't you think Beatrice Lillie should give her English title of Lady Peel to Gypsy Rose Lee?

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Admiral: Since talking with Dick Powell this morning, we're worried about you. Seems he was fishing near the Coronado islands the other day and, all of a sudden, a giant sword fish—as long as Jimmy Durante's nose and as big around as one of Martha Raye's screams—charged their boat which, after the bout, had to put back to San Diego for repairs. Of course, the S. S. Matsonia is a far cry from a fishing boat, but you'd understand our nervousness if you'd seen Dick's expression when he described that fish. Jonah couldn't have spoken more respectfully of the whale.

With fish for breakfast, we'll throw in a little spice. An eye-witness tells us Rosemary Lane and some read-headed gent from Texas staged quite a tiff at the Grace Hayes lodge. She threw a glass of water on him; he dashed a glass of water on her. Most remarkable—for it's hard to find that much water in the Grace Hayes lodge at midnight!

More paprika: Looks like your hunch about a rift 'twixt Errol Flynn and Lili Damita will be vindicated—and soon. One of their intimates stopped in this morning with the word that their final disagreement will probably be announced before the month is out. After all the auto accidents they've been through together, too!

Here're a few random jottings to mull over while you pace the decks: Your pal Arthur (Dagwood) Lake has written a thriller titled "The Ghost Goes Hollywood" and has it up for sale with one of the majors. . . . Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1939, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

This is a month when nature has more pity than usual on peevish townsfolks vacationing in the country. The bird songs are hushed. Come September they will rise again, as their owners fluff up a new crop of feathers and feel the joyful urge of melody. Who doesn't when he has a new suit? But meantime you and I will need less often to throw up a defense for owls and whippoorwills and such.

It is the night birds that make city critics most critical. Warbling creatures in sunlight are endurable, even pleasant. But if a man in bed isn't entitled to quiet, he certainly is entitled to kick. And this summer the kicks have been coming hard and often.

Those owls! Those triple-blasted screech owls! Poor Otus Asio Asio! If he could hear it, he would be the first to protest against that "screech." His mournful cry is no more like a screech than your grandmother's cookies are like the stuff you got out of the self-service beanery yesterday. More like a banshee's wail quivering through the evening air. Hoo-hoo-hoo! He sounds like a banshee, but he looks catlike with his feather tufts standing up like ears and his yellow eyes.

He looks pretty awful, but his conduct is admirable, so far as his wife is concerned. He is a faithful husband who never looks toward Reno. And if his untidy nests often show feathers he never shed, blame his love of family. He will do anything under the sun to feed his sons and daughters. He would prefer to catch mice, but if the mice run short, sleeping birds will do nicely.

The screech owl may have no proper screech but the whippoorwill certainly justifies his name. "Whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will," he calls over and over. The "will" goes up like a crackling whip. By daybreak poor Will ought to have had a fine thrashing, but he never ceases asking for more.

No less an authority than Dr. Thomas S. Roberts has observed that the whippoorwill sings at the rate of 48 songs a minute. One long-winded record-seeker was counted delivering his call three hundred and fifty times without pause. There are marathon maniacs in feathers, too.

Whippoorwill is a busy codger, so far as conversation goes, but he does no homemaking. He sleeps all day, and at night he doesn't do a lick of the work most other birds dote on. When his wife lays two dull eggs marked with lilac and brown, she uses no nest. She deposits them on the bare ground, looking only for a sheltered depression likely to go unnoticed. Meanwhile her husband is whipping with a will, and pretty soon she is whipping with him.

But when their young are trying their first baby calls the old folks show them how to flash off the ground for mouthfuls of night-flying insects. Moths are fair game, often caught, and mosquitoes aren't too small to bother over.

It isn't only night birds that may keep you awake. A day bird which sings, and beautifully, after dark is the little known Oven bird. He is also called the Teacher bird because of his crescendo cry of "Teacher! Teacher! Teacher!" which Burroughs marked long ago. In addition he knows a love song which he prefers to sing at night. But not under a balcony, as Romeo did. He sings on the wing, high above the tree tops.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

When a child is plainly a mental loss he is quietly cared for by his people, or by the community. But when he comes somewhere between complete loss and complete normality, his lot is a mighty hard one. He looks all right, or perhaps the slight asymmetry of his body, the slight variation in his behavior, can be overlooked, is overlooked. He has a good memory—for certain kinds of learning. Or he has certain strengths, doing better in some forms of activity than his abler brother. Or he does quite well in most of his lessons, but he cannot learn to read, and certain subjects are hard for him. Maybe he gets his lessons after study for three hours after a long school day while his abler brother gets his in half an hour. Sometimes he is quick in his movements, but inaccurate. Sometimes he is slow and clumsy, but finally successful to a passing degree. But all the time he is different from other children and his parents and teachers are moving heaven and earth to push him into the upper grade levels of the school.

It just cannot be done. Let's face the truth and go on from there. Some children have not the basic equipment for school success as we measure it on the basis of a course of study set for the best equipped children in the community. No ammount of coaching will change that condition, and too much of it is likely to result in harm.

All such children must be carefully studied by teachers who understand their condition. Such teachers are specialists in the education of the backward child, and every school district ought to have such teachers in proportion to the number of such children in the schools. They should know the children and their families personally, and plan their studies in relation to the ability of the children. It is useless, it is cruel, to make a backward child struggle to reach the standard of scholarship that only the most intellectually gifted can reach. It is waste of time, money and human energy.

These children have a shorter learning time than the fast-learning children. The finer the mind the longer its growing span. The duller the mind the shorter its growing span. That means that one must begin very early to teach such children, and lose no opportunity. The end of their learning time may be very close at hand, and once its limit has been reached there is no chance of stretching it further. Begin and keep on working, shifting the instruction as the child's mind shifts, taking advantage of every phase of power, every shade of interest he shows, to forward his growth.

It is useless to blame a child's school failure on his "lack of concentration." Concentration is centered attention. Attention is stimulated by curiosity, then interest holds it. A backward child's curiosity is not keen about most school activities, and his interest is short lived in work he cannot do. Saying he lacks concentration is saying he cannot attend to school work, something the teacher knew about the end of the first week of work. When that is discovered it is time to examine the child and rearrange his school life with the view toward making him a happy, useful citizen.

Drill won't do this. Neither will discipline, nor military school, nor the reform school nor any other school that is not suited to the needs of the backward child. Of all children in schools today, his is the hardest lot. Of all children in need of guidance and training, this one heads the list. He is the problem of every community in the land, yet little seems to be done for him.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—This outgoing session of congress could easily go down in history as the second war of the rebellion.

In it the south fought off domination by northern and western elements of the party led by the New Deal. Likewise it won most battles in which northern industry was pitted against southern industry. In both classes of issues, naturally enough, there were exceptions, and there were exceptions among southerners, for some stood staunchly by the New Deal.

The south was not in complete rebellion, of course, nor was it always alone in rebellion. Southern support was credited with salvaging the reorganization bill, trimmed though it was. In turn, there was almost unanimous congressional support for the agriculture bill in which administration objections were overridden heartily. The big money additions were made in the senate where, under leadership of Senator Russell of Georgia, well more than a quarter-billion was added to the agriculture budget figure. And the increased benefits were directed heavily southward.

• • •

They Had Support

The southerners did not win out alone. They won in many of their efforts principally because of Republican support.

The concluding blow of this combination was the wrecking of the spending-lending bill. Republicans and southerners led the attack in the senate by which it was whittled from a huge spending program to little more than a farm aid bill. The same combination in the house amassed most of the votes by which it finally was prevented from reaching the floor.

When the relief bill was up, a southern representative, Woodrum of Virginia led the same combination in obtaining an investigation of WPA. The result was that many of the so-called "ultra-liberal" features of WPA, such as the federal theater, went out. Restrictive features were written in and polished off both in the house and senate.

Another Virginian, Representative Smith succeeds in winning house approval for an investigation of the labor board, which has been anathema to many southern industrialists. Again the core of his support was from the south.

• • •

Housing, Wages, Security

The administration request for $800,000,000 authorization for slum clearance was stalled by southern opposition which contended it was principally of benefit to a limited few big cities.

The Hatch bill to outlaw "pernicious political activities" of federal employes was hardly to be classed as southern legislation, as it was initiated by the New Mexico senator whose name it bore. Nevertheless it had heavy support from southern members who considered it a curb on patronage politics in the south.

Wage-hour amendments, fought by the administration, made headway largely because of support of southerners who had persisted in demanding regional differentials which would permit the south to use its low labor costs to bid for industry.

Finally, southern states pushed through to a showdown the social security amendments by Senator Connally of Texas. They were designed to pour a larger portion of old age benefits southward.

The net result has been a recoupment of southern influence in the party and a substantial tempering of the labor laws whose effect, directly or indirectly, was to reduce the south's competitive advantage from its cheap labor.

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

LITTLE possibility of the release of any of the 35 U. S. stamps of the "Famous Americans" series before 1940 was indicated following Postmaster General James A. Farley's announcement of the final selection of authors, poets, artists, educators, inventors, composers and scientists to be honored.

Stamp commitments for the balance of the present calendar year apparently will prevent issuance of even the first group of five before January. Postal authorities, however, promised that every effort will be made to rush the stamps into production.

Tentative plans call for the issuance of the series in seven groups of five each, in 1-cent, 1½-cent, 2-cent, 3-cent and 5-cent denominations. Details as to designs, colors, and date and place of first-day sales will be announced later.

The selection, long awaited by philatelists, is the result of polls conducted among collectors, and of suggestions of various educational, business and patriotic groups from all parts of the country. Actively backing the proposed issue was President Roosevelt, generally credited with originating the idea.

The "Famous Americans" who will be honored by stamps are:

Johnson Makes Address At Meridian; Conner Issues Statement At Jackson

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 12.—(AP)—While Paul B. Johnson was opening his second primary campaign for governor with a speech at Meridian tonight, Mike Conner, runnerup in the first primary and opponent of Judge Johnson in the August 29 runoff, made his first public statement since the voting last Tuesday.

Conner's headquarters here issued the statement tonight, an appeal to those who did not vote for him in the first primary to consider his record and qualifications. He coupled the appeal with an expression of thanks and appreciation for his first primary support and declared he was supremely confident over the outcome of the runoff balloting.

"Issues are clearly defined," Conner declared. "Thousands who did not participate actively in the first campaign or supported other candidates as their first choice have enlisted with us. We earnestly invite the cooperation and support of all friends of good government with regard to past political affiliations."

Judge Johnson's Meridian address included a lengthy tribute to Thomas L. Bailey, resident of Meridian who ran third in the first primary. At the same time, Forrest G. Cooper of Indianola, state campaign committee chairman for Bailey issued a statement, announcing his support of Judge Johnson in the second primary.

Following Senator Pat Harrison's statement of support for Conner, and word from the fourth and fifth place candidates, Lester Franklin and J. B. Snider, that they are supporting Johnson in the runoff, Cooper's statement tonight said:

"While yielding none of my loyalty to Tom Bailey, this choice is between Mike Conner and Paul Johnson. I believe Paul Johnson is more trustworthy; that his word and integrity are superior; that he is more loyal to his friends; that he is more dependable.

"I believe Paul Johnson has the interests of the people of Mississippi more at heart than his opponent, who has, in my opinion, no other interest in the world than his own selfish interest. The people of Mississippi can better depend on Paul Johnson working for their interests because he is less selfish than his opponent."

Mr. Conner's headquarters announced he would follow Judge Johnson into Meridian with a Monday night speech. Johnson will speak in Philadelphia Monday night and Conner will go there Tuesday morning.

Meanwhile allegations of voting frauds in two counties were being investigated. A group of citizens in Pontotoc county sent a former United States district attorney, C. A. Bratton of Oxford, to Jackson to probe charges that 4,000 persons voted in Pontotoc last Tuesday when only 3,131 had paid the required poll taxes.

And in Calhoun county, the Democratic executive committee had ordered the election at one box held again Monday, and the group will hear a request that the entire county be made to ballot again for reasons similar to those assigned in the Pontotoc complaint.

BOUNDS CONTINUES AUDIT AT HOSPITAL

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Sam S. Bounds of Shawnee, Okla., still was engaged today on an audit of records of Charity hospital here, a state institution, for which he was hired August 2.

Frank S. Shattuck, state supervisor of public funds, said he had hired Bounds to audit the hospital records "both maintenance and construction," on a temporary basis. A new $12,500,000 hospital was recently erected.

The Louisiana Society of Certified Public Accountants protested the hiring of Bounds, declaring the job should have gone to a Louisiana resident. Shattuck said a number of ex-auditors had been hired to check state records.

Bounds, chief auditor of the Oklahoma relief commission from 1931 to 1935 and recently auditor for the town of Shawnee, called on Governor Earl Long before his appointment accompanied by Dr. George Long, formerly of Oklahoma, a brother of the governor and now a resident of Monroe.

SCREEN ACTORS TO HOLD MASS MEETING

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Leaving behind two of their number to hold the fort and recruiting Lawrence Tibbett as reinforcement motion picture spokesmen in the jurisdictional dispute among actors' unions started by airplane tonight for Hollywood.

Kenneth Thompson, executive secretary of the Screen Actors' Guild, and Edward Arnold remained in the east, preparatory to an Atlantic City session tomorrow at which the American Federation of Labor's executive council has indicated it will decide the dispute.

The others, led by Ralph Morgan, guild president, will attend a mass meeting of the organization's members in Hollywood tomorrow. In the party were Binnie Barnes, Jean Muir, Lucille Gleason, Emily Holt, Larry Steers, Wayne Morris, Henry Hull and Mischa Auer.

The plane is due in Los Angeles tomorrow morning, after refueling stops at Columbus, O., Kansas City, Mo., and Albuquerque, N. M.

ELEVEN HURT IN SHANGHAI BLAST

Japanese-Controlled Shipping Office Destroyed By Bomb; Chinese Injured

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13 (Sunday).—(AP)—Shanghai's much-feared second war anniversary today was ushered in by a bombing in which a Japanese-controlled shipping office was destroyed and eleven Chinese, including two women, were seriously injured.

Authorities of the international settlement and French concession, who already had taken rigorous precautions in anticipation of terrorism, redoubled them after the bombing.

Shanghai's famous night life was shut down at midnight; hotel ball rooms, dance halls and other night spots were closed; all residents were ordered off the street after 1 a.m. United States marines and American members of the Shanghai volunteer corps participated in the precautions.

The bombing occurred last night when unknown persons dropped a heavy bomb apparently from the top of an apartment house into the street in front of the Japanese navigation bureau, an organ of the local Japanese-dominated regime which controls small vessel shipping on Soochow creek, which bisects Shanghai. The building was demolished.

The bombers, whom police believed to be supporters of the China government at Chungking, were not arrested although American volunteers, British troops and international settlement police quickly cordoned the area.

The scene of the bombing was in the settlement, north of Soochow creek and just at the border of the settlement section controlled by the Japanese.

Although the Chinese-Japanese war in north China began July 7, 1937, the Shanghai area considers August 13, when fighting began here, the more important anniversary. Reports that Chinese partisans were planning terrorist action against the Japanese and their Chinese friends here and that the latter might retaliate caused authorities to take drastic precautions.

American authorities here and in other Chinese cities remained without direct assurance of the safety of 36 Americans, including women and children, in Kaifeng, Honan province, although the Japanese in Peiping announced receipt of a message from the Rev. Francis Clougherty of Swissvale, Pa., saying the Kaifeng Americans were safe.

No such word had reached American officials directly, however, and efforts to reach the Kaifeng community continued. A cryptic message reached the United States embassy in Chungking Friday that the Kaifeng Americans had been "detained."

American and British members of the China inland mission scattered throughout China set aside today as a day of prayer for peaceful solution of the Kaifeng crisis and early resumption of missionary work there. All British missionaries were driven from the city, which is occupied by the Japanese army, by anti-British demonstrations last month.

With Rayburn's announcement, they said the vice-president had the backing of the two Texas senators, Sheppard and Connally, and of 11 other members of the state's delegation in congress.

They also said that Rayburn's definition of Garner as an outstanding "liberal Democrat" was pleasing, in the light of President Roosevelt's recent statement that the party must choose a liberal in 1940, or he would not actively support the candidate.

Rayburn's statement, too, was the first public pronouncement regarding 1940 from any of the "big four" of congress—Speaker Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, Rayburn, Vice-President Garner and Senate Majority Leader Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky—who confer weekly with the president during the legislative sessions.

Garner's friends, pointing to the open support given him by 12 of the 21 Texas house members, including Rayburn, said the vice-president was assured of the backing of Texas' delegation of 46 to the 1940 Democratic convention.

Date has not been fixed for the trial of former Governor Richard W. Leche, Weiss and Freeman W. Burford, wealthy Dallas oil operator, on charges of violating the Connally "hot oil" act.

Rogge said he had received and referred to investigative agents of the department of interior reports of a monopoly in the Richland oil field.

He said the reports, furnished by the Richland Royalty Owners' Protective association, indicated that when the field was discovered in 1926 it was owned by 11 individuals and companies, and that in 1930 these interests combined into a corporation which has been freezing out independent operators.

DEPORTATION ORDERS CANCELLED BY BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A bill canceling deportation orders against four residents of New Orleans was approved by President Roosevelt.

It would permit Mato, Miljenko, Bozo and Augustin Cibilic, or Zibilich, to remain in this country. Their father, once a naturalized American citizen with an oyster business in New Orleans, lost his citizenship when he returned to his native Yugoslavia to live.

The house immigration committee's report said the four sons did not know that the visas on which they entered the United States several years ago were fraudulent.

DROP IN PRICE OF OIL OPPOSED

Officials Of Producing States Aroused By Sharp Slump In Crude

The interstate oil compact commission was called to meet Tuesday at Oklahoma City.

Theo A. Morgan, director of conservation for the Kansas corporation commission, said the conference would be attended by representatives of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, Arkansas, Michigan and Colorado.

A. S. J. Shaw, member of the Oklahoma corporation commission, suggested a 10 per cent slash in his state's August oil allowable would "help if we could get other states to follow suit."

Governor Payne Ratner of Kansas took another step to fight further crumbling of the price structure by telephoning state executives and oil men. He reported Governor Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma "in favor of a meeting of governors and oil regulatory bodies."

Stanolind Oil Purchasing company, Tide Water Associated Oil company and Skelly Oil company announced price cuts today but observers considered significant the confinement of the new schedules to certain areas.

Both Stanolind and Tide Water chopped 20 cents off east Texas prices to make the flat price 90 cents a barrel, meeting yesterday's cut by Humble Oil and Refining company.

Kansas alone felt the cut by Skelly, which buys all its 22,000 barrels a day there.

Ernest P. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission and also chairman of the interstate oil compact, declared for the proposed shutdown in his state and denounced the price slashes.

As general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Russell B. Brown decried what he termed the "unfortunate position of American industry which permits a few men sitting in New York to disrupt the economic welfare of 18 oil producing states . . ."

POLICE SEEKING TO LOCATE YOUTH

City and state police and members of the sheriff's department yesterday were seeking to locate Bruen Case, 16, of the Lock Arbor community 14 miles northeast of here, who left his home early Friday night and has not been seen since by acquaintances.

He was reported to have left home in company with a man named Jasper Young, 23, of Bastrop, according to police reports.

The youth was described as being six feet tall and weighing about 160 pounds. He is dark complexioned, has dark hair and gray eyes. He was said to have been wearing khaki pants and a white shirt. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Case of Lock Arbor.

GIRL BRIDE GOES BACK TO DOLLS

NAVY SUCCESSFUL IN LIFTING CRAFT

forcing the salvagers to wait for a rise in the tide to pull the vessel free. Navy officers kept watch on a freshening sea in apprehension lest the weather delay another lifting and towing operation—probably early next week—that would carry the Squalus into the sheltering lee of the now nearby Isle of Shoals. Once there, the job virtually would be done.

A cheer broke from the half-naked sailors lining the rail of the salvage ship Falcon when the three big pontoons above the bow of the Squalus finally broke water a few minutes before 11 a. m., eastern standard time, today in a cascade of sparkling foam.

Not only was the sight beautiful—the huge red and white lifting drums leaping into the clear sunlight in unison as though three figures had suddenly simultaneously visible through the spray of a gushing fountain—but it meant the hardest part of probably the toughest salvage job in navy history had been conquered.

On July 13 the same salvage crew apparently had gained the same victory when a sudden uncontrolled surge of buoyancy in the only partially-flooded bow of the Squalus tore the craft from its lifting chains. The bow shot out of the water, actively endangering the salvage fleet, before the vessel's entire 290-foot length settled back to the bottom where it first plunged May 23, 15 miles off this port.

The climatic operations started at 5 a. m., eastern standard time, today. The pumps of the Falcon hardly had been operating for an hour when Admiral Cyrus W. Cole, in charge of salvage operations, announced that the six topmost pontoons had been filled with air.

Two hours later, the three pontoons above the stern compartment of the Squalus broke the surface in a smother of foam.

In contrast, the bow pontoons appeared two hours later in comparatively gentle fashion. Then the Squalus' stern was approximately 80 feet off the muddy sea floor, while the bow was not quite that far toward the surface, giving the craft a downward slant.

Then began the strange, torturous tow toward the Isle of Shoals. The navy tug Wandank actually towed the Squalus and the Squalus towed the Falcon. This queer procession moved forward so slowly that its speed was not perceptible unless marked against a stationary object.

DROP IN COTTONSEED PRICE PROVOKES COX

CAMILLA, Ga., Aug. 12—(AP)—Quotations of $13 a ton for cottonseed, a drop of nearly $10 from last season's opening prices, prompted Representative E. E. Cox, Democrat, Georgia, today to appeal to Washington for remedial action.

In a telegram to Thurman W. Arnold, assistant attorney general, Cox charged "sales pressure in the New York cotton oil and Chicago lard markets is reducing values daily" and driving down the price not only of cottonseed, from which oil is made, but also of hogs, a source of lard.

The congressman added that a "combination in restraint of trade on the part of oil refiners and packers" was "strongly" indicated and told Arnold he believed "an investigation on your part will check such practices and have a healthy effect on the fats market helping hundreds of thousands."

P.-T. A. SCORES PEOPLE'S APATHY

tional guidance program and ending of "diversion of school monies by legislative whim or expediency."

The remainder of the statement of the association follows in full:

"As a member of the national congress of parents and teachers, the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association is strictly a non-partisan, non-commercial, non-sectarian body.

"Organized to promote the welfare of childhood and youth in home, school, church and community, the board of managers of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association in special session assembled in Alexandria August 12, 1939, very properly acts to condemn the moral laxity in official life in Louisiana and to add certain suggestions in the field of education and child welfare which its own experience dictates as valuable.

"The citizens of Louisiana should realize and acknowledge their own moral responsibility for the shameful condition which Louisiana presents to the world today. It may be honestly said that many of us, in our own communities, have known of this moral laxity in official life, the disregard for law on the part of those sworn to uphold the law. By our silence over the years, we have contributed to the delinquency of those who have betrayed the public trust in this state. The few voices crying in the political wilderness have been effectively silenced by the apathy of the people quite as much as by the brazen aggressiveness of many politicians.

"We protest the widespread corruption in public office which the state and federal investigations have revealed, and urge complete and impartial probe of all state departments.

"The primary guarantee for democracy is an intelligent participating citizenry. The governed must do their part continually or democracy breaks down. Thousands of persons in this state do not vote. Apathy, disgust, a feeling of futility are reasons offered. These reasons constitute an evasion of the citizens' responsibility in a democracy. They contribute directly to the deplorable conditions in which Louisiana finds herself today.

"The strength and hope of democracy lies in the individual ballot intelligently and fearlessly cast.

"We deplore the grave irregularities which have been revealed in the administrative department of the Louisiana State university and we commend President Hebert for the academic survey he will institute along with the administrative investigation.

"Though we have a good public school system, we point out the following facts for consideration:

"We are one of seven remaining states having an 11-year system.

"Trade schools begin to attract notice, but there is no vocational guidance program on a state-wide basis which motivates vocational education. An integrated program including counseling, occupational research and placement is necessary for a satisfactory approach to the school work program.

"Diversion of school moneys by legislative whim or expediency must be ended. As a result of the diversion of severance tax money by the 1938 legislature, over $1,000,000 had to be borrowed to maintain the present basis of state aid. All school funds, including the Louisiana State university, should be provided for in the constitution.

"The school commission authorized by the legislature in 1938 was not appointed by ex-Governor Leche until May, 1939. It must, according to the act which created it, report to the legislature on January 1, 1940. It is obvious that this short period allows for only the most superficial examination of the matter under consideration. The study which is being carried on should be merely the introduction to the thorough-going appraisal that is needed of our school system."

LEGION PLANS WAR ON ISMS

Offensive Against Alien Doctrines To Be Launched At Chicago Convention

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The American Legion will launch at its twenty-fifth national convention in Chicago next month a new offensive against doctrines alien to democracy.

The campaign, leaders said today, would be an outgrowth of the legion's Americanism program, revitalized and altered in name because, in the words of one convention officer, "We have too many isms these days; the emphasis will be on American democracy, which we think is a much better term."

The term will be the keynote of the convention. Assigned to expound what the legion means to community, state and nation are Joseph K. Carson, Jr., mayor of Portland, Ore., Governor Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring, all legionnaires.

Under the commandership of Stephen F. Chadwick of Seattle, the American democracy program will be carried to schools, clubs and other organizations during the convention by prominent speakers, among them Senator Bennett C. Clark of Missouri and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

As sheer spectacle, the parade on Tuesday, September 26, is designed to surpass all others in the legion's history.

The day is the twenty-first anniversary of the start of the Argonne offensive, and in observance many veterans are out to build up a parade which will exceed in marching time the 19-hour record set in New York in 1937.

On Sunday night, September 24, a vast religious service will be held in Grant park along Lake Michigan.

Convention officers said they expected at this year's gathering 48 war-time generals, possibly headed by General John J. Pershing, the largest assembly of A. E. F. commanders ever to attend a legion encampment.

All over the state of Louisiana today the people, whose moral conscience has been thoroughly aroused by revelations of betrayal and corruption at Baton Rouge and New Orleans, are asking themselves this question: Will 1940 in New Orleans be a repetition of 1936? They want to know whether, under existing political conditions, in the inflamed state of the public mind in Louisiana and under the primary laws now operative, political leaders in New Orleans and adjoining parishes will be able to return another stupendously fraudulent majority for the candidates of their choice. The country knows what it wants. It wants a new deal in state government, a thorough cleansing of the augean stable from cellar to roof. The question which is disturbing it is whether or not the political bosses of New Orleans will be able to prevent the accomplishment of that result.

Four things are calculated to prevent a corrupt election in New Orleans in January next. The first is political chaos in the camp of the bosses themselves. The second is the inability of the city hall crowd to deny representation at the polls to the opposition. The third is the open revolt of the country parishes in the First and Second congressional districts which for over a decade have been subservient to the political will of the New Orleans bosses. The fourth is the temper of the people of New Orleans themselves.

If Robert S. Maestri is mayor of New Orleans when the next state election is held, which is by no means certain, he will be powerless to confine the counting of the vote, as he did in 1936, to commissioners and clerks representing only one side of the political contest. Mr. Maestri was not mayor when Richard W. Leche was nominated. Nevertheless he held the political strings of New Orleans in his right hand and guided the puppets who made election returns.

This Mr. Maestri did under a law which required supervisors of election (all state appointees) to select the officers of election. That law no longer exists. The supreme court nullified it and in its place we have one empowering candidates to submit lists of election commissioners and clerks from which lists the election officials must be drawn.

There are two political factions in control in New Orleans—one known as the Long faction, of which Mayor Maestri is the head, and the other the Old Regular faction, which seems to be without definite leadership. These factions do not love each other. The Old Regulars were whipped into line four years ago after having been battered into almost political insensibility by statutes which took from their political lifeblood—patronage. The yoke did not rest easily on their necks then; it does not rest easily on them now.

While New Orleans has but one governing system, it has two distinct political organizations which are joined together by the lightest of political bonds. The 17 wards of New Orleans have joint leaders, practically all of them office-holders. Old Regular leaders are: Ward 1, Ulick Burke, attorney for the city board of health; Ward 2, S. B. Cassagne, superintendent of city markets; Ward 3, George Montgomery, state tax collector; Ward 4, Vic Mauberret, assessor; Ward 5, Charles Tillman; Ward 6, Col. Desmare, deputy city commissioner; Ward 7, Louis Knop, civil sheriff; Ward 8, "Sol" Hickey, recorder of mortgages; Ward 9, Dr. Frank Gomila, city commissioner; Ward 10, Judge Robert Skinner, traffic court; Ward 11, James Reilly, deputy city commissioner; Ward 12, Fred Earhart, city commissioner; Ward 13, Gus Pique, who holds a minor city job; Ward 14, "Billy" Busso; Ward 15, Stanley Behrman; Ward 16, Anthony Herle, clerk of the first city court; Ward 17, Henry Heaton, assessor.

Leaders of the Long faction in the same area are: Ward 1, Edmund Burke, who holds a job with the state health board; Ward 2, "Silver City" Ed Burke, superintendent of the new basin canal and shellroad; Ward 3, Jimmy Comiskey, assessor; Ward 4, Clem Schert, law partner of Governor Earl Long and member of the state legislature; Ward 5, Jules Moustier, jury commissioner; Ward 6, James C. Miston, inspector for the state board of health; Ward 7, Ben J. Daly, attorney; Ward 8, J. A. Perilloux, chief custodian of the new civil courts building; Ward 9, Nunemacher; Ward 10, Dr. Joseph A. O'Hara, president of the state board of health; Ward 11, A. Schrick; Ward 12, Ed Van de Har, state fire marshal; Ward 13, Charles Deegan, assessor; Ward 14, Bill Dillon, jury commissioner; Ward 15, John C. Collins; Ward 16, Sidney Assonheimer, Orleans levee board superintendent; Ward 17, former State Senator Tom McConnell.

With two separate branches of the city political organization in charge of the flesh pots, and the interests of the two often conflicting, it is obvious that the situation does not make for unity of mutual trust. On the contrary, when a member of the Long faction is appointed to office, the Old Regulars in his bailiwick develop a pronounced case of political hysteria; when an Old Regular is named, the Longites get the jitters.

The Long crowd is united to Mayor Maestri by ties of political sympathy, as well as self-interest. But, the Old Regulars are not. They openly charge Maestri with trying to break up their organization by making the city government a one-man affair. Maestri holds himself to be above the Old Regular ward leaders, the commission council, or any other body or political entity whatsoever. He fills vacancies without paying the slightest heed to political lines, and without consulting anybody. The men he names may or may not have political influence; but they invariably fit in with the Maestri scheme of things.

"It is pretty hard," said one Old Regular leader to the Monroe Morning World correspondent. "Under Walmsley, Behrman and other Old Regular mayors of New Orleans, no vacancy was filled in a ward without consulting the leader of that ward. That isn't the case today. Maestri doesn't consult the ward leader, or anyone else, in making appointments. He is just as likely to fill a vacancy in a downtown ward with an uptown man as not. Why? It is his vanity, I guess. He wants the appointee to thank him, and not the ward leader. If Maestri served many more years, there wouldn't be much left of the Old Regular organization."

For this reason, among others, Old Regular leaders in New Orleans are at heart against Mayor Maestri. They would be tickled to death if he would resign, as it is reported he has been on the verge of doing several times lately. They are confident that if he stepped down, and an election were called, no member of his faction would be chosen mayor of New Orleans.

There is a well-authenticated report current in New Orleans that some time ago (long before the political scandals broke at Baton Rouge, in fact), Mayor Maestri and the Old Regulars signed an agreement to act together in the state election of 1940. In return for Old Regular support of the Maestri state candidates, the New Orleans mayor is said to have agreed to support an Old Regular for mayor in 1942. That an agreement of the kind existed there is little doubt. Deputy Commissioner James Reilly, leader of the eleventh ward, who was the last "recalcitrant" to give in and support Leche four years ago, is said to have been the last Old Regular leader to put his name to this document.

But, two forces are conspiring to destroy this political pact. One is the attitude of the Old Regular ward lieutenants and captains, and the other the attitude of the people of New Orleans. The precinct leaders make little or no secret of their intention to knife Maestri, if they are forced into a position of appearing to support his state candidates. They are perfectly well aware that political safety lies in a revolution of this nature, because, aside from the office-holding class, the people of New Orleans are demanding a clean sweep in state personnel. This is particularly true of the uptown or "silk stocking" wards—the tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth. (The fifteenth ward is Algiers, on the west side of the Mississippi river.) These wards poll more than half of the vote of the city of New Orleans.

The country parishes little realize to what extent political graft has been practiced in New Orleans, and the brazen openness of protected vice and crime. All this will be treated in a subsequent article. For the present it is only necessary to say that never was vice so flagrant, gambling so open, graft so rampant as it is in New Orleans today. The cost of this in morale and money is terrific.

Heretofore, the public has been apathetic—content to keep its own skirts clean and not worry about those who profit from vicious human tendencies. But, the Louisiana political scandals have awakened the people of New Orleans to a realizing sense of the iniquities with which official improbity and double-dealing have surrounded them.

Today, New Orleans sees itself as in a glass darkly. It is clamoring for better social and political conditions. And it is demanding the overthrow of those who are responsible for the present conditions. So true is this that the captains and lieutenants in the respective wards find themselves, for the first time in their lives, political pariahs. Citizens are actually ashamed to be seen talking to them. Taking their cue from this development, the precinct leaders are turning against Maestri fast.

Former Governor Huey P. Long set the fashion, in 1928, of inter-parochial unity in the First and Second congressional districts. He could not have foreseen, however, that the rural parishes in those districts would thoroughly divorce themselves from the city of New Orleans, whose lead they had followed in state matters since 1932. Even much earlier than that they had run along with the city in the selection of congressmen.

But, the parishes of Plaquemines, St. Bernard, Jefferson, St. Charles, St. John and St. James are political stooges of the city of New Orleans no longer. New Orleans cannot count on the votes of these parishes in political enterprises of any kind whatsoever. They have announced that henceforth they will act together, BUT WHOLLY INDEPENDENT OF THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.

In 1936, when Robert S. Maestri and his political associates in New Orleans supported Richard W. Leche against Cleveland Dear, here is how the parishes named voted:

Parish	Leche	Dear
Plaquemines	4,009	154
St. Bernard	3,800	60
Jefferson	3,326	521
St. Charles	2,045	737
St. James	2,627	666
St. John	2,289	520
Totals	18,096	2,658

The same proportion was maintained in practically every major election in which these parishes participated. And the majority was invariably on the side of state administration candidates.

That is no longer the case. Some few weeks ago the representatives of these parishes met and entered into a solemn compact (signed, sealed and delivered) to vote in state elections as a unit and to support no candidate in 1940 who would not agree to:

1. Repeal outright the state sales tax.
2. Repeal the laws which gives the state authority to name deputy sheriffs, and the clerical forces of assessors and clerks of court.
3. Enact a law giving to police juries the exclusive right to grant public service, franchises within the respective parishes.

According to a verified account of this conference, it was attended by district judges, district attorneys, sheriffs, clerks of court, assessors, presidents of police juries and other leaders from each of the parishes in the First and Second congressional district group. The population of all the parishes having greatly increased since 1936, the conferees felt that they could give a 25,000 majority to any candidate, or candidates, whom they unitedly supported.

"Never," said one of those attending the conference to the Monroe Morning World correspondent, "were men in greater earnest. They entered into their agreement whole-heartedly, and with every intention of keeping it to the letter. It was agreed that no one would make recommendations to Governor Long for appointment if the recommendation involved a promise, direct or implied, to support him, or any other candidate, in 1940. I happen to know that a few days ago one sheriff in the group sent word to Governor Long that if he would summon the legislature in special session and enact the laws demanded by the six parishes, he would 'consider supporting him in 1940.' On the other hand, if he didn't, he needn't look for that sheriff's support."

A factor that must not be overlooked in analyzing the political situation in New Orleans is the office-holding group. City employes are not saying much, but they are doing a powerful lot of thinking. Those who are in their confidence say that they are weary of "putting up," weary of seeing the higher-ups waxing fat while their pay envelopes get no [illegible] true of [illegible] are [illegible] underpaid, promised [illegible] not come; political [illegible] their purses multiply. It [illegible] report here that a vast [illegible] them are against Mayor Maestri [illegible] anything he stands for.

The situation in New Orleans, [illegible] scribed here as faithfully as [illegible] could put it, effectually answers the question of the people of Louisiana: "Can the Maestri organization pile up a huge fraudulent majority for its candidate in 1940, as it did in 1936?"

No, it can't—and it won't.

ALCOHOL REMOVES LACQUER

When lacquered metals, such as copper and brass, begin to peel, the balance of the old lacquer may be removed with denatured alcohol. All old lacquer should, of course, be removed and the metal well polished, cleaned and dried, before refinishing with new lacquer.

This is said to be particularly true of the police and firemen, who are under state supervision. They are underpaid; promised increases have not come; political demands upon their purses multiply. It is common report here that a vast majority of them are against Mayor Maestri and anything he stands for.

The situation in New Orleans, described here as faithfully as words could put it, effectually answers the question of the people of Louisiana: "Can the Maestri organization pile up a huge fraudulent majority for its candidate in 1940, as it did in 1936?"

No, it can't—and it won't.

ALCOHOL REMOVES LACQUER

When lacquered metals, such as copper and brass, begin to peel, the balance of the old lacquer may be removed with denatured alcohol. All old lacquer should, of course, be removed and the metal well polished, cleaned and dried, before refinishing with new lacquer.

The bureau said the disturbance which crossed the lower Florida peninsula during the night and crossed the northeastern Gulf of Mexico before striking the Florida coast again would pass over the Choctawhatchee bay area late tonight, continuing its northwestern course.

The first death attributed to the storm was the drowning of Orie Croft, Cedar Keys fisherman, whose rowboat was overturned as he tried to reach his fishing boat in the bay.

Croft and a companion, Herbert Coulter, swam toward the large boat and witnesses said Croft reached the anchor cable only to disappear beneath the choppy water. Coulter was rescued.

Cedar Keys apparently suffered no damage from the winds other than a few trees and signs blown down.

At 6:30 p.m. Port St. Joe had clearing skies after gusty winds had whipped the town earlier with no apparent damage. Telephone communication to the outside was re-established.

Storm warnings remained up for the gulf coast from Apalachicola to Mobile, Ala., and the weather bureau urged "all interests" in the area to exercise caution tonight.

Coast guard boats, airplanes and communication trucks were stationed at strategic points in Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.

South and south central Florida escaped serious damage as the tropical disturbance crossed the peninsula from Jupiter, on the Atlantic coast, to Tarpon Springs, on the gulf coast, last night. Once more over water, the storm picked up intensity and forward movement during the day.

Winds up to 55 to 62 miles an hour and torrential rain marked the storm's progress across the south Florida peninsula. Only two persons received minor injuries and property damage was not great.

PRESIDENT SAILS AWAY ON VACATION CRUISE

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, having cleared his desk of all legislation adopted by the recent congress, sailed from New York today aboard the cruiser Tuscaloosa for a vacation in New England and Canadian waters.

Although the president's cruise course was indefinite, he said he expected to put in Monday at Campobello, New Brunswick, where Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., are on vacation.

The remainder of a leisurely trip up the Canadian coast, possibly as far as Newfoundland, will depend upon the weather, with the possibility of stopping at Halifax or other ports at night. He planned to return to Washington late in the month, being uncertain where he would debark.

After concluding the signing of 667 bills and the veto of 58, the president received a state department report on foreign affairs, then motored from Hyde Park to New York.

TROOPS MOBILIZE FOR WAR GAMES

National Guardsmen Join Regular Army Units In Gigantic Maneuvers

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 12—(AP)—By train and highway national guardsmen of several northeastern states moved tonight to a mobilization of 53,000 troops for the nation's greatest peace time war games.

Joining regular army units already in stations on a far flung Adirondack mountain training camp, they will undergo ten days of route marches, regimental maneuvers and unrelated tactical problems under the eyes of 350 "umpires."

Then an invading "Black army," having theoretically landed on the shores of New England, will attempt to overcome in a two-day "battle" a "Blue army" defending the route to New York City.

Mobilization of regular army men was completed yesterday with arrival of the 7th field artillery from Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., and the 16th infantry.

The first national guard units will arrive at 4:30 a.m. tomorrow, with approximately 4,400 men, including portions of the 27th (N. Y.) and the 44th (N. Y. and N. J.) divisions coming by train. About 7,000 more will come by highway.

The main body of 21,000, chiefly New England divisions, arrives Monday.

The 350 umpires, who have been "schooled" for weeks, will be assigned to all participating units.

Homing pigeons will supplement radio and telephone in helping keep them abreast of troop movements.

While casualties will be assessed on a strict numerical basis, the various participating units actually will remain at full strength, Colonel James P. Morley, chief of staff of the first army and senior umpire, explained today.

"The primary object of these maneuvers is training the men," Morley said. "If an umpire decides that a regiment has lost 25 per cent of its personnel in gaining an objective, the unit will be rated in our calculations at only 75 per cent of its full strength, although all the men will stay in the field."

Rome-Berlin axis—Danzig, for example—very slowly and carefully because they were "so involved and compled."

An indication that the future of Danzig may have formed the prime topic of discussion was seen in the manner in which the controlled German press not only was emphasizing the dispute with Poland over Germany's claims to the Free City but also reports of alleged attacks by Poles on German nationals in Pomorze, the Polish corridor.

Accounts published on front pages of newspapers charged that the Poles had killed six Germans and seriously wounded 21 others in 204 raids during the last five weeks.

Reports circulated here without official confirmation that Albert Forster, Nazi district leader in Danzig, again visited Hitler yesterday while the foreign ministers were opening the talks in nearby Fuschl castle.

The Danzig gauleiter had visited Hitler earlier this week and then returned to the Free City where, on Thursday, he told a mass meeting that "the Danzig population believes implicity that the hour of liberation is coming and that the Free City will return to the Reich."

"The Danzig question would be a lot nearer solution now if England last March had not encouraged Poland to resist Danzig and Germany," Forster asserted.

"Englishmen and Frenchmen should understand that bonds of blood are stronger than those of treaties which were once dictated to Germany."

THE RIGHT FOUNDATION

A really satisfactory foundation garment is rarely purchased hurriedly. Only slight adjustments may be necessary to make it fit perfectly, but it is always safer to have an experienced corsetier make them. Chances are, if you have figure faults, the right foundation will either correct them entirely or soften them to such an extent that they are barely noticeable. There is a right and a wrong way to put on a foundation garment. Have your corsetier instruct you about that, too. Incorrectly donned, even a good foundation may wrinkle and strain.

vate, however, and he will tell you how much he fears the possibility of a German invasion if Germany and Great Britain should go to war.

The Netherlands' coast, he points out, would be ideal for airplane and submarine bases against the British.

That is why the defense mechanism is geared for a thrust from the east.

The water line, it is believed, would run roughly from a point on the Zuyder Zee above Utrecht down to Geldermalsen and across to Rotterdam. The flooded section west of this would include the four principal cities of the nation—Utrecht, The Hague, and the ports of Amsterdam and Rotterdam.

The question remained, however, whether the section could be flooded sufficiently before an invader could get across the eastern half of the country. Some believe the flooding could be done in 24 hours; others believe it would take much longer.

There are pillboxes on the frontier. Roads and bridges are kept mined permanently and dynamite will be inserted beneath the trees in an emergency. Lightning makes it too hazardous to leave the trees mined permanently.

But all this the Netherlanders say they recognize would constitute only a minor impediment to a German advance.

Some observers estimated that even with the water barrier the kingdom's tiny army could hold out alone only for a matter of days—two weeks at a maximum.

That, however, would be time enough, they contend. It would give Britain a chance to come in as she would be forced to, it is emphasized here, in self defense.

were subsiding and no damage of any consequence was reported.

The bureau said the disturbance, which crossed the lower Florida penninsula during the night and crossed the northeastern Gulf of Mexico before striking the Florida coast again, would pass over the Choctawhatchee bay area late tonight, continuing its northwesterly course.

Storm warnings were kept up from Apalachicola to Mobile but were ordered lowered from St. Marks to Carrabelle at 1:30 a. m. Sunday.

The storm's casualties to date apparently consisted of one death and two slight injuries. A fisherman was drawned at Cedar Keys today when his rowboat overturned in the rough waters of the bay, and two east coast residents were hurt slightly yesterday.

Three Panama City boys who were missing for several hours after going into the bay in an outboard motorboat were safe at home tonight after anchoring their craft and swimming ashore.

Little apprehension was felt in shipping circles in Mobile as boatmen moored their craft in places they believed would be safe from the winds. Some ships delayed sailings awaiting further developments.

More than 400 sportsmen-fishermen participating in the Baldwin county fishing rodeo and fiesta scurried shoreward at Foley, Ala., as word of the storm's approach was spread.

The storm originated near Puerto Rico, being discovered Tuesday morning. It moved steadily in a northwesterly direction, reaching the lower Florida east coast late yesterday afternoon.

It emerged near Tarpon Springs on the gulf coast about 4 a.m. today, after causing only minor damage in its narrow path, and reached the curved Florida coast at Apalachicola in mid-afternoon.

Apalachicola communications lines were lost shortly after 4 p.m. when the storm reached its height, with winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour.

Panama City, in or near the path of the approaching storm, reported rising winds which were unofficially estimated at 50 miles an hour and up to 60 in gusts. Electric power went off early in the evening, but telephone communications remained up.

The New Orleans office of the weather bureau said in a 6:45 p.m. advisory the center would pass over Panama City or St. Andrews bay in a few hours and continue northwestward over Choctawhatchee bay, passing inland east of Valpariso tonight.

One death was attributed to the storm at Cedar Keys where a fisherman was drowned when his rowboat was overturned in the rough waters of the bay.

The storm, which apparently gathered force today after crossing the lower Florida peninsula with little damage, caused an unestimated amount of damage at Apalachicola where high waves churned against fish houses and wharves and pounded boats which had not been moved to sheltered coves.

One gust of mind blew the entire roof off a waterfront building used by a fishing company.

Steady winds of 50 miles an hour were punctuated at frequent intervals by blasts up to 60 miles an hour or stronger.

Streets near the gulf were flooded.

Communication lines went down shortly after the storm reached its full force about 4 p.m., eastern standard time.

The first death attributed to the storm was the drowning of Orin Croft, Cedar Keys fisherman, whose rowboat was overturned as he tried to reach his fishing boat in the bay.

Croft and a companion, Herbert Coulter, swam toward the large boat and witnesses said Croft reached the anchor cable only to disappear beneath the choppy water. Coulter was rescued.

Big four-engine Boeing Clippers, like that pictured above, will link America and New Zealand over this route if Civil Aeronautics authority approves application of Pan-American Airways. Course from San Francisco to Auckland, New Zealand, would be 7,952 miles long; four-day schedules would clip 11 days from fastest existing transport time between United States and its fourth largest world market area. Plans call for full day's layover in Honolulu, overnight stops at Canton island and New Caledonia. Planes would go through Los Angeles on outward trip, but not on return trip. Proposed British Imperial Airways extension from Australia to New Zealand, shown by dotted line, would provide direct connection with American service across south Pacific.

interior department in Washington, D. C., was elected vice-president, and John Neff, Staunton, Va., apple-grower, secretary. John M. Bailey, Hartford, Conn., was reelected treasurer. Louisville, Ky., won the 1941 convention.

Young Adams, chubby-cheeked assistant director of the department of finance in Illinois, said in his acceptance speech the Young Democrats "demand genuine, wholehearted New Dealers" head the Democratic ticket in 1940.

Without mentioning names, he added it was "unfortunate that reactionaries are striking from within our own ranks. It is unfortunate that we see those who fervently swore their loyalty beneath the stars as witness, turn and wait not even for the first cloudy night to strangle that vow."

The convention started off with informal attacks on the Hatch act restricting political activities of most federal workers but took no action on the issue. Convention officers said they thought President Roosevelt had expressed their view in his message placing various interpretations on the act.

The resolutions committee, headed by Barry Bingham, Louisville publisher, needed only one roll call to put through its 14 proposals. The record vote forced through a substitute resolution involving a California deleoation factional controversy.

One resolution voiced "faith" in the leadership of National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley and said the Young Democrats were "counting on him to continue his successful work in support of a liberal and aggressive Democracy.

The pro-New Deal resolutions reaffirmed "full and enthusiastic confidence in the inspiring leadership of President Roosevelt," and urged him to "press forward toward his liberal, enlightened, and humanitarian objectives."

The Twin Cities Exhibition Home under construction at 307 Mitchell lane in West Monroe [illegible] approximately 9[illegible] per cent complete and August 24 has been set as the [illegible] date for formal opening of the [illegible].

The [illegible] is being built by H. R. Hayes Lumber company of West Monroe [illegible] of the firm T. A. Sanders [illegible] expe[illegible] [illegible] A[illegible]

The exterior work [illegible] has been [illegible] the floors have been [illegible] the finishing work has not yet been completed. The canvas is up on the wall and ready for the wall paper. Trimming of the baseboards, windows and window casings [illegible] and door casings is just about completed.

The formal opening of the home will continue for [illegible] days during which the public will be permitted to visit and inspect the structure which will be furnished by the West Monroe Furniture company.

Final plans for the formal opening will probably be announced in both the news and advertising columns of next Sunday's World.

While being erected for sale, the home has another more important purpose—to demonstrate to the public the ease with which a $3,[illegible] dwelling can be constructed through the assistance of the Federal Housing Administration.

When completed the home will be occupied by a Twin City family. The monthly [illegible] payments under the FHA plan, including insurance and taxes, will be no more than the rental of an average Monroe or West Monroe residence.

The home, which will be modern in every detail, is being erected on a lot fronting [illegible] feet on Mitchell lane and extending back 1[illegible] feet. Mr. Sanders invites the public to visit the house through[illegible] the final stages of construction [illegible] see the high quality of materials and workmanship required under FHA regulations.

One story in height and of frame construction, the home will have two bedrooms, a living room, a dining room, a kitchen, a bathroom and a screened living porch. It will have built-in features throughout and an asbestos roof.

The home will incorporate colorful interior decorations. It will have Venetian blinds matching the color scheme of each room.

HERE IS A REALLY TOUGH PORCH PAINT!

PORCH DECK PAINT

Tough! That's the only word that describes the wearing quality of LOWE BROTHERS PORCH AND DECK PAINT.

Just try it once : : : you'll find that it dries exceptionally hard, and wears well. Hard leather heels won't scuff it and chairs that skid across the floor won't mar it. And the way it stands up under sun, snow, sleet and rain is truly remarkable!

We can supply you with LOWE BROTHERS PORCH AND DECK PAINT in pleasing colors.

Exhibition Home Nearly Completed

TENTATIVE DATE FOR OPENING SET

Hayes Lumber Company Hopes To Have Structure Ready By August 24

The Twin Cities Exhibition Home, under construction at 307 Mitchell lane in West Monroe, is now approximately 90 per cent complete and August 24 has been set as the tentative date for formal opening of the dwelling.

The house is being built by H. R. Hayes Lumber company of West Monroe and the manager of the firm, T. A. Sanders, said the workmen on the job expected to get through with the finishing touches by August 23.

The exterior work, with the exception of the third and last coat of paint, has been completed. On the interior, the floors have been laid but the finishing work has not yet been completed. The canvas is up on the wall and ready for the wall paper. Trimming of the baseboards, windows and window casing and doors and door casings is just about completed.

The formal opening of the home will continue four days, during which the public will be permitted to visit and inspect the structure, which will be furnished by the West Monroe Furniture company.

Final plans for the formal opening will probably be announced in both the news and advertising columns of next Sunday's World.

While being erected for sale, the home has another more important purpose—to demonstrate to the public the ease with which a $3,700 dwelling can be constructed through the assistance of the Federal Housing administration.

When completed, the home will be occupied by a Twin City family. The monthly purchase payments under the FHA plan, including insurance and taxes, will be no more than the rental of an average Monroe or West Monroe residence.

The home, which will be modern in every detail, is being erected on a lot fronting 50 feet on Mitchell lane and extending back 150 feet. Mr. Sanders invites the public to visit the house throughout the final stages of construction in order to see the high quality of materials and workmanship required under FHA regulations.

One story in height and of frame construction, the home will have two bedrooms, a living room, a dining room, a kitchen, a bathroom and a screened living porch. It will have built-in features throughout and an asbestos roof.

A home run by Ray Bagrosky in the fifth frame put the locals out in front once more and provided the margin of victory.

Ernie Olson drew a base on balls to start the Lions' scoring in the second inning. A single by Tone sent Olson to third. John Oleks lifted a sacrifice fly to Englehorn in center field scoring Olson and sending Tone to third after the catch. Conway fumbled Dark's grounder allowing Tone to score.

Bobby Schang started Monroe's lone scoring drive in the third with a single and went to third on Englehorn's double. Conaway singled into left field scoring Schang and Englehorn.

El Dorado added another run in the sixth when Ernie Spence tripled and scored on a wild pitch, another run came home in the seventh when Oleks got an infield hit and scored on Bagrosky's triple; the sixth Lion run was scored in the eighth when

BARONS BEAT PELS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12 (AP)—The New Orleans Pelicans caved in again today in the late innings and dropped the first of a series to Birmingham, 6 to 4.

The Pels took an early lead and until the seventh inning a home run by Catcher Easterwood was the only marker the Barons registered. Then a single by Luce and a two-bagger by Arkeketa gave them another run, and they opened up in the eighth to chase Johnny Humphries.

Score by innings:
Birmingham 001 000 131—6 11 0
New Orleans 111 000 001—4 11 0

Work of altering the new location and moving the stadium's properties there was begun Friday and will be completed before Thursday night, Promoter Kallio said. The new location offers more than adequate parking space for automobiles, excellent facilities for circulating air currents and can be heated without difficulty in cool weather.

Plenty of windows and doors at the front and rear, and a half-dozen roof ventilators will work in nicely with the stadium's system of airplane fans, this being of more immediate interest to the fans than the fact the stadium will be warm in cold weather.

Several rooms or compartments at the rear of the building and plumbing connections there will provide dressing rooms, shower baths, possibly an office, and other facilities.

Seating arrangements of the location will be the same as those of the former location.

Boston Pennant Conscious As Yankees' Lead Whittled

BOSTON, Aug. [illegible]

The [illegible] has appeared. The [illegible]

Yankees are beginning to feel the pressure [illegible]

[illegible] Dawgone if I don't think the Yankees have slipped a bit."

The schedule apparently favors the Yankees to a slight extent the rest of the way. They have 27 games left at home and 2[illegible] on the road, of which 18 are against the [illegible] Philadelphia A's and St. Louis.

The Red Sox on the other hand have 23 at home and 30 on the road, only 14 of which are against the Browns and A's.

The Sox are quick to point out, however, that playing on the road will be no handicap and that the club has played its poorest in Fenway park this year.

"Yes, an outside chance," he replied. "It looks as if the Red Sox are the only club that can beat the Yankees, and if you can go out and beat them yourselves you can do it. But can you beat 'em."

The answer is that the Sox have won eight out of 12 games from the Yankees thus far, with 10 more to play. If both clubs play 50-50 ball against all the other teams in the league, the Sox would have to win eight out of 10 from New York to stay in the running.

EL DORADO PLANS TRI-STATE TOURNEY

EL DORADO, Ark., Aug. 12 (Special)—The sixth annual Tri-State Tennis tournament, sponsored by the El Dorado Tennis association and sanctioned by the Missouri Valley Tennis association, will get underway on the Mellor Park clay courts here Thursday, August 24, and continue through the following Sunday.

Entries, including men and women, are expected from throughout Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas and Oklahoma.

The events will include men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

Prizes will be awarded the winners and runner-ups in each event, trophies being presented to men and silver services going to women.

[illegible] Quist and Bromwich.

For these Australian Davis Cup stalwarts, Jack Bromwich and Adrian Quist stand out over the rest of the field that will battle for the title won last year by Don Budge, now turned pro, and Gene Mako.

The Aussies gained the final last year only to be beaten by Budge and Mako, who later beat the champions in Davis Cup play.

Chief hopes to prevent the championship trophy from going abroad for the second time in three years are the Germans, Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Henner Henkel, won in 1937, were America's Wimbledon champions, Bobby Riggs and Elwood Cooke, and the youthful pair that defeated them at Southampton last week, Frankie Parker and Don McNeill.

There, however, if form holds true, they will oppose the second seeded foreign team, Harry Hopman, Australian team captain, and Jack Crawford. Some of the experts pick Hopman and Crawford to beat their teammates in this part of the belt.

AUSTRALIANS WIN 'FORMALITY' PLAY

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 12 (AP)—Australia's squad disposed of the "formality" matches in the Davis Cup American-zone finals with Cuba today in the same efficient manner that characterized their earlier play, and then headed for Brookline, Mass., and the National Doubles championships.

Adrian Quist and John Bromwich, who swept through the first day's singles and the series-clinching doubles yesterday without dropping a set, showed no mercy as they defeated their Cuban opponents in the final singles matches which didn't mean anything anyway.

Quist overwhelmed Jose Aguero, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0, while a lethargic Bromwich put on pressure only when needed in turning back Ricardo Morales, 8-6, 8-6, 6-1.

The victory in the American-zone finals qualifies the Aussies to meet Yugoslavia in the inter-zone finals August 24-26 at Brookline. The victor in that series meets the American team in the challenge round early next month.

MONROE HELD TO FIVE SAFE BLOWS BY LANIER DARK

Arkansans' Nine Hits Off 'Lefty' Hinton Come At Timely Moments

EL DORADO, Ark., Aug. 12.—(Special)—The El Dorado Lions, after losing two straight games to the Monroe White Sox in the Cotton States league leaders' own park, returned home with the Sox tonight to win the first of a two game series, 6 to 2.

SOX RETURN TOMORROW

The Monroe White Sox, following a game this afternoon at El Dorado, will return home to open a three game series Monday night at Casino park with the Greenville Buckshots. The Sox have only seven more regularly scheduled home games, three with the Bucks who will be followed here on Thursday by the Greenwood Crackers, who will play two games with the locals. The El Dorado Lions end the season with the White Sox here August 26 and 27.

With the exception of today's game at El Dorado, the Sox have seven more road games, to be played at Greenville, Greenwood and El Dorado.

Next Thursday night will be "Players' Night" at Casino park, according to an announcement by club officials, and a large attendance is expected at the game with the Crackers.

The club has "sold" the Thursday game to a committee of business and professional men, headed by Police Chief Frank V. Reitzell and P. A. Mellgren, and funds taken in at the gates will be divided by the committee among members of the White Sox squad.

Several Monroe Merchants are also cooperating in the "Players' Night" program and will offer prizes to the players. Prizes will be obtained this week, it was announced, and players advised on how to win them.

Lanier Dark, the Lions' combination pitcher-outfielder, turned in one of the best hurling performances seen here this season as he held the Monroe aggregation to five hits, allowed no bases on balls and fanned 12.

The Louisianians' rookie hurler, Lawrence "Lefty" Hinton, pitched a creditable game in allowing only nine hits, but the Lions' hits always came at timely moments.

Dale Englehorn, the former Pine Bluff player who is now with the Sox, and Johnny Conway led the visitors' offensive with two hits each in four times at bat. Ray Bagrosky and Woody Tone led the El Dorado attack with two hits each.

El Dorado took the lead with two runs in the second inning, but the Sox knotted the score in the third.

A home run by Ray Bagrosky in the fifth frame put the locals out in front once more and provided the margin of victory.

Ernie Olson drew a base on balls to start the Lions' scoring in the second inning. A single by Tone sent Olson to third. John Oleks lifted a sacrifice fly to Englehorn in center field, scoring Olson and sending Tone to third after the catch. Conway fumbled Dark's grounder, allowing Tone to score.

Bobby Schang started Monroe's lone scoring drive in the third with a single and went to third on Englehorn's double. Conway singled into left field, scoring Schang and Englehorn.

El Dorado added another run in the sixth when Ernie Spence tripled and scored on a wild pitch; another run came home in the seventh when Oleks got an infield hit and scored on Bagrosky's triple; the sixth Lion run was scored in the eighth when

TO MEET INDIAN

Carl (Dutch) Schultz (above), of Milwaukee, Wis., known as "The Flying Dutchman," will pit his speed and all-around ability against the $10,000 legs of Yaqui Joe, Sonora, Mexico, Indian, in one of the main event matches at the local wrestling arena next Thursday night.

WOMEN'S TOURNEY WON BY GIRL, 18

Edith Estabrooks, Of Dubuque, Defeats Ellamae Williams In Western Open

DETROIT, Aug. 12—(AP)—By a smashing 8 and 6 score, the second largest winning margin in the 39-year history of the event, 18-year-old Edith Estabrooks of Dubuque, Ia., today won the closed Western Womens golf championship of Oakland Hills Country club.

Miss Estabrooks, who won the Western Junior meet in 1935 in her only previous appearance on the Oakland Hills course, climbed to the throne after having lost to Patty Berg of Minneapolis, the national champion, in last years final.

Two former titlists—Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., the 1935 and 1937 victor, and Mrs. Russell Mann of Milwaukee, the 1933 champion—were included among Miss Estabrook's five victims in her march to the crown.

She started anything but like a champion today, being two down at the end of three holes. Then Miss Estabrooks drew up even by taking two straight holes and was never headed, finishing the first eighteen five up and well on the way to her first major championship.

Miss Estabrooks stands only five feet tall but she utilizes every ounce of her 125 pounds on her wood shots and the championship final was decided from the tee and on long pokes from the fairway. Whereas Miss Estabrooks was not only long but accurate, Miss Williams was extremely wild with her woods and was scrambling for halves rather than wins most of the way.

For the morning round Miss Estabrooks was even par of 39 on each nine, her 78 being seven shots better than her foe's medal.

BARONS BEAT PELS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The New Orleans Pelicans caved in again today in the late innings and dropped the first of a series to Birmingham, 6 to 4.

The Pels took an early lead and until the seventh inning a home run by Catcher Easterwood was the only marker the Barons registered. Then a single by Luce and a two-bagger by Arkeketa gave them another run, and they opened up in the eighth to chase Johnny Humphries.

Score by innings:

TWO MAIN EVENT BATTLES SLATED THURSDAY NIGHT

Schultz To Tackle Yaqui Joe, Von Bromberg Carded Against 'Shadow'

For the inaugural program of its new location, 504-506 Walnut street, the Monroe Wrestling arena will present a double main event next Thursday night, it was announced last night by Promoter Gus Kallio.

Carl (Dutch) Schultz, of Milwaukee, Wis., will meet Yaqui Joe, Sonora, Mexico, Indian, in one of the bouts, and Carl von Bromberg, of Germany, will meet the "Shadow" in the other bout, which will be a rubber match. A flip of a coin shortly before the starting time of the program will decide which bout will be waged first. Both bouts will be waged over the usual main event time limit of 90 minutes, two falls to win.

Both bouts were carded by Kallio at the request of the fans. Ever since Yaqui Joe, a leg artist, made his debut here recently, the fans have wondered how he would fare against Schultz, who is considered one of the fastest and smartest athletes in the game and who is known as "The Flying Dutchman!" Schultz generally prefers to wrestle scientifically, and his all-round ability pitted against the tricks of the Indian's $10,000 legs points towards a highly interesting match.

Von Bromberg and the "Shadow" have wrestled here twice, each winning a match, and Thursday night's battle is expected to break the even terms between them. The German leaped at the opportunity of a return match with the masked, incognito grappler, but insisted that the "Shadow," if defeated, next Thursday night, be required to remove both his mask and any and all tape which may be under the mask. Kallio was able to obtain the "Shadow's" agreement to this point of the German, and the unmasking of the scarlet-clad terror, without any reservations whatever, is in order, providing von Bromberg wins.

Some months ago von Bromberg defeated the "Shadow" in the first match between them, but at that time the "Shadow" had not agreed to remove his mask if defeated. In the second match, the "Shadow" agreed to unmask himself if defeated, but he won the match with off-color tactics, although having absorbed a severe battering at the hands of the rampaging German.

The wrestling arena's new location was necessitated by the lease of the former location to a business enterprise. The new location comprises two business locations, with the intervening wall being removed for purposes of the arena.

Work of altering the new location and moving the stadium's properties there was begun Friday and will be completed before Thursday night, Promoter Kallio said. The new location offers more than adequate parking space for automobiles, excellent facilities for circulating air currents and can be heated without difficulty in cool weather.

Plenty of windows and doors at the front and rear, and a half-dozen roof ventilators will work in nicely with the stadium's system of airplane fans—this being of more immediate interest to the fans that the fact the stadium will be warm in cold weather.

Several rooms or compartments at the rear of the building and plumbing connections there will provide dressing rooms, shower baths, possibly an office, and other facilities.

Seating arrangements of the location will be the same as those of the former location.

'BEANED' BY BLIMP'S BASEBALL

Boston Pennant Conscious As Yankees' Lead Whittled

Hopes Pinned On Beantown's Red Sox; Remaining Schedules Analyzed

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The old Beantown, its Red Sox having whittled the New York Yankees' American league lead from 13½ games down to six games Friday, was pennant-conscious Saturday.

The signs have appeared. The sports pages are full of analyses of the remaining schedules of both Yankees and Sox. One hotel announced yesterday it had received its first World Series reservation—from a Buffalo, N. Y., fan. And even the Boston players are beginning to wonder.

"Dawgone if it don't look like the Yankees are beginning to feel the pressure," drawled Lou Finney, master pinch-hitter, whose timely blows have won nearly a score of games for the Bostons this year. "They aren't so hot any more. Let them lose a few more and let us win a few more and they're going to start worrying plenty. Dawgone if I don't think the Yankees have shot their bolt."

The schedule apparently favors the Yankees to a slight extent the rest of the way. They have 27 games left at home and 25 on the road, of which 18 are against the two tail-end clubs, Philadelphia and St. Louis.

The Red Sox, on the other hand, have 23 at home and 30 on the road, only 14 of which are against the Browns and A's.

The Sox are quick to point out, however, that playing on the road will be no handicap and that the club has played its poorest in Fenway park this year.

"Yes, an outside chance," he replied. "It looks as if the Red Sox are the only club that can beat the Yankees, and if you can go out and beat them yourselves you can do it. But can you beat 'em."

The answer is that the Sox have won eight out of 12 games from the Yankees thus far, with 10 more to play. If both clubs play 50-50 ball against all the other teams in the league, the Sox would have to win eight out of 10 from New York to stay in the running.

EL DORADO PLANS TRI-STATE TOURNEY

EL DORADO, Ark., Aug. 12.—(Special)—The sixth annual Tri-State Tennis tournament, sponsored by the El Dorado Tennis association and sanctioned by the Missouri Valley Tennis association, will get underway on the Mellor Park clay courts here Thursday, August 24, and continue through the following Sunday.

Entries, including men and women, are expected from throughout Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas and Oklahoma.

The events will include men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

Prizes will be awarded the winners and runner-ups in each event, trophies being presented to men and silver services going to women.

FOREIGN THREAT SEEN IN DOUBLES

U. S. Tennis Stars Converge For Tourney With Entries From Seven Countries

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 12—(AP)—A jittery cavalcade of American tennis stars converged on the Longwood Cricket club here tonight for the start tomorrow of a National Doubles Championship tournament that boasts entries from France, England, Australia, Cuba, Czecho-Slovakia and the Philippine islands.

In order to throw a star into a virtual coma, one had little more to do than steal up behind him and ominously mutter the magic words, "Quist and Bromwich."

For those Australian Davis Cup stalwarts, Jack Bromich and Adrian Quist, stand out over the rest of the field that will battle for the title won last year by Don Budge, now turned pro, and Gene Mako.

The Aussies gained the final last year, only to be beaten by Budge and Mako, but later beat the champions in Davis Cup play.

Chief hopes to prevent the championship trophy from going abroad for the second time in three years—the Germans, Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Henner Henkel, won in 1937—were America's Wimbledon champions, Bobby Riggs and Elwood Cooke, and the youthful pair that defeated them at Southampton last week, Frankie Parker and Don McNeill.

There, however, if form holds true, they will oppose the second seeded foreign team, Harry Hopman, Australian team captain, and Jack Crawford. Some of the experts pick Hopman and Crawford to beat their teammates in this part of the belt.

AUSTRALIANS WIN 'FORMALITY' PLAY

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Australia's squad disposed of the "formality" matches in the Davis Cup American-zone finals with Cuba today in the same efficient manner that characterized their earlier play, and then headed for Brookline, Mass., and the National Doubles championships.

Adrian Quist and John Bromwich, who swept through the first day's singles and the series-clinching doubles yesterday without dropping a set, showed no mercy as they defeated their Cuban opponents in the final singles matches which didn't mean anything anyway.

Quist overwhelmed Jose Aguero, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0, while a lethargic Bromwich put on pressure only when needed in turning back Ricardo Morales, 8-6, 8-6, 6-1.

The victory in the American-zone finals qualifies the Aussies to meet Yugoslavia in the inter-zone finals August 24-26 at Brookline. The victor in that series meets the American team in the challenge round early next month.

SARAZEN FORGES WAY TO FINAL OF DAPPER DAN OPEN

Turns In Three-Day Score Of 210, One Stroke Ahead Of Denny Shute

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Stocky little Gene Sarazen battered his way today into the final 18-hole round of the $10,000 72-hole Dapper Dan Open Golf tournament with a three-day total of 210, one stroke ahead of Denny Shute.

The 37-year-old veteran labored around the Wildwood Country club course under a broiling sun in a three over par 73, seven strokes above his course record-breaking 66 of yesterday.

Shute, the day's best bet to catch Sarazen, started out nicely and finished even par for the first nine but ran into trouble and took a 72 for a 54-hole total of 211.

A high cross wind baffled a field of the nation's best golfers and scores skyrocketed from the sub-par rounds of yesterday. Ralph Guldahl and Vic Ghezzi, husky Deal, N. J., pros, turned in the day's best cards of 69 while Eddie Oliver of Hornell, N. J., equaled par with a 70.

Guldahl's 69 pushed him into third place with 212, ahead of Johnny Bulla, who turned in a 73 for 215. At 216 were Byron Nelson, National Open champion, who went around with Sarazen in 73, Harold McSpaden, Ghezzi and Oliver.

Tomorrow the contestants will shoot for the $2,500 first prize money, winding up the four-day medal play tournament in which 18 holes were played each day.

CUBS BEAT BUCS

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs rallied for four runs in the eighth inning Saturday to defeat Pittsburgh again, 6 to 4, and make Clay Bryant's return to the mound after three months absence a statistical as well as clinical success.

Pitching for the first time since he developed a sore arm against the New York Giants May 7, Bryant, who won 19 games last year, yielded 12 hits, including Ray Mueller's two-run homer, but usually was effective with men on bases.

He received credit for his season's second victory as against one defeat.

NEW ORLEANS ZATARIANS WIN STATE LEGION TITLE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The New Orleans Zatarains won the Louisiana American Legion junior baseball championship today by downing the Opelousas Warriors 18 to 5, for the second straight victory.

The victory qualified the team for the 12th regional series to be played here at Pelican stadium Monday and Tuesday. Teams from Little Rock, Ark., Austin, Tex., and Jackson, Miss., also will compete. The three out-of-state teams arrive tomorrow.

The Zatarains smacked four Opelousas pitchers for 19 hits and brought the state championship to New Orleans for the twelfth straight year. They won the opening game of the two-of-three series Thursday night, 13 to 3.

DAHLGREN CLOUTS 2 HOMERS, GORDON BLASTS HIS 18TH

Champs Tally Six Times Off Joyce In Second Frame, Get Five More In Seventh

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Maybe to prove they aren't slipping, the world champion Yankees staged two big innings today instead of one as they went about crushing the Athletics, 18 to 4.

Babe Dahlgren hit two home runs, the second with the bases loaded, and Joe (Flash) Gordon notched his 18th to lead the triumphant New York parade.

In the second inning the Yankees tallied six times off Bob Joyce, who was left in the box until he was literally knocked out. A line drive from the bat of Charley Keller struck Joyce on the pitching hand, fracturing the thumb, and losing him to the team for the rest of the year.

Then in the seventh the champions got five runs, four of them on Dahlgren's second homer.

BROWNS CLUB TIGERS

DETROIT, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Three former Tigers plagued their old mates today as the St. Louis Browns clubbed four Detroit hurlers 17 to 3.

Vernon Kennedy, Chet Laabs and Mark Christman, who went to the mound city in the deal that gave Buck Newsom to the Bengals, practically won the game themselves.

Kennedy pitched the entire game, allowing eight hits. He scored four runs and batted in another. Laabs contributed two homers and two singles accounting for four more runs. Kennedy, Laabs and Christman together produced half of the Brownies' 16 safeties.

Freddy Hutchinson, on his 20th birthday, started on the hill for the Tigers, was routed by an eight-run barrage in the third and was charged with the loss.

TRIBE TRIMS CHISOX

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians—for the third straight time—came from behind today to win 3 to 2, and rout the Chicago White Sox from third place.

The Indians were held hitless by bespectacled Pitcher Bill Dietrich for six innings but Clint Brown, relieving him in the ninth with the Sox leading 2 to 1, kicked the game away by allowing two hits and a walk.

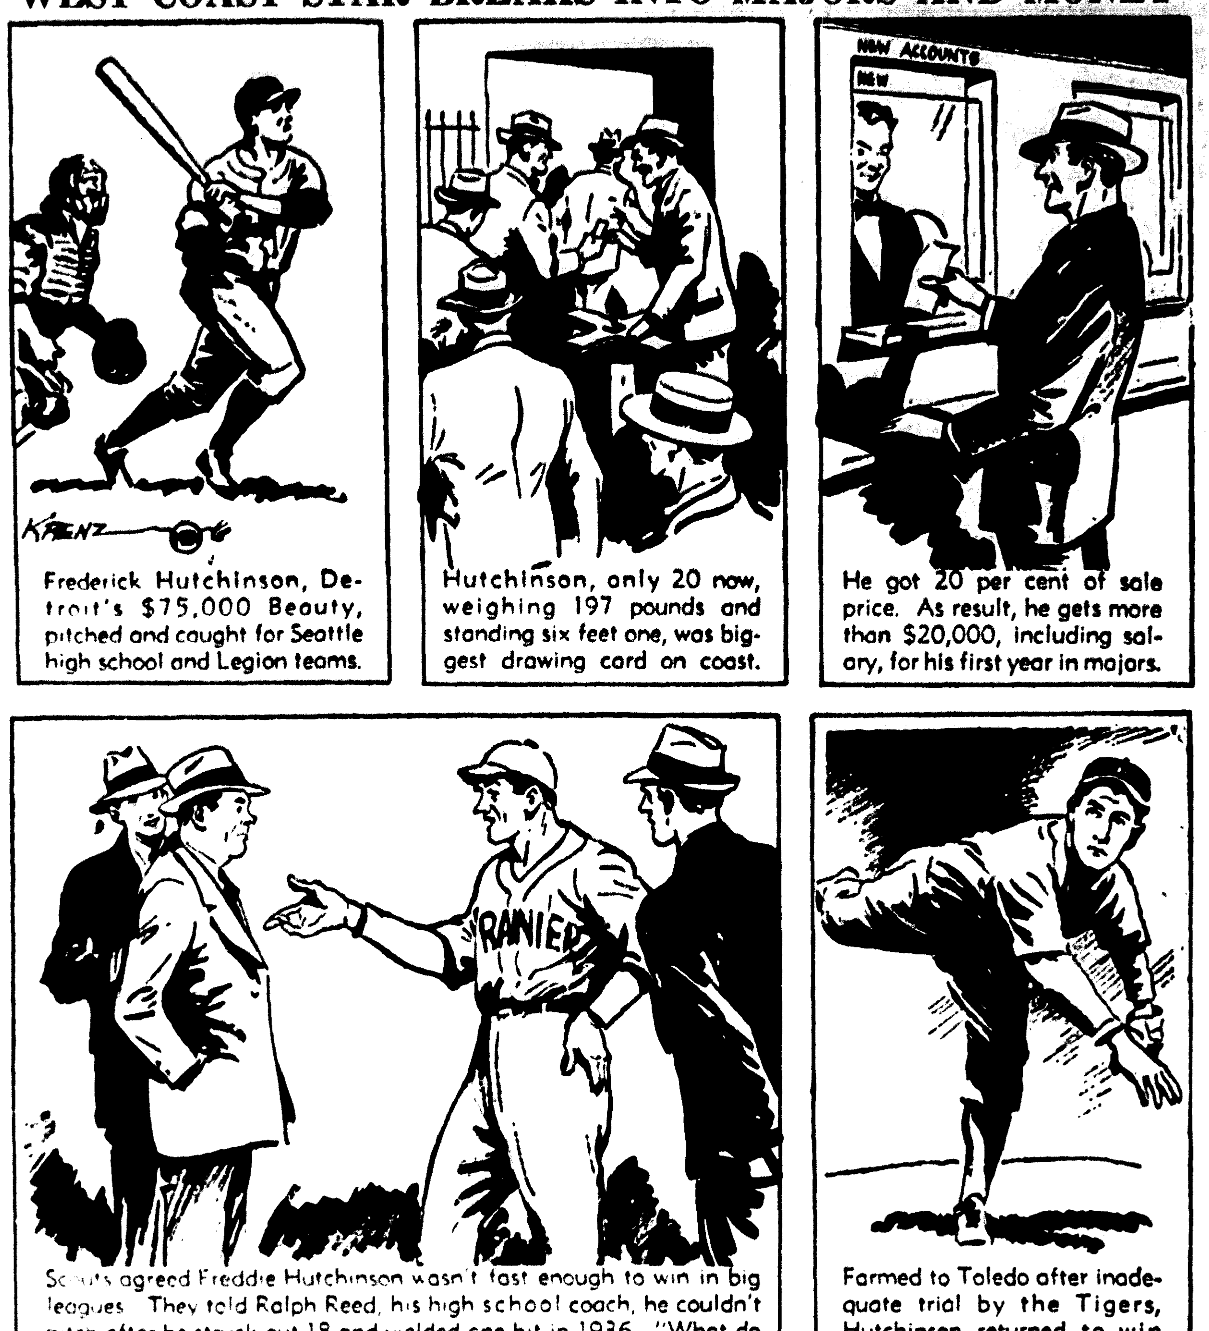
WEST COAST STAR BREAKS INTO MAJORS AND MONEY



Frederick Hutchinson, Detroit's $75,000 Beauty, pitched and caught for Seattle high school and Legion teams.

Hutchinson, only 20 now, weighing 197 pounds and standing six feet one, was biggest drawing card on coast.

He got 20 per cent of sale price. As result, he gets more than $20,000, including salary, for his first year in majors.

Scouts agreed Freddie Hutchinson wasn't fast enough to win in big leagues. They told Ralph Reed, his high school coach, he couldn't pitch after he struck out 18 and yielded one hit in 1936. "What do you want him to do," asked Reed, "tap dance on his hands?"

Farmed to Toledo after inadequate trial by the Tigers, Hutchinson returned to win and fulfill AA league promise.

TULANE MENTOR PICKS ALABAMA

Joins By-Play Of Southeastern Grid Loop; Moans Over Greenies' Chances

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Head Coach Lowell "Red" Dawson of Tulane joined the annual diplomatic by-play of the Southeastern conference today by picking Alabama to finish on top in the coming Southeastern conference football season.

Since Coach Boy Neyland of Tennessee also has chosen Alabama and Coach Frank Thomas of Alabama has picked Tennessee and Tulane, Dawson's selections fall right in line with the accepted policy of putting one's apparently strongest opponent on the spot.

He further conformed to tradition by low-rating his own team:

"Us for the championship? Why, that's a joke. We don't figure to be nearly as strong as these other teams."

His "pitiful" squad starts practice September 1 with 24 letter men returning, the largest number in Tulane history; a bunch of sophomores who last year formed the best freshmen team the school has ever had; and a tentative first line averaging 209 pounds.

Dawson said today that everybody had got past eligibility danger and 56 experienced players, an unusually large number for Tulane, would report September 1.

Asked if such reports did not belie his gloom, Dawson moaned:

"Whew, we have a tough schedule this year. Not many breathers to look forward to. Clemson to L. S. U. (first and last games on schedule) it's nothing but Tigers, Rams, Lions and Red Elephants. What a nightmare!"

They say Bill Terry really made a speech when Burgess Whitehead went on the air the other night and predicted the Reds will win the pennant. . . . The Baer family is in a huddle on Max's future as a boxer—also on Buddy Baer vs. Jack Roper.

Going and coming:
The Redlegs get it fore and aft.
First it's Goodman, then it's Craft.

Coach Jack Meagher of Auburn went to Boston for a visit and came back with a broad "A" accent. . . . Note to Lynn Waldorf (on tour): Bill De Correvont's scholastic average is B-plus, so stop worrying. . . . Henny Andrews, manager of Patsy Perrone, has been named president of the New York Boxing Managers' association. His platform is bigger and better guarantees. . . . Detroit papers say Schoolboy Rowe's high hard pitch is zipping again.

Rumor foundry: New York Post—Mayor Hague has a third interest in the Jersey City Giants.

CADDO AMATEUR BOXERS TO MEET MEMPHIS TEAM

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Shreveport's crack amateur boxing team, winner over several southern glove squads, will swap blows with a Memphis aggregation here Wednesday night.

Five of the Shreveport team members are enlisted men from Barksdale field, army air center. Captain Frank Armstrong will fly the soldiers here Wednesday in an army bomber. The remainder of the squad will travel by automobile.

The Louisianans have won over squads from Little Rock and Clarksville, Ark., Fort Worth and Dallas, Tex., and lost a one match decision to the Kansas City Golden Glove team.

MIZE TAKES OVER BATTING LEAD OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

Displaces Arnovich With .346; DiMaggio Retains Margin In American

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Johnny Mize pushed his imposing hulk into the forefront of the major league batting race this week by taking over the National league lead from Morrie Arnovich of the Phillies.

The St. Louis Cardinals' slugger was rewarded for his persistent climb when Arnovich slumped from .351 to .344 and out of the senior circuit's hitting lead for the first time in two months.

While other averages were slithering all around, Mize managed to increase his own percentage a notch from .345 to .346.

Joe DiMaggio retained the American league lead by an uncontested margin but faltered seven points to .392. The week's biggest gain among the leaders in either league was that of Bob Johnson of the Philadelphia Athletics in elevating his average from .333 to .351.

RIGGS TROUNCES HECHT TO ENTER FINAL NET PLAY

Defending Champ Follows Parker Into Title Round Of Grass Court Meet

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Playing with a careless ease, Bobby Riggs, the defending champion, followed Frankie Parker into the final round of the Men's Eastern Grass Court championships today by defeating Ladislav Hecht, 7-5, 10-8, 6-4.

Hecht himself was an opponent worthy of any champion, but Riggs was just a little superior in every department of the game and vastly better at net play. Hecht, except in the latter stages, was totally inept in forecourt.

Riggs never really seemed to extend himself, but whenever a little extra drive was needed the Wimbledon champion was right there with it. Hecht overcame a 5-2 deficit in the first set by winning three successive games, but Riggs captured the next two with the loss of only one point, giving him the set.

In the second set, Hecht led at 5-3, but Riggs quickly erased the advantage and went into a 6-5 edge. They held service until the eighteenth game, when Hecht was cracked again.

In the final set, Riggs built up a 4-2 advantage. Hecht rallied to 4-4. Again Riggs held the plucky little Czech to only one point as he ran off with the next two games and the match.

The women's doubles championship was taken by the defending team, Alice Marble, of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, of Brookline, Mass. They conquered Dorothy May Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif., and Mary Arnold, of Los Angeles, 6-4, 7-5.

Riggs and Elwood T. Cooke of Portland, Ore., gained the finals of men's doubles by defeating the national intercollegiate champions, Doug Imhoff and Bob Peacock of Laguna Beach, Calif., 4-6, 8-6, 6-3, 12-10. Their opponents in the title round tomorrow will be Gene Mako, Los Angeles, and Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, who won from Dave Freeman of Pasadena, Calif., and Ted Schroeder of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-4, 8-10, 6-4.

DODGERS DEFEAT BEES

BROOKLYN, Aug. 12.—(AP)—With ome runs by Dolph Camilli and Babe Phelps setting the pace, the Brook- yn Dodgers unleashed a 13-hit attack gainst Ted Posedel and Milt Shof- ner Saturday to beat the Boston ees 10 to 3.

The victory lifted Brooklyn into place.

Brooklyn bunched six of its runs in the third, chasing Posedel. Dixie Walker singled with the bases loaded and Ernie Koy doubled two runs home to feature the rally. Thereafter the Dodgers were able to coast on Forrest Pressnell's six-hit pitching.

CUBS BEAT BUCS

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs rallied for four runs in the eighth inning Saturday to defeat Pittsburgh again, 6 to 4, and make Clay Bryant's return to the mound after three months' absence a statistical as well as clinical success.

Pitching for the first time since he developed a sore arm against the New York Giants May 7, Bryant, who won 19 games last year, yielded 13 hits, including Ray Mueller's two-run homer, but usually was effective with men on bases.

He received credit for his season's second victory as against one defeat.

NEW ORLEANS ZATARIANS WIN STATE LEGION TITLE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The New Orleans Zatarains won the Louisiana American Legion junior baseball championship today by downing the Opelousas Warriors 18 to 5, for the second straight victory.

The victory qualified the team for the 12th regional series to be played here at Pelican stadium Monday and Tuesday. Teams from Little Rock, Ark., Austin, Tex., and Jackson, Miss., also will compete. The three out-of-state teams arrive tomorrow.

The Zatarains smacked four Opelousas pitchers for 19 hits and brought the state championship to New Orleans for the twelfth straight year. They won the opening game of the two-of-three series Thursday night, 13 to 3.

Yanks Stage Two Big Innings To Crush Athletics, 18-4

DAHLGREN CLOUTS 2 HOMERS, GORDON BLASTS HIS 18TH

Champs Tally Six Times Off Joyce In Second Frame, Get Five More In Seventh

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Maybe to prove they aren't slipping, the world champion Yankees staged two big innings today instead of one as they went about crushing the Athletics, 18 to 4.

Babe Dahlgren hit two home runs, the second with the bases loaded, and Joe (Flash) Gordon notched his 18th to lead the triumphant New York parade.

In the second inning the Yankees tallied six times off Bob Joyce, who was left in the box until he was literally knocked out. A line drive from the bat of Charley Keller struck Joyce on the pitching hand, fracturing the thumb, and losing him to the team for the rest of the year.

Then in the seventh the champions got five runs, four of them on Dahlgren's second homer.

BROWNS CLUB TIGERS

DETROIT, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Three former Tigers plagued their old mates today as the St. Louis Browns clubbed four Detroit hurlers 17 to 3.

Vernon Kennedy, Chet Laabs and Mark Christman, who went to the mound city in the deal that gave Buck Newsom to the Bengals, practically won the game themselves.

Kennedy pitched the entire game, allowing eight hits. He scored four runs and batted in another. Laabs contributed two homers and two singles, accounting for four more runs. Kennedy, Laabs and Christman together produced half of the Brownies' 16 safeties.

Freddy Hutchinson, on his 20th birthday, started on the hill for the Tigers, was routed by an eight-run barrage in the third and was charged with the loss.

TRIBE TRIMS CHISOX

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians—for the third straight time—came from behind today to win 3 to 2, and rout the Chicago White Sox from third place.

The Indians were held hitless by bespectacled Pitcher Bill Dietrich for six innings but Clint Brown, relieving him in the ninth with the Sox leading 2 to 1, kicked the game away by allowing two hits and a walk.

RED SOX TROUNCE NATS

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Bringing the fast-flying Washington squad to an abrupt halt with a barrage of 16 hits, the Boston Red Sox won their sixth straight game Saturday by giving the Senators a 9 to 5 trouncing.

Bobby Doerr, with two doubles and a single, and Teddy Williams, with two doubles, led the hitting attack which saw the Sox nick starting Pitcher Joe Krakauskas for 10 safeties and Relief Hurler Walter Masterson for six.

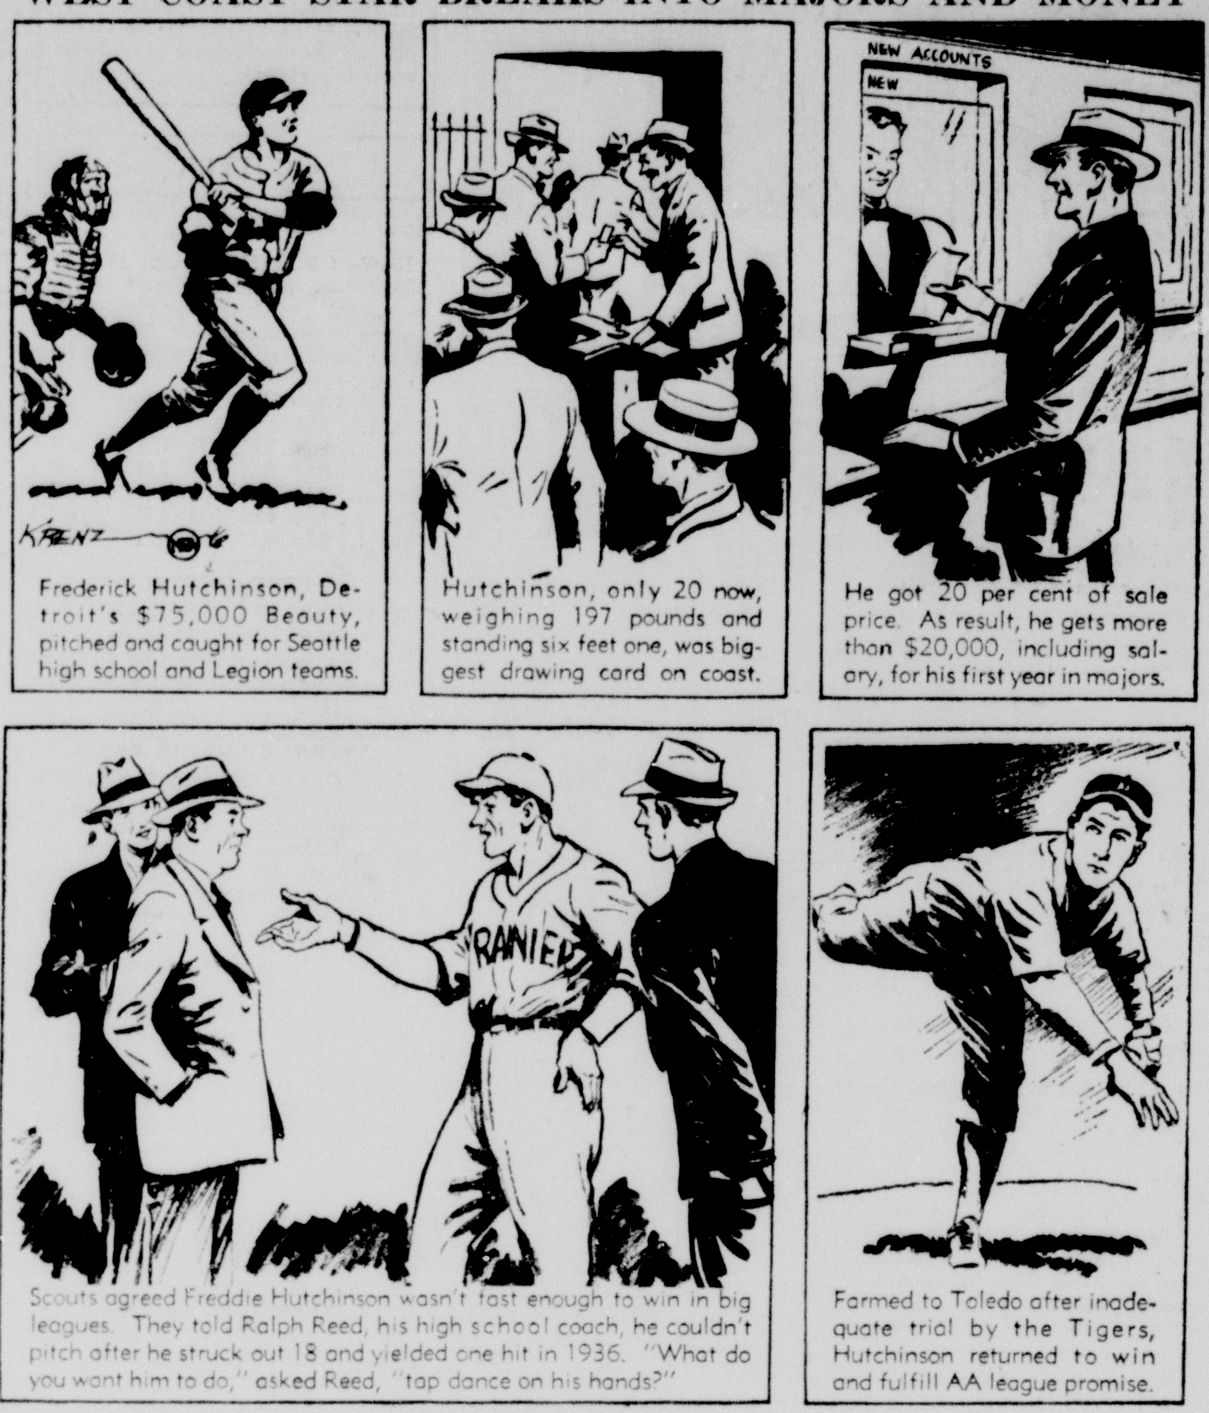
RELEASE KING; SIGN WAGNER

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Manager George Toporcer of the Little Rock Travelers announced today the release of Outfielder Hal King and the signing as a free agent of Pitcher Frank Wagner, a right-hander, who won one and lost four with Shreveport this season.

WEST COAST STAR BREAKS INTO MAJORS AND MONEY



Frederick Hutchinson, Detroit's $75,000 Beauty, pitched and caught for Seattle high school and Legion teams.

Hutchinson, only 20 now, weighing 197 pounds and standing six feet one, was biggest drawing card on coast.

He got 20 per cent of sale price. As result, he gets more than $20,000, including salary, for his first year in majors.

Scouts agreed Freddie Hutchinson wasn't fast enough to win in big leagues. They told Ralph Reed, his high school coach, he couldn't pitch after he struck out 18 and yielded one hit in 1936. "What do you want him to do," asked Reed, "tap dance on his hands?"

Farmed to Toledo after inadequate trial by the Tigers, Hutchinson returned to win and fulfill AA league promise.

TULANE MENTOR PICKS ALABAMA

Joins By-Play Of Southeastern Grid Loop; Moans Over Greenies' Chances

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Head Coach Lowell "Red" Dawson of Tulane joined the annual diplomatic by-play of the Southeastern conference today by picking Alabama to finish on top in the coming Southeastern conference football season.

Since Coach Boy Neyland of Tennessee also has chosen Alabama and Coach Frank Thomas of Alabama has picked Tennessee and Tulane, Dawson's selections fall right in line with the accepted policy of putting one's apparently strongest opponent on the spot.

He further conformed to tradition by low-rating his own team:

"Us for the championship? Why, that's a joke. We don't figure to be nearly as strong as these other teams."

His "pitiful" squad starts practice September 1 with 24 letter men returning, the largest number in Tulane history; a bunch of sophomores who last year formed the best freshmen team the school has ever had; and a tentative first line averaging 209 pounds.

Dawson said today that everybody had got past eligibility danger and 56 experienced players, an unusually large number for Tulane, would report September 1.

Asked if such reports did not belie his gloom, Dawson moaned:

"Whew, we have a tough schedule this year. Not many breathers to look forward to. Clemson to L. S. U. (first and last games on schedule) it's nothing but Tigers, Rams, Lions and Red Elephants. What a nightmare!"

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Week's wash: Helen Wills Moody's new detective thriller has been tabbed grade A by the book critics. (No ma'am, no charge for the ad.) . . . Lew Burston, N. Y., fight manager, is dickering for the contract of Matt Raymond (Ray Mathulewicz), former Duke heavyweight. . . . They say Bill Terry really made a speech when Burgess Whitehead went on the air the other night and predicted the Reds will win the pennant. . . . The Baer family is in a huddle on Max's future as a boxer—also on Buddy Baer vs. Jark Roper.

Going and coming:
The Redlegs get it fore and aft.
First it's Goodman, then it's Craft.

Coach Jack Meagher of Auburn went to Boston for a visit and came back with a broad "A" accent. . . . Note to Lynn Waldorf (on tour): Bill De Correvont's scholastic average is B-plus, so stop worrying. . . . Henny Andrews, manager of Patsy Perrone, has been named president of the New York Boxing Managers' association. His platform is bigger and better guarantees. . . . Detroit papers say Schoolboy Rowe's high hard pitch is zipping again.

Rumor foundry: New York Post—Mayor Hague has a third interest in the Jersey City Giants.

Insiders say Dr. L. M. Guilinger will weaken and sell Peter Astra, the Hambletonian winner, to a foreign syndicate. . . . What's this about the fotogs getting the old heave ho from the tennis brass hats at Rye Friday? . . . The day after he signed to fight Billy Conn in Pittsburgh, Melio Bettina got a $10,000 bid to meet Nathan Mann in New Haven. . . . The New Orleans Pelicans are on the market all right, but the price is too stiff for either Terry or the Giants.

Today's guest star: Zipp Newman, Birmingham (Ala.) News: "Alabama can send Holt Rast, the end, into the air with supreme confidence this year. . . . They will have football's No. 1 aviator for a ticket. . . . Rast has licenses to fly both land and sea planes with 50 hours of solo flying to his credit."

CADDO AMATEUR BOXERS TO MEET MEMPHIS TEAM

Five of the Shreveport team members are enlisted men from Barksdale field, army air center. Captain Frank Armstrong will fly the soldiers here Wednesday in an army bomber. The remainder of the squad will travel by automobile.

The Louisianans have won over squads from Little Rock and Clarksville, Ark., Fort Worth and Dallas, Tex., and lost a one match decision to the Kansas City Golden Glove team.

MIZE TAKES OVER BATTING LEAD OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

Displaces Arnovich With .346; DiMaggio Retains Margin In American

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Johnny Mize pushed his imposing hulk into the forefront of the major league batting race this week by taking over the National league lead from Morrie Arnovich of the Phillies.

The St. Louis Cardinals' slugger was rewarded for his persistent climb when Arnovich slumped from .351 to .344 and out of the senior circuit's hitting lead for the first time in two months.

While other averages were slithering all around, Mize managed to increase his own percentage a notch from .345 to .346.

Joe DiMaggio retained the American league lead by an uncontested margin but faltered seven points to .392. The week's biggest gain among the leaders in either league was that of Bob Johnson of the Philadelphia Athletics in elevating his average from .333 to .351.

RIGGS TROUNCES HECHT TO ENTER FINAL NET PLAY

Defending Champ Follows Parker Into Title Round Of Grass Court Meet

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Playing with a careless ease, Bobby Riggs, the defending champion, followed Frankie Parker into the final round of the Men's Eastern Grass Court championships today by defeating Ladislav Hecht, 7-5, 10-8, 6-4.

Hecht himself was an opponent worthy of any champion, but Riggs was just a little superior in every department of the game and vastly better at net play. Hecht, except in the latter stages, was totally inept in forecourt.

Riggs never really seemed to extend himself, but whenever a little extra drive was needed the Wimbledon champion was right there with it. Hecht overcame a 5-2 deficit in the first set by winning three successive games, but Riggs captured the next two with the loss of only one point, giving him the set.

In the second set, Hecht led at 5-3, but Riggs quickly erased the advantage and went into a 6-5 edge. They held service until the eighteenth game, when Hecht was cracked again.

In the final set, Riggs built up a 4-2 advantage. Hecht rallied to 4-4. Again Riggs held the plucky little Czech to only one point as he ran off with the next two games and the match.

The women's doubles championship was taken by the defending team, Alice Marble, of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, of Brookline, Mass. They conquered Dorothy May Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif., and Mary Arnold, of Los Angeles, 6-4, 7-5.

Riggs and Elwood T. Cooke of Portland, Ore., gained the finals of men's doubles by defeating the national intercollegiate champions, Doug Imhoff and Bob Peacock of Laguna Beach, Calif., 4-6, 8-6, 6-3, 12-10. Their opponents in the title round tomorrow will be Gene Mako, Los Angeles, and Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, who won from Dave Freeman of Pasadena, Calif., and Ted Schroeder of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-4, 8-10, 6-4.

69 COLLEGE GRIDSTERS PREP FOR CHARITY TILT

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—(AP)—Sixty-nine college football players gathered at Northwestern university today for their first workout in preparation for their game with the New York Giants, professional champions, in Soldier field, the night of August 30.

Four members of the coaching staff—Head Coach Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, Edward (Slip) Madigan of St. Mary's, Carl Snavely of Cornell and Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin—were on hand for the opening drill. The other member of the staff, Bob Neyland of Tennessee, will arrive next Tuesday, being delayed by a previous commitment at a southern coaching school.

The players and coaches were selected in a coast-to-coast poll of football fans.

Oil And Gas News

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12—(AP)—Issuance of 42 drilling permits and completion of 20 oil wells were announced today in the weekly report of the Louisiana conservation department.

The wells whose completions dated from July 20 through August 2 had a total daily production of 7,294.36 barrels of oil.

The biggest producer reported was that of the Texas company's Noel B-15 in Caddo parish with a daily production of 927 barrels.

Of the 42 permits issued, nine went to William Helis, who now is in Greece exploring for oil.

While Senator Allen J. Ellender, Governor Earl K. Long and Conservation Commissioner Ernest S. Clements conferred lengthily in the commissioner's office in the conservation department Friday, the commissioner at the conclusion of the conference said he had no announcement to make as to whether there would be any changes in proration orders for different fields in the state.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—(AP)—The stock market had plenty of rallying fuel today, but buying ignition failed to catch until the final part of the brief session when selected issues were given a quiet push for gains of fractions to a point or so.

The list pointed selectively upward at the start, then backed away. While minus signs were to be seen here and there at the close, advances predominated in virtually all departments.

Attendance in boardrooms was believed around the smallest of the year to date. Transfers for the two hours approximated 250,000 shares.

Those traders who put in an appearance found business news to their liking, but most held commitments at a minimum. The principal explanation for the early indifference was the inclination to keep the speculative slate fairly clean pending outcome of the Italian-German conferences now under way. As one broker put it, customers were still foreign-minded almost to the exclusion of domestic happenings.

Suspension of the international banking firm of Mendelssohn and company at Amsterdam, blamed for yesterday's late selling, was believed to have faded as a market factor. that, while the Grand Jury is in session, no one will tell anything?

Even our big clock on the corner has been "acting up" lately and refuses to tell the correct time.

But—clock or no clock—we know it's hot summer time (on the outside)—time to "farm" the dog out with your neighbor—time to bring your family pewter down to our vaults for safekeeping—time to fill your pockets with Travel Checks—time to crank the kids and call the car—or sumpin'—time to go on that vacation.

RESUME SOFTBALL PLAYOFFS MONDAY

Three Games Scheduled In Championship Series Of Two Local Leagues

Playoff games in both of Monroe's softball loops will be resumed here tomorrow. The games will start shortly after 5:15 o'clock.

Twilight league title contenders, Woodmen of the World and Independents, will clash tomorrow afternoon on the Gassers' diamond in the second game of a series to decide which club will meet United Gas in the championship series. United Gas eliminated the Sunshine Cleaners last week. The Woodmen have played only one game of the series with the Independents, winning the engagement, 5 to 3.

Second games of the City league's preliminary playoffs will also be played tomorrow afternoon. Crawford's Service, favorite to win the junior loop crown, will meet Seven-Up's Bottlers on the Lida Benton diamond; and United Gas will tangle with Cooperative Dairy on the Barkdull Faulk diamond.

Crawford's Service and Cooperative Dairy won the initial games of the playoff last Wednesday. The first teams to win two games will go into a second three-game series for the league championship.

At the close of the title games in each league the Twilight title holder and the City champions will meet in a series for the softball championship of Monroe and West Monroe.

69 COLLEGE GRIDSTERS PREP FOR CHARITY TILT

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Sixty-nine college football players gathered at Northwestern university today for their first workout in preparation for their game with the New York Giants, professional champions, in Soldier field, the night of August 30.

Four members of the coaching staff—Head Coach Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, Edward (Slip) Madigan of St. Mary's, Carl Snavely of Cornell and Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin—were on hand for the opening drill. The other member of the staff, Bob Neyland of Tennessee, will arrive next Tuesday, being delayed by a previous commitment at a southern coaching school.

The players and coaches were selected in a coast-to-coast poll of football fans.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A moderate buying flurry in the closing minutes of trade today carried wheat prices up about a cent from early lows to net gains of 1-4 to 5-8 cent. The close was at the full advance.

Corn prices, which held firm throughout the session, also advanced in the final minutes to finish almost a cent higher.

Wheat closed 1-4 to 5-8 up, September 64 5-8 to 3-4, December 64 1-2 to 5-8; corn 3-8 to 7-8 higher, September 43 3-4 to 7-8, December 42 3-4 to 7-8, and oats 1-4 to 3-8 up.

Weakness at Winnipeg, where prices were down more than a cent at times and closed 1-2 to 3-4 lower, affected the market here earlier in the session.

Oil And Gas News

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Issuance of 42 drilling permits and completion of 20 oil wells were announced today in the weekly report of the Louisiana conservation department.

The wells whose completions dated from July 20 through August 2, had a total daily production of 7,294.36 barrels of oil.

The biggest producer reported was that of the Texas company's Noel B-15 in Caddo parish with a daily production of 927 barrels.

Of the 42 permits issued, nine went to William Helis, who now is in Greece exploring for oil.

While Senator Allen J. Ellender, Governor Earl K. Long and Conservation Commissioner Ernest S. Clements conferred lengthily in the commissioner's office in the conservation department Friday, the commissioner at the conclusion of the conference said he had no announcement to make as to whether there would be any changes in proration orders for different fields in the state.

Lafitte field, Jefferson parish, the Texas company, Lle-Lafitte No. 13, 450 barrels through 1-4-inch choke.

Eola field, Avoyelles parish, W. C. Feazel, Keller Community No. 1, 674.76 barrels through 1-4-inch choke.

Eola field, Avoyelles parish, Pomo Petroleum company, Sentell No. 2, 780 barrels through 1-4-inch choke.

Evangeline field, Acadia parish, Stanolind Oil and Gas company, Crowley Oil and Mineral company, No. 114, 364 barrels through 1-4-inch choke.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The stock market had plenty of rallying fuel today, but buying ignition failed to catch until the final part of the brief session when selected issues were given a quiet push for gains of fractions to a point or so.

The list pointed selectively upward at the start, then backed away. While minus signs were to be seen here and there at the close, advances predominated in virtually all departments.

Attendance in boardrooms was believed around the smallest of the year to date. Transfers for the two hours approximated 250,000 shares.

Those traders who put in an appearance found business news to their liking, but most held commitments at a minimum. The principal explanation for the early indifference was the inclination to keep the speculative slate fairly clean pending outcome of the Italian-German conferences now under way. As one broker put it, customers were still "foreign-minded" almost to the exclusion of domestic happenings.

Suspension of the international banking firm of Mendelssohn and company, at Amsterdam, blamed for yesterday's late selling, was believed to have faded as a market factor. At least commission houses reported little or no offerings from the Netherlands. European markets were closed, with Paris shut down until next Wednesday for the Assumption holidays.

Steels steadied after early hesitancy as mill operations at Pittsburgh were expected to mount 3.2 points to 55.2 per cent of capacity, a new peak since October, 1937. It was also predicted the Chicago district would hit a new high for the year.

Had you noticed that, while the Grand Jury is in session, no one will tell anything?

Even our big clock on the corner has been "acting up" lately and refuses to tell the correct time.

But—clock or no clock—we know it's hot summer time (on the outside)—time to "farm" the dog out with your neighbor—time to bring your family pewter down to our vaults for safekeeping—time to fill your pockets with Travel Checks—time to crank the kids and call the car—or sumpin'—time to go on that vacation.

Central Savings Bank & Trust Co.

"as time goes —" (Yes, we hope to have the clock fixed in a day or so. Apropos of the time, there seems to be a "short" in the wiring, which we are "investigating.")

Grayson

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Eglin, Bill Eglin, Mrs. J. C. Stearnes and O'Nita Stearnes are spending their vacation at Eureka Springs and other points in the Ozarks.

Mrs. W. R. Humphries, Mrs. J. J. McKeithen and daughters JanEtte and DeEtte, recently visited in Shreveport. Mrs. McKeithen's niece, Harriet Eglin, accompanied them home for a visit of several weeks with relatives here.

Mr. A. D. Fore and children attended a reunion of Mr. Fore's brothers and sisters at their old home in Newton, Miss.

Mrs. Harold Smith has returned from West Monroe, where she has been with her father, who has been critically ill.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Johnston visited Mrs. Johnston's sister, Mrs. Robert May, in Forest. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Johnston's mother, Mrs. W. O. McKeithen, and Mary Elizabeth Johnston who had been visiting there for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Eglin visited for a few days in Alexandria with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eglin.

Ray Love of Baton Rouge has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Love.

Mrs. Frank Robinson of Downsville, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKeithen, is now in Winnsboro to be with her cousin, Bish Monroe, who was seriously injured in a recent accident.

Mrs. Ralph Ford of Alexandria was a recent visitor with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Cloyd.

Mrs. Floyd Johnston entertained at a pre-nuptial party at her home in Grayson complimentary to her sister, Miss Marie Mouser, whose marriage to Mr. Clyde Stallcup of Olla will take place in Calhoun at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Mouser, on August 22.

Miss Mouser has taught home economics in the Grayson high school for the last two years and has lived in Caldwell parish for several years. Mr. Stallcup was a member of the Columbia high school faculty last year.

Upon arrival, the guests were presented with monogrammed lace doilies and accessories for fashioning evening hats. Later when these were assembled they revealed the name of the bride and groom-elect and the date of their marriage.

The wedding theme was carried out in all the games and contests introduced throughout the evening.

At the conclusion of the entertainment features a refreshment course was served to the following: Misses Marie Mouser, Eunice Laird, Ludie Ferguson, Clyde and Melva Biggs, Agatha Thomas and Mesdames T. L. Johnston, F. G. Johnston, W. H. Miller, Mecom Brown, Jettie Hall, D. L. Hill, J. C. Hines, W. R. Humphries, C. M. Mouser, W. M. Elliott, Vinson Mouser, Lucille Wooldridge, Henley Biggs, J. J. At the I. C. C. it was said the investigation would not interfere in any way with a proceeding in which southern governors asked reduction of north-bound rates on a list of manufactured articles of southern origin. One official said a decision was expected in the early fall.

SQUIRREL LOSES DEFECTIVE TEETH

"Mickey" won't be able to crack hickory nuts and pecans any longer, and he may have to go on a diet of bread and fruits unless firemen at the No. 1 fire station here are detailed to crack Mickey's nuts for him.

The reason—Mickey has had his teeth pulled.

Firemen are boasting that Mickey is probably the first fox squirrel ever to pay a dentist a business visit, and opined that Mickey was explaining the operation to other squirrels in his cage while he munched soft bread late yesterday.

Mickey, one of several squirrels living lives of ease at the fire station, is a native of Texas, and has made his headquarters here only about three months.

But two of Mickey's teeth, the most business-like ones, were defective as the result of an injury. One tooth protruded outward, and the other had been twisted inward and was becoming embedded in his gums.

Mickey's toothache was also bothering the firemen until Captain Tom Dupree and Fireman Dewey Mobley decided a dentist was what Mickey needed. The squirrel objected to the operation, as evidenced by the claw marks on Fireman Mobley's hands, but it was "all over in no time," and Mickey is resting well.

DR. GRAVES SELLS FIRST COTTON BALE IN PARISH

COLUMBIA, La., Aug. 12.—(Special)—The first bale of cotton produced and ginned in Caldwell parish this year was purchased Friday by George Rogers, local wholesale grocer and cotton buyer, from Dr. J. Q. Graves of Monroe. Weighing 582 pounds, the bale sold for 13.1 cents per pound.

The bale was raised on Dr. Graves' plantation near here and was ginned by C. C. Bridger, local ginner.

The schooner, "Fannie E. Wolston," abandoned in 1891, still was afloat in 1894, and had drifted 7,000 miles of the Atlantic ocean.

SOUTHERN SOLONS STILL QUARRELING

First Post-Adjournment Week Fails To Reconcile Differences

By Ben Grant

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Events of the first post-adjournment week failed to soften the southern Democratic quarrel which late-session issues brought to boiling point.

Despite the conciliatory speech of Majority Leader Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, when the senate adjourned in a huff last Saturday, public utterances this week only emphasized the breach between opposing factions of the south's almost solidly Democratic representation.

It was congress' rejection of several of those "ideas" that moved Pepper a few days earlier to charge "an unholy alliance" in and out of congress had attempted to sabotage the Roosevelt program.

The speech angered administration critics, notably Senators George, Democrat, Georgia and Bailey, Democrat, North Carolina. The latter termed it "cowardly and mendacious."

As a parting shot before leaving for his Georgia home, George declared determined opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt and demanded a "prompt settlement" of the issue.

He said one of the session's major accomplishments was the rejection of the president's lending bill. He also lauded the senate foreign relations committee for sidetracking the administration-requested repeal of the mandatory arms embargo.

Barkley, meanwhile, had served public notice the president did not intend to abandon either the neutrality act modification or the lending bill.

There were indications hereabouts of a campaign to bring the pressure of public opinion to bear upon senators and representatives who refused to support the administration program. Some saw Pepper's senate speech as the first blast of such a drive.

Senate economy advocates took sharp issue with the president's assertion Tuesday that a coalition of Republicans and Democrats had gambled with the nation's welfare. Two days later, Mr. Roosevelt told the Young Democrats' convention in a message that if the party insisted on nominating "conservative or lipservice candidates" in 1940, he would take no active part in "such an unfortunate suicide of the old Democratic party."

Both the senate and house wrote into the railroad bill provisions calling for I. C. C. investigations of rates on manufactured articles. But because differences between the senate and house on other sections of the bill could not be straightened out immediately, final action was postponed until next session.

Urged by the Southern Traffic league, the southern state commissioners, and some western interests, the I. C. C. announced three days before congress adjourned a general glass rate study would begin immediately. One of the principal advocates of this step, it was learned, was Commissioner Marion M. Caskie of Alabama.

The little church in which Florence Jane Morley and Dr. Charles Mosely were married last week is a picturesque little chapel in a grove of ancient pecan trees overlooking a broad expanse of the Gulf coast. Brides have entered its portals for hundreds of years and an atmosphere of peace and beauty have set this haven apart from the noise and turmoil of the everyday world.

Mrs. T. F. Causey brings interesting stories from California where she spent the month of July. While Monroe residents were sweltering beneath the July sun, Mrs. Causey related that fur coats and long sleeved woolen dresses were being worn in San Francisco. But after all, Mrs. Causey decided that Louisiana, with all its heat, excitement and what have you, is still a pretty nice place in which to live.

Have you ever heard of a lemon party? Maybe you've been fortunate or unfortunate enough to attend one recently. No, it is not a party where clever disguises of that most worthy fruit are served in tempting guile. A lemon party is one of these informal get-together affairs so popular with the younger set at the present moment. After a sufficient number of of the members of the gang have gathered together and perhaps enjoyed a more less argumentative game of bridge, the affair resolves itself into a lemon party.

Each guest is allowed the luxury of telling another guest his or her worst fault. Sounds gruesome doesn't it? So far no casualties have been reported and the wretched affairs still rank ace high.

The following clipping from a Monroe paper, published in 1898, yellowed with age, type barely visible, was recently brought into this office. The article is an account of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mills of Calhoun, and is written in the journalistic style of the nineties:

"September 25, 1898 at 4 o'clock p. m. Mr. Henry Mills and Miss Minerva Sanford were joined together in matrimony at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Asberry Sanford, Rev. James M. Griggs officiating.

"Long before the hour appointed for the joining of those two hearts together, quite a concourse of friends and relatives were congregated to witness the scene.

"May peace and happiness, contentment, joy and prosperity attend them

Wedding Solemnized At Church In Biloxi

Young Couple Will Be At Home In New Orleans After Honeymoon On Gulf Coast

A wedding of social prominence and beautiful in its simplicity was solemnized August 5, when Miss Florence Jane Morley, lovely daughter of Colonel and Mrs. John W. Summerlin of Rayville, and Dr. Charles Hodge Mosely, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Mosely of Monroe, were married in the First Presbyterian church, Biloxi, Miss.

Rev. John T. Gunn officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony before an altar banked with southern smilax and palms forming a cool green background for tall floor baskets of Picardy gladioli. Only members of the immediate families and intimate friends were present during the ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was given by Mrs. John Welch, organist, who played "Sweet Mystery of Life," "O Promise Me" and the processional and recessional wedding marches. During the ceremony she played "If God Left Only You."

The blonde loveliness of the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was accentuated by a frock of white crepe, a Lanvin model, fashioned with full pleated skirt. She wore accessories of white and a small white French chapeau, draped with a white chiffon veil. Her corsage was designed with orchids.

Her only attendant was Miss Dorothy Ann Verser of McGehee, Ark. Miss Verser wore a dusty pink crepe model with blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses and baby breath.

Mrs. Summerlin, the bride's mother, wore a smart model of black and white crepe. Dr. Homer Dupuy of New Orleans attended Dr. Mosely as best man. Ushers were Mr. Jack Mosely, brother of the groom, and Mr. Kirk Morley, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, Colonel and Mrs. Summerlin entertained with a wedding reception in their suite at the Hotel Buena Vista, where pink gladioli and summer flowers were banked in luxurious profusion.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calvert, Miss Cecille Gutierrez, New Orleans; Dr. B. J. LaCour, Dr. Hardy Bethea, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Hebert, Plaquemine; Mr. Thomas McClure, Alexandria.

Mrs. Mosely was graduated from Louisiana State university, where she was a member of the Chi Omega sorority. Her popularity at the university was evidenced in her election as president of the senior class of the teachers' college. On two occasions her picture was selected for appearance in the beauty section of the "Gumbo," Louisiana State university annual.

Dr. Mosely is a graduate of the medical school of L. S. U. and is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and the A. K. K. medical society. He is at present a resident surgeon at the Charity hospital in New Orleans.

Dr. Mosely and his bride will return to New Orleans, after their honeymoon, where they will make their home.

Lawn Party Given At Pilcher Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Pilcher entertained the members of the graduating class of the Pilcher beauty school with a lawn party at their new home on Stubbs avenue Monday evening. Japanese lanterns lighted the lawn and a long buffet table covered with a lace banquet cloth with centered with bowls of pink and blue asters.

Mrs. Pilcher was assisted by Miss Freda Black in serving fruit punch to the guests and individual cakes embossed with the names of the members of the graduating class.

An interesting program was presented during the evening, with Miss Annie Slocum presiding. Officers of the class are: Valedictorian, Miss Frances McCullum; salutatorian, Miss Louise Alford; historian, Miss Celestia Allbritton; writer of will, Miss Havers Phillips Edwards.

After the program the party was presided over by Mrs. Pilcher, who called on each student to relate her most embarrassing moment. The students were presented their diplomas by Mrs. Pilcher.

Mr. Robert McGimsey of New York City is expected to arrive in Monroe early this week and will spend a few days with his brother, Mr. C. V. McGimsey.

Mr. McGimsey, who is coming south to do some additional research work among the few remaining negroes of the older generation, is writing a book for a New York publisher on negro music and plantation life. The information gleaned by Mr. McGimsey for this volume will later be used as a background for a musical show for which a music publisher in New York has been negotiating.

Miss Jean Terzia has returned from Lake Providence, where she was the guest of Miss Ann Rose Wyly. Miss Terzia and Miss Wyly are students together at Sophie Newcomb, where they are attending school.

Mrs. Tom F. Larche and little daughter Betsy of Jackson, Miss., are visiting Mrs. L. N. Larche this week.

Mrs. Sig Marx, Miss Camille Marx and Miss Lillian Marx are leaving Monday for New York City, where they will spend the autumn months.

Mrs. D. M. Sholars left Saturday morning on the Delta Airlines for New York City, where she will visit the world's fair. Mrs. Sholars has long been an ardent enthusiast of air travel and has on numerous occasions flown to New Orleans, Shreveport, Dallas and other neighboring cities. This is her first air trip to New York.

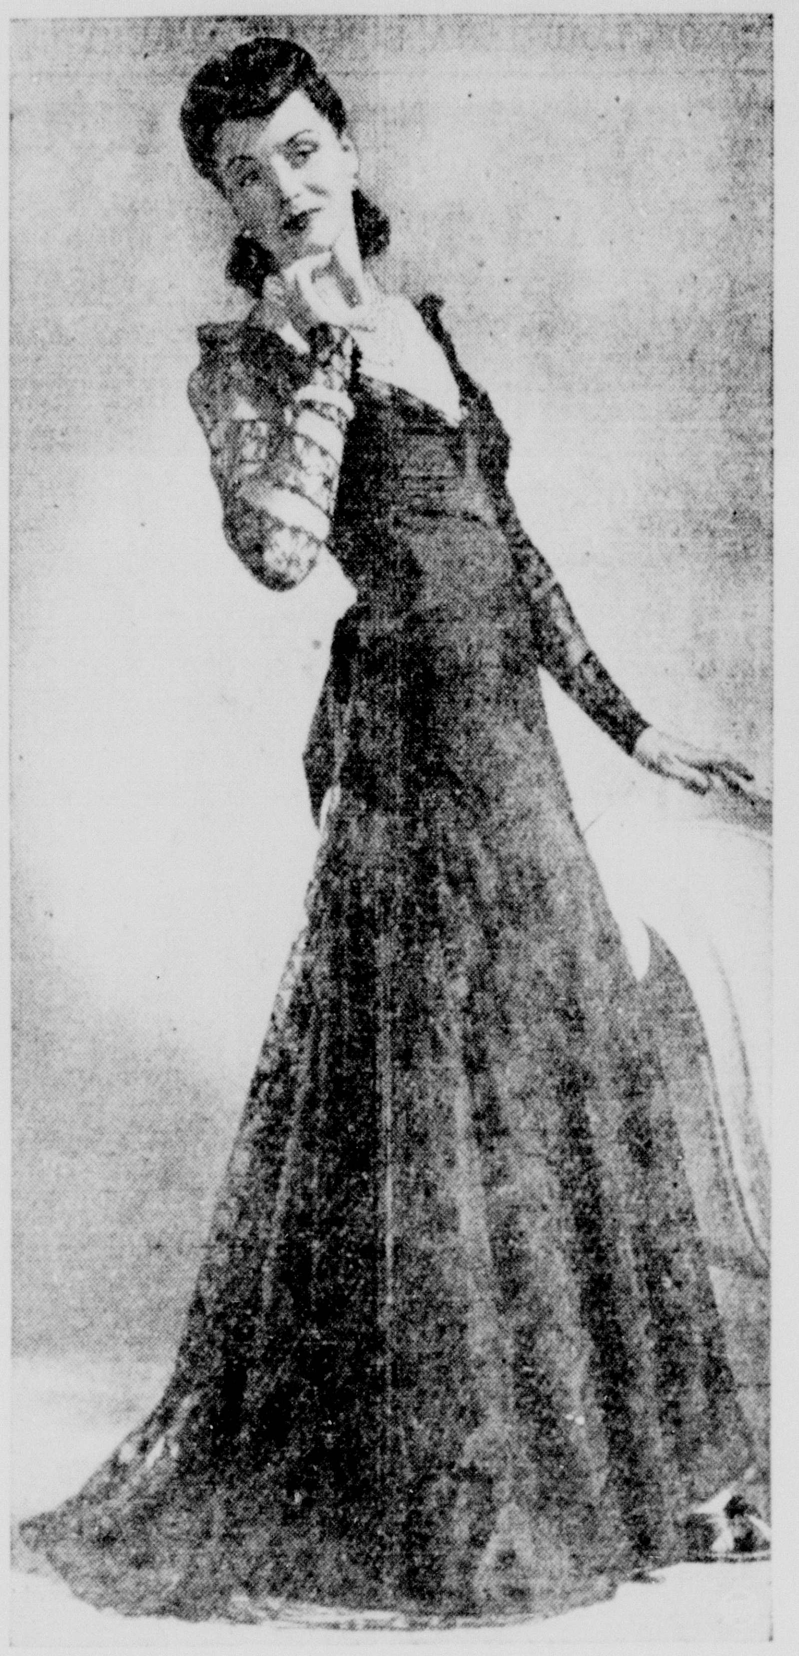
Bobbie O'Donnell, who has been spending the summer in Arizona, is expected to return to his home in this city next week, spending the remainder of his vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell, until he leaves for New Orleans, where he will resume his studies at Tulane.

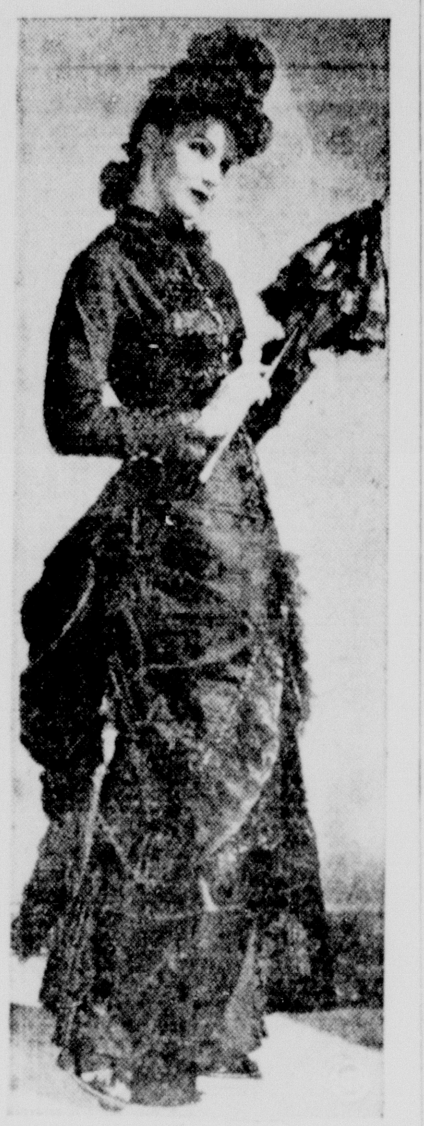
Mr. Harry R. Keller of Detroit, Mich., is visiting his mother, Mrs. A. S. Keller, 301 South Second street.

Mrs. A. C. Warner and children, Marjorie and Bertene, are guests in Monroe this week, visiting Miss Myrtle Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reeves and Mr. Edward Warner.

Mrs. Elmer Slagle and daughter, Miss Clarice Slagle, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Baldwin in Dawson, Ga. During their stay in Georgia they also will visit relatives in Albany and Cuthbert, which is the birthplace of Mrs. Slagle. Mrs. Slagle and Clarice are being extensively entertained by friends and relatives during their visit.

NEW BUSTLE IS SMALLER





Bustles are big fashion news now. However, lest you—not to mention the men in your family—become alarmed at the thought that you will look like a portrait of grandmother next winter, comparing these two photographs should allay your suspicions. They prove beyond a doubt that 1939's bustle gowns are adaptations rather than copies of the bustles of the 1880's. That is, so far, at least.

The Gay Nineties gown, above, is a basque waist bustle affair of faille and lace. The bustle goes on separately. Left, is its modern counterpart, designed by Marie Berger, also combining faille and lace. The bustle effect is achieved by a huge bow of the latter fabric.

George Patterson, who has been taking summer work at L. S. U., returned to Monroe last week, upon the completion of his course.

Mrs. Paul Cook has recently moved to Monroe from Baton Rouge, where she has resided for a number of years. Mrs. Cook is a former Monroe girl and will be remembered by friends as Miss Leona Felton.

Mr. S. A. Moss left last week for Carthage, Mo., where he was called by the death of Mrs. Moss' mother.

Miss Felice Bain of Pine Bluff, Ark., left last week for New Orleans and Houston, Tex., after a most delightful visit with Miss Marguerite McHenry at her home on the Columbia road.

Mrs. Guy Smart, Mrs. Joe Canal and Mrs. Marcus Cann motored to Shreveport last week to enter Miss Marcy Cann in the Shriner hospital. Friends will be glad to learn that Miss Cann, who has been undergoing medical treatment for the past six years, is much improved, and it is thought that her condition will permit an operation in the early part of 1940.

Miss Martha Wilton McHenry and Miss Marguerite McHenry are spending a few days in Baton Rouge.

Miss Catherine White is summering in Alaska this month and her mother, Mrs. C. B. White, is spending several weeks in Lake Charles.

Mrs. John Best will entertain with a tea Friday afternoon at her home, 3811 Spurgeon drive. The tea will be given in honor of Mrs. John Monroe of Jonesboro, who will be her guest at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Armstrong have recently moved into their new home on Auburn avenue, where they are now pleasantly established.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bowles announce the birth of a daughter, Lauria Louise, at Dr. C. H. Mosely's clinic August 6. The maternal grandparents are J. D. Herron and Mrs. Freda Herron, and the paternal grandparents are the late R. E. Bowles and Mrs. R. E. Bowles.

Miss Mary Nadine Morgan is having a most enjoyable trip visiting in Cincinnati, O., Wheeling, W. Va., and Lexington, Ky. While in Portsmouth, O., Miss Morgan was a guest in the home of Rev. Creighton S. Brooks formerly pastor of the First Christian church in this city, where she was extensively entertained with a series of boating parties and sightseeing tours. Miss Morgan is expected to return to Monroe the first of the week.

During the month of August phone items for social column to Mrs. Nell Grigsby. Between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., phone 4800. Other hours, phone 3893.

Mrs. W. M. Washburn has as her guests this week, Mrs. W. B. Gladney and children of Baton Rouge, Mrs. Ed Parkes and children of Houston, Tex., and Miss Genevra Washburn of Maplewood, N. J.

Miss Dorothy Kroll of Shreveport is the house guest of Miss Elethia Edwards this week.

Miss Eleanor Colbert and Miss Libby Haynes returned last week from a Tri Delta house party in McComb, Miss. Thirty girls attended the house party which was given at Ann Lee lodge, the summer home of G. A. Kramer, mayor of McComb. Miss Colbert, who is chairman of the rush committee of the Delta Omega chapter of the Delta Delta Delta sorority, announces that the rush season will start September 14. Other Monroe girls who are officers of the Tri Delta are Miss Doris Reed, who is guard, and Miss Libby Haynes, historian.

American Legion Auxiliary Meets

The American Legion auxiliary met Thursday afternoon at the Legion home with the president, Mrs. H. L. Stamets, presiding. Prayer was said by the chaplain, Mrs. J. T. Bryant.

The meeting having been called for the purpose of installing the officers for the coming year, Mrs. Mae Kelly, Fifth district president, was introduced and conducted the beautiful installation ceremony, installing Mrs. Ted Mahr, president; Mrs. H. L. Stamets, first vice-president; Mrs. Graves Godwin, second vice-president; Miss May Faulk, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. T. Bryant, chaplain; Mrs. C. M. Abboud, sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. Kelly congratulated the unit upon the choice of its new officers and wished them a successful year. Mrs. Stamets presented her with a beautiful corsage of freezias.

After the installation a short business session was held with the newly installed president, Mrs. Mahr, in the chair. Reports were given on the Fourth of July program at the Camp Fire Girls camp and the child welfare program in which the sum of $27 was spent during the past month. Under new business Mrs. Mahr set the regular meeting date at the second Thursday of each month and a letter was read from the department president, Mrs. Beatrice Hart, asking all units in the Fifth district to cooperate in a joint party for the veterans in the hospital at Alexandria to be given in September, which was agreed upon and the money to cover some appropriated for the purpose.

Miss Martha Files Is Guest Of Honor

Mrs. Foster Wallace And Mrs. S. W. Bonnell Entertain For Bride-Elect

Outstanding among the social affairs of the past week was the tea given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Foster Wallace and her mother, Mrs. S. W. Bonnell, at Mrs. Wallace's home on Island Drive, honoring Miss Martha Files of Oak Ridge, whose wedding this month will be an outstanding social event.

Deciding to depart from the conventional tea, Mrs. Wallace converted the reception suite of her home into an exact replica of an ice cream parlor. Novel and original in every detail, a charming atmosphere of informality was attained by a luxuriant riot of color employed in the decorative scheme.

White individual tables, white chairs cushioned in red, gaily colored bowls filled with vari-colored flowers, a soda fountain placed at the end of the entrance room, all combined to create the illusion of a typical ice cream parlor, where friends meet to idle away the hours with pleasant gossip. Red menus flaunted the variety of delicacies the "Sweetheart Sweet shop" offered to tempt the palates of the guests.

Miss Barbara Ann Trigg, dressed in white slacks and red heart shaped cap, carried trays of cigarettes among the guests. Assisting Mrs. Wallace were Mrs. Sam Jones, Mrs. Charles Garrettson, Mrs. Bill Comley, Mrs. Ivy Jordon, Mrs. Travis Oliver, Mrs. Amos Smelser, Mrs. Lattimer Lewis, who wore costumes of white, with diminutive red heart shaped aprons and red heart shaped caps.

Receiving the guests with Mrs. Wallace and her lovely guest of honor, Miss Files, were Mrs. S. W. Bonnell, Mrs. T. O. Files, Mrs. Tilden Austin and Mrs. Harry St. John of Shreveport.

Irene Reid returned from New York last week full of Cinderella tales about her trip to Chicago, Buffalo, Washington, Cincinnati and New York City. While in New York Irene was fortunate enough to meet several congenial souls who formerly resided in Louisiana. The first person she met at the world's fair was William Hayes, head of the publicity department of the fair. Mr. Hayes formerly resided in Shreveport. Introductions to other natives of Louisiana who were in the publicity department followed. Things began to pick up and one of the most thrilling things that happened was when Irene sat in Governor Lehman's box along with a party of movie celebrities with Pathe News cameras clicking all about her.

Ethel Green Russell is gaining recognition for her original verse. Recently one of her poems was selected for publication in the North American Book of Verse. Seven poems from Louisiana will be published in this volume and Mrs. Russell's poem was selected out of a large contribution of manuscripts as one of the seven best.

An enjoyable affair of the past week was a southern fried chicken supper given by a group of girls, members of the Young Business Women's club of the Y. W. C. A., at Seven Pines, Cheniere road.

Each week during the summer, members of the group have enjoyed delightful get-together affairs and are planning a swimming party at the Swayze natatorium next week. Enjoying the chicken supper were:

Mesdames Martha Bradley, Alyne Newsom, Gladys Edwards, Alice Terry, Syrene Lewis, Clara La Borde, Sybil Cooper, Mabie Hendricks, Louise Phillips, Mabie Hemphill, Annie Hunt; Misses Louise Dongieux, Helen Hunt, Eva Dale Coon, Mamie McNeal, Alice Daniels, Mary Mulhearn, Mary Mills Hunt, Monequie Coats, Ivo Wilson, Opal McCoy, Mary Benoit, Jeanette Ziegler, Arlie Mixon, Kathleen Baldwin, Ruth Morris, Rubye Benoit, Dot Bennett, Lucille Godwin, Beverly Jones, Eleona Brinsmade, Olive Lusk, Marie Arnold, Dee Dee Arnold, Alice Moran, Ann Elizabeth Benton, Dorothy Lee Pettit, Evelyn Newsom.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Holcombe of Hollywood, Calif., are the guests of Mr. Holcombe's sisters, Mrs. Henry Mayo, Mrs. Henry Ray and Mrs. Eva Thames this week. Mr. and Mrs. Holcombe, who have been touring the United States, motored from California by way of Detroit, Washington and New York, returning along the southern route by way of Florida.

Miss Helen May Smith of New Orleans is the charming house guest this week of Mrs. Robert Kellogg.

Miss Mary Lois Carr and Miss Doris Marie Carr have returned from a ten-day visit in Lake Charles where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Carr and Miss Louise Carr.

Billy Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith and student at the Atlanta Southern Dental college, is visiting in Homer this week, where he is the guest of a classmate, Robert Torbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stroud, who have been spending the summer in Seattle, Wash., are expected to return to Monroe next week. Mr. and Mrs. Stroud plan to return by way of San Francisco, where they will visit the World's fair for several days.

Mr. W. G. Lawhead has been spending the past two months in Houston, where he has been the guest of his sister. Mrs. Lawhead, Mrs. Dale Lawhead and baby, Tommie Joe, are planning to leave this week for Houston. They will make the trip overland.

Charming Simplicity Marks Wedding Of Miss Era Madden And Marcus Person

Marriage Solemnized At Griffith Residence

Honeymoon Will Be Spent In Alabama; Both Are Connected With Parish High School

The marriage of Miss Era Madden, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Madden and the late John Madden of Arkadelphia, Ark., and Marcus Person, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Person of Superior, Wis., was solemnized Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, August 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Griffith, St. John street, with Rev. Brownlow Hastings officiating.

The living room was beautifully decorated with southern simlax and white asters. White candles in tall candelbra were lit by Miss Sallie Burgess, aunt of the bride.

The bride, who entered with the groom, wore a lovely suit of navy blue, gold embroidered tissue wool and silk, fashioned with a hip length jacket effect. She wore an off-the-face hat of the same material, and navy blue accessories, with corsage of talisman roses and lilies of the valley, which was later placed on the grave of her father in Friendship, Ark.

The little flower girl, Mary Ann Griffith, was adorable in white organdy and Valenciennes lace and carried a colonial bouquet from which she dropped rose petals as she preceded with the bridal party.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Dock Burgess of Strong, Ark., played softly "Because" by d'Hardelot. Mr. Walter Minnear played selections from Traumeri by Schuman on the violin. Vocal numbers were presented by Mrs. Will Patton of DeRidder, who sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride entered with the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The double ring service was read in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends of the families.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held and the crystal frappe bowl was presided over by Mrs. John Coon. The centerpiece of the lace-covered table was designed with pink radiance roses and ferns. Individual cakes embossed in floral design were served with frappe.

The bride is a graduate of the Strong, Ark., High school and received her business education at the El Dorado, Ark., Commercial college. For the past few years she has served as secretary to Mr. Jack Hayes, principal of the Ouachita Parish High school.

Mr. Person graduated from the Wisconsin State Teachers' college, Superior, Wis., and has done graduate work in Stout institute, University of Minnesota and Louisiana State university.

For the past two years he has had charge of the manual arts department at the Ouachita Parish High school.

After a brief honeymoon to Alabama, the birthplace of the bride's father, they will be at home to their friends at 408 St. John street.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Patton, DeRidder; Mrs. John Madden, Arkadelphia, Ark.; Miss Sally Burgess, Miss Jewell Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Burgess, Mrs. Dock Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Burgess and son, Rab Burgess, Miss Sally Jo Burgess of Strong, Ark.; Mrs. Troy Bailey of Stephens, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nunnally, Miss May Tom Nunnally, Miss Frances Nunnally, Miss LaNeil Nunnally of Bastrop; Miss Evelyn Moore of El Dorado, Ark.

Rose Marie Cascio And N. E. Fontana Married

Wedding Takes Place On Thirtieth Of July At St. Matthew's Catholic Church

Claiming the interest of numerous friends and relatives was the beautiful wedding at St. Matthew's church, Sunday, July 30, when Miss Rose Marie Cascio, lovely daughter of Mr. Vito Cascio and the late Lena Cascio, and Mr. Nicholas Eugene Fontana, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fontana, repeated marriage vows at 6 o'clock in the evening.

The bridesmaids, Misses Lulu Mae Slavant, Josephine Lasuzzo, Katherine Cascio, and Virginia Cascio, all wore exquisite gowns of Wedgewood blue, pink, aqua marine, and yellow chiffon over taffeta. The bodices were tight fitting with a "V" neckline.

The skirts were fashioned with tucked panels, flaring into hooped-skirt effect. Juliet veils of tulle were worn by the bridesmaids, who carried bouquets of roses tied with tulle.

The maid of honor, Miss Pauline Cascio, sister of the bride, wore a gown of orchid, a duplicate of those worn by the bridesmaids. Mrs. Charles Fontana, Jr., wore a model of green chiffon over taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of talisman roses. The flower girl, Mona Lee Ticheli, wore a lovely floor length model of ashes of roses and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of roses. The ring-bearer, George Fontana, nephew of the groom was attired in a white linen suit and carried a single lily, in which the wedding ring was placed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in an exquisite gown of white satin with a long train. The bodice was tight-fitting, with a "V" neckline and long tight-fitting sleeves. A finger tip veil of illusion, edged with rose point lace fell from a halo of pearls. Her bouquet was fashioned of white roses and lilies of the valley, tied with white satin and silver ribbon. For something old, she wore a beautiful diamond necklace, belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Chris Slavant.

Mrs. Fontana attended St. Matthew's Parochial school.

Mr. Fontana is a graduate of the old City High school and attended Northeast Junior college. At present he is employed by the state.

He is W. S. Van Dyke [illegible] picture [illegible] interesting [illegible] His [illegible] picture "San Francisco" opens today at the Capitol theater with Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy starred.

"San Francisco ranks among the most colorful cities," he said, "because of its exciting past. It was born on the mud flats in the days of the gold rush. It is today the only real cosmopolitan city in the west.

"The city's fine food is traditional the world over, yet it is not the fine food alone that makes it famous. It is the birthplace of leading artists and literary figures.

"San Francisco has given to the world such geniuses as David Belasco, the theatrical producer, David Warfield, one of the greatest actors, Jim Corbett, Jack London, Bret Harte, Katherine and Frank Norris, Fred Sterling, Homer Davenport, the great cartoonist—and even Rube Goldberg.

"With its Barbary Coast, its vigilantes, its gold rush days and the tragic disasters that have struck the city, San Francisco has given inspiration for some of the finest literary works and motion picture plots.

"That is why Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer chose San Francisco as the setting for the musical drama, 'San Francisco,' co-starring Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy.

"The city's ability to rise out of the ruins a bigger and better San Francisco, following the disaster that leveled it in 1906, was the inspiration for the story and screen play by Robert Hopkins and Anita Loos. They saw in the hectic Barbary Coast period prior and through the earthquake and fire an admirable dramatic theme for a motion picture."

'Man About Town,' Starring Jack Benny, At Paramount

Outstanding Cast In New Comedy Hit

THE one and only Jack Benny is at his gagging best, Dorothy Lamour sings and provides romantic interest, Edward Arnold is a business tycoon who menaces Jack's romantic plans, charming Binnie Barnes provides romantic by-play as his neglected wife, twenty gorgeous Petty Girls parade through a fabulously beautiful harem sequence, three new hit songs are sung by various members of the cast—in fact, it would take an adding machine to tabulate the attractions of the "Man About Town," the new comedy with music which Paramount will present today at the Paramount theater!

As if that weren't enough, "Rochester," making his screen debut with his radio chief, comes through with two eccentric dances which are being rated as nothing short of sensational. And the world-renowned Merriel Abbot dancers are being hailed as nothing short of amazing in the big harem sequence of the picture.

Benny Natural Self

The new Benny film differs from his previous pictures in that it gives Jack a better chance to play his natural, gagging self. The story, written by Morrie Ryskind, author of such screen successes as "My Man Godfrey" and "Stage Door," casts Jack as an American impresario who is laying plans for presenting his show in London.

The amorous nonsense, the farcical situations start to pile up when Jack finds that the singing star of the show, Dorothy Lamour, is cleaving to his orchestra leader, Phil Harris. Lacking the amoral aplomb of a Cassanova, Jack turns to his valet, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, for advice. "Rochester" suggests that Jack arouse a little jealousy in Dorothy.

Jack, gagging along in his best style manages to meet Binnie Barnes, charming lady of the English nobility, whose husband, Edward Arnold, neglects her. Eventually she invites Jack down to her country home. When Edward Arnold starts to suspect that Jack is interested in his wife, the picture hits an even faster farcical pace.

Three new songs, already in the hit class, are offered in the picture. Dorothy Lamour sings "Strange Enchantment" and "That Sentimental Sandwich," by Frederick Hollander and Frank Loesser. The other number is a novelty tune, "Fidgety Joe," by Matty Malneck and Loesser.

"Confessions of a Nazi Spy"

Stars of "East Side of Heaven," John Blondell and Bing Crosby have a treat for you when they introduce Hollywood's newest and cutest star, "Sandy," Thursday at the Capitol theater.

"Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever" and this time Andy gets a violent "crush" on his high school teacher, with catastrophic results but as per usual he ends up with his steady Ann Rutherford (above). It's the best yet and it opens Thursday at the Paramount theater.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is shown shouting into a radio microphone despite the efforts of Harry Cording and Edward Keane to stop him in this exciting and crucial scene from "The Sun Never Sets" playing Wednesday at the Paramount theater. Basil Rathbone, Virginia Field and Barbara O'Neil are also starred.

Two screen favorites return to the Capitol's screen Friday in the screen version of Jack London's northland epic, "Wolf Call." John Carroll is the dashing adventurer who tries to make a better bargain with this Indian than the pioneers did.

'San Francisco,' Spectacular Film Of Early Days, Opens Today

O. HENRY once remarked there were only three cities worth writing about—New York, New Orleans and San Francisco.

Comes now another authority on interesting cities, a world-traveler, who declares there are only six cities worth writing about—New Orleans, San Francisco, London, Cairo, Shanghai and Washington, D. C.

He is W. S. Van Dyke, film director, who has led motion picture companies to all corners of the earth and who has visited and lived in most of the interesting cities of the world. His hit picture, "San Francisco," opens today at the Capitol theater with Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy starred.

"San Francisco ranks among the most colorful cities," he said, "because of its exciting past. It was born on the mud flats in the days of the gold rush. It is today the only real cosmopolitan city in the west.

"The city's fine food is traditional the world over, yet it is not the fine food alone that makes it famous. It is the birthplace of leading artists and literary figures.

"San Francisco has given to the world such geniuses as David Belasco, the theatrical producer; David Warfield, one of the greatest actors; Jim Corbett, Jack London, Bret Harte, Katherine and Frank Norris, Fred Sterling, Homer Davenport, the great cartoonist—and even Rube Goldberg.

"With its Barbary Coast, its vigilantes, its gold rush days and the tragic disasters that have struck the city, San Francisco has given inspiration for some of the finest literary works and motion picture plots.

"That is why Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer chose San Francisco as the setting for the musical drama, 'San Francisco,' co-starring Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy.

"The city's ability to rise out of the ruins a bigger and better San Francisco, following the disaster that leveled it in 1906, was the inspiration for the story and screen play by Robert Hopkins and Anita Loos. They saw in the hectic Barbary Coast period prior and through the earthquake and fire an admirable dramatic theme for a motion picture."

GOLDEN WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

NEW ERA, La., Aug. 12.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Moreland celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a family reunion and barbecue and picnic at their home Sunday, August 6, with about 100 guests present.

Mr. Moreland, who is 70, and Mrs. Moreland, 65, were married August 8, 1889, in a double wedding ceremony with Mrs. Annie Tooley and the late Dixie Tooley. They have lived at New Era for many years, and have many friends. All of their seven children, Mrs. W. G. Craig, El Dorado, Ark.; Mrs. W. L. Thompson, Ferriday, La.; H. W. Moreland, J. C. Moreland, K. M. Moreland, and twins, Clyde and Claude Moreland, all of New Era, were present with their families.

Mrs. Tooley, a sister of Mrs. Moreland, was present at the celebration and shared with her the pleasure of receiving beautiful gifts, among them being lovely guest books provided by one of the granddaughters. Mrs. J. H. Paul, another sister, was the only guest present who attended the wedding.

The picnic was the main feature of the day. Of special note were two cakes, one a "log cabin," made by the bride like the ones they had at the wedding 50 years ago, and the 50th anniversary cake with 50 candles.

During the afternoon many pictures were made of the various family groups. Also, a number of other friends and relatives came to offer their best wishes to the couple.

CORPORAL LE BLANC IS RETURNING TO MARINES

Corporal John A. LeBlanc, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. LeBlanc of 306 Stone avenue, left for New York by bus Saturday morning to complete the last six months of his four-year enlistment in the United States marine corps.

He has been spending a month's furlough here with his parents, which was his first in Monroe since he enlisted.

During his more than three years of service he has visited nearly all the important ports of the world, his last long trip being to Japan, where his ship was assigned to convey the ashes of Ambassador Saito, who died in service of his country in Washington, D. C.

HOLDING REVIVAL

1ST COTTON BALE GINNED IN BERNICE

BERNICE, La., Aug. 12—(Special)—The first bale of cotton for 1939 was ginned by the Lindsey Gin company Thursday afternoon for Harry Cook. The bale weighed 525 pounds and graded middling. It was not sold as it is the policy of Mr. Cook not to sell until he completes picking, and he ordinarily makes over 100 bales on the large farm of his mother, Mrs. Nannie Cook, whose property extends up to one-half mile of town and stretches on both sides of the highway for a mile.

Cotton picking is expected to be in full blast next week. The crop is short and it is not expected that the picking season will last long.

SWAMP AREAS WILL BE DRAINED IN FRANKLIN

WINNSBORO, La., Aug. 12—(Special)—Swamp areas forming malaria mosquito breeding grounds near here will be drained by WPA workmen in a project scheduled to start August 15. The Franklin parish police jury and the federal government will spend more than $3,570 in the work.

Thirty WPA workmen will drain these ponds through a system of ditches west into the flatlands along Boeuf bayou. More than 4,000 cubic yards of earth will be excavated and used for filling a hole in one of the ponds that is presently too low to drain.

Shorty's Offers Fine Automotive Repair Service

While Shorty's Body Shop and Garage, 309 Washington street, is the local dealer in the Hudson line of automobiles and the north Louisiana distributor of American Bantam cars, it has not in any sense slighted its automotive service department. Repairing of automobiles is still a major activity of the firm.

A complete repair service is offered the public by Shorty's Body Shop and Garage. It engages in fender and body straightening and auto painting as well as general repairs.

If your car has had the misfortune of being wrecked, Shorty's Body Shop and Garage is equipped and staffed to restore it both in appearance and performance.

In connection with its service department, which can straighten and paint anything made of metal, including porch furniture and refrigerators, Shorty's Body Shop and Garage operates a wrecker truck. If you require the services of this truck during the day, call 2244, during the night, call 3625.

Used cars taken in trades on new automobiles are displayed by Shorty's Body Shop and Garage on its used car lot at 207 Washington street. You would do well to look over these cars before you buy elsewhere. All have been thoroughly reconditioned and are in good running order.

NEW 'CULTI-VISION' FARMALL

FARMALL
CULTI-VISION

Here is power farming news every farmer has been waiting for! International Harvester announces the new McCormick-Deering Farmall-A—the smallest Farmall ever built, a rubber-tired combination of modern power and efficiency at a new low Farmall price.

Seventeen years ago International Harvester engineering produced the original McCormick-Deering Farmall. Nearly half a million Farmalls followed in the swift march of all-purpose power. Now the pace-setter sets a new pace with Farmall-A, designed to do all the work on the small farm, or to replace the last team on the big farm.

This new achievement of International Harvester will go on display here Saturday afternoon, August 19, at the local International Harvester store at 720 DeSiard street. Visit the establishment and get acquainted with the powerful, go-getting Farmall-A. And remember, the supply will not be plentiful for some time to come. Get your order in early.

"Culti-Vision," the most outstanding of the numerous desirable features of the new Farmall, gives the operator a clear view of his work, while he sits comfortably in the roomy sponge-rubber upholstered seat. Row crops can be cultivated cleaner with the Farmall-A with "Culti-Vision." Direct-attachable planters, cultivators, etc., are available for corn, cotton and all other row crops, including truck and garden vegetables.

Chevrolet Auto Sales Increase

DETROIT, Aug. 12—Chevrolet dealers' retail sales of new cars and trucks in the final 10 days of July showed a gain of 2,816 units over the previous 10-day period, totaling 24,612, and enabling the company to chalk up 64,917 cars and trucks for the month. The announcement was made here by W. E. Holler, general sales manager.

The month's new unit sales were 13,907 greater than in July, 1938, for a gain of 27.2 per cent, comparison of records indicates. Continuance of substantial volume so late into the summer was characterized as a distinct reversal of the usual trend.

Sales of used cars in the final 10-day period of July totaled 69,891, a gain of 19,118 over the preceding period, for a total of 160,760 in July. This is an increase of 25,091 units, as compared with July, 1938, and gave Chevrolet dealers a combined new and used car total of 225,677 for the month.

All of these features are incorporated in The U. S. Tire: U. S. tempered rubber tread, world-famous U. S. tread design, safety bonded cord body, full mold size and quality control by the United States Rubber company from the rubber tree to the finished tire.

The U. S. Tire is distinctly the buy in the low price field. It and a complete line of all other tires manufactured by the United States Rubber company are handled by 707 Tire Service, corner of Harrison and Hall streets.

BACKWARD INTEREST IN FALL FASHIONS

Pre-fall fashion showings indicate strong back interest in both dresses and hats—actual bustles or bustle-effect frocks and trim, forward-plunging chapeaux with huge, dramatic bows across the back or flaring downward from the rear crown. Dashing visored models, postillions, flat-ish skimmers and swirled turbans are among the earliest favorites.

The BEAR CAT
Combination
GRAIN and ROUGHAGE MILL
Also ENSILAGE CUTTER

You already know what hammer mills are and what some of them will do. But did you know that the Bear Cat is a hammer mill, feed cutter and silo filler all in one? It, and it alone, makes feed of almost anything that grows.

The Bear Cat which is handled in the Monroe trade area by Frick company, 129-133 North Grand street, will enable you to increase the value of your feeds one-third.

The Bear Cat is the only mill on the market that handles all roughage, whether green, dry or wet. There is no beating of feed through a screen, no injurious heating. The Bear Cat uses centrifugal force to grind the feed, with free-swinging hammers working over concaves. Quick-changing screens pass coarse, medium or fine feeds, as desired.

Equipped with ten SKF self-aligning ball bearings, it can be driven by any tractor that can pull a plow. Governor control on feed rolls prevents choking. The lawn-mower type cutter is adjustable and does the work faster than the average straight knife.

Before you buy a hammer mill, see the Bear Cat in action. Watch it fill a silo 40 or 50 feet high. See how it mixes grain and roughage into a thriving ration for your stock and poultry. Watch it save on power costs while cutting, cracking, grinding or blowing feed into the bins.

Inform Frick company of your needs and it will furnish you details on a Bear Cat mill to meet them fully. These mills are on display at the company's headquarters, 129-133 North Grand.

Frick company also handles Frick sawmills, edgers, trimmers, tractors, power units, steam engines and boilers, threshers, combines, balers and other machinery that is the last word in power farming. It quotes you direct factory prices on new or rebuilt equipment you require.

Livestock Require Minerals In Diet

Because it is an economical and unexcelled source of both calcium and phosphorus, mineral elements that are essential to balanced animal nutrition, Digesta-Bone has won increasing favor among cattlemen and dairymen.

Mineral deficiencies are now recognized as common in the natural forage plants, and the average feed-lot ration—because much of the feed is grown on soils of low fertility—is apt to be similarly unbalanced.

When added to the feeding ration, sterilized bone meal not only supplies calcium and phosphorus deficiencies but also greatly aids in the assimilation of the other feeds consumed; thereby it improves the conversion of feed into flesh and bone. Its palpatability (increased by its lack of odor due to high-temperature of processing) quickens the natural appetite of the animal. Livestock deprived of a sufficient supply of calcium and phosphorus develop depraved appetites. They gnaw bones, eat wood, even dirt, etc. Digesta-Bone overcomes such tendencies and prevents their recurrence.

To build up the general condition of the herd, at least one per cent of Digesta-Bone should be included in the ration. It is also advisable to place mixture of equal parts of bone meal and salt in a box or division of the feed trough protected against weather, where the animals can have free access to it. This also takes care of any abnormal appetite for minerals.

One gallon of milk contains, roughly, one-fourth ounce of lime, one-three ounce of phosphoric acid, and one-sixth ounce of chlorine. For maintenance and for production of one gallon of milk, the cow should normally receive in her daily ration two and one-fourth ounces of lime and two ounces of phosphoric acid. Experiments have demonstrated that increased milk flow results when bone meal is amply provided and that the lactation period is more extended than is otherwise the case, thus clearly reducing cost per unit of milk.

For fattening, for commercial markets, for shows, Digesta-Bone produces exceptional gains, reducing substantially the feeding cost per hundred pounds gain in weight.

Finally, Digesta-Bone effectually builds up body-resistance to diseases in the herd and in its progeny to come.

You Can Depend Upon Bernelle's Wrecker Service

You are certain of getting your automobile brought in, no matter what trouble besets you on the highway or byway, if you call telephone number 2044.

That's the number of Bernelle's garage, 311 Ouachita avenue, which remains open night and day and operates two wrecker trucks, each outfitted with a power winch equipped with steel cable. The wreck hasn't occurred that Bernelle's garage can't handle.

Besides hauling in disabled cars, Bernelle's garage specializes in rebuilding wrecks and overhauling automobiles. The establishment is equipped to handle any kind of automotive work, particularly fender and body reconditioning and general repairs.

If your automobile refused to run or is operating poorly, call Bernelle's garage. There it will be restored to perfect condition. Operating 24-hours a day, the establishment can do the work when it is most convenient to the motorist.

On major jobs, Bernelle's garage offers convenient terms that enable you to ride while you pay. Its easy credit plan is available without the least red tape. The arrangements are strictly between the person having the work done and E. P. Bernelle, proprietor of the garage.

ONE MIXING—TWO DESSERTS

When combining ingredients for pie crust, it takes very little longer to mix double quantity. The extra dough can be wrapped in waxed paper and stored in the refrigerator for use next day or even several days hence, either for pie or tart shells. Tart shells can be baked over inverted custard cups or muffin pans.

We-Too Barbecued Beans Will Perk Up Your Appetite

Do you need something to perk up your appetite. Then try We-Too Sandwich shop's barbecued beans, which are sold piping hot in clay pots at 15 cents an order. The pound price of these beans is 30 cents and they are packed in convenient containers for you to take home.

Located at 1602 DeSiard street, We-Too Sandwich shop is famous throughout the Monroe area for its barbecue sandwiches. Whether pork, veal, beef or ham, these sandwiches sell for 15 cents each, together with a helping of We-Too Sandwich shop's delicious potato salad.

With plate orders of barbecue at the establishment you get not only potato salad, but sliced tomatoes and pickles as well. Plate orders of pork ribs, veal or beef are 25 cents; of ham, either fresh or cured, 35 cents.

The pound prices of barbecued meats are: pork ribs, 39 cents; veal or beef, 60 cents; fresh or cured ham, 65 cents. Lower prices are offered on large bulk orders for picnics, outings and parties.

To go with its barbecue, We-Too Sandwich shop handles the coldest beer and soft drinks in town. Moreover, if you prefer to buy your own meats from the butcher, the establishment will do your barbecuing for you at a nominal cost, supplying everything required in the process.

In addition to barbecue, We-Too serves all kinds of sandwiches and short orders. For the convenience of its patrons, it maintains a counter and a dining room equipped with both tables and booths and offers prompt curb service for motorists who prefer to remain in their cars.

1ST COTTON BALE GINNED IN BERNICE

BERNICE, La., Aug. 12.—(Special)—The first bale of cotton for 1939 was ginned by the Lindsey Gin company Thursday afternoon for Harry Cook. The bale weighed 525 pounds and graded middling. It was not sold as it is the policy of Mr. Cook not to sell until he completes picking, and he ordinarily makes over 100 bales on the large farm of his mother, Mrs. Nannie Cook, whose property extends up to one-half mile of town and stretches on both sides of the highway for a mile.

Cotton picking is expected to be in full blast next week. The crop is short and it is not expected that the picking season will last long.

SWAMP AREAS WILL BE DRAINED IN FRANKLIN

WINNSBORO, La., Aug. 12.—(Special)—Swamp areas forming malaria mosquito breeding grounds near here will be drained by WPA workmen in a project scheduled to start August 15. The Franklin parish police jury and the federal government will spend more than $3,570 in the work.

Thirty WPA workmen will drain these ponds through a system of ditches west into the flatlands along Boeuf bayou. More than 4,000 cubic yards of earth will be excavated and used for filling a hole in one of the ponds that is presently too low to drain.

Shorty's Offers Fine Automotive Repair Service

While Shorty's Body Shop and Garage, 309 Washington street, is the local dealer in the Hudson line of automobiles and the north Louisiana distributor of American Bantam cars, it has not in any sense slighted its automotive service department. Repairing of automobiles is still a major activity of the firm.

A complete repair service is offered the public by Shorty's Body Shop and Garage. It engages in fender and body straightening and auto painting as well as general repairs.

If your car has had the misfortune of being wrecked, Shorty's Body Shop and Garage is equipped and staffed to restore it both in appearance and performance.

In connection with its service department, which can straighten and paint anything made of metal, including porch furniture and refrigerators, Shorty's Body Shop and Garage operates a wrecker truck. If you require the services of this truck during the day, call 2244; during the night, call 3625.

Used cars taken in trades on new automobiles are displayed by Shorty's Body Shop and Garage on its used car lot at 207 Washington street. You would do well to look over these cars before you buy elsewhere. All have been thoroughly reconditioned and are in good running order.

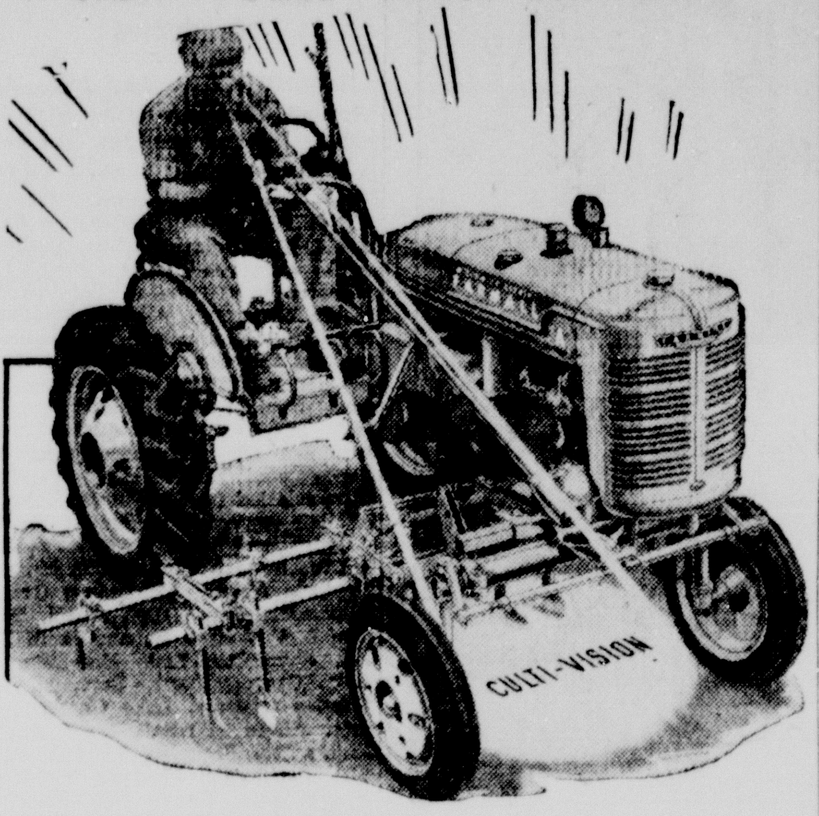
NEW 'CULTI-VISION' FARMALL



Here is power farming news every farmer has been waiting for! International Harvester announces the new McCormick-Deering Farmall-A—the smallest Farmall ever built, a rubber-tired combination of modern power and efficiency at a new low Farmall price.

Seventeen years ago International Harvester engineering produced the original McCormick-Deering Farmall. Nearly half a million Farmalls followed in the swift march of all-purpose power. Now the pace-setter sets a new pace with Farmall-A, designed to do all the work on the small farm, or to replace the last team on the big farm.

This new achievement of International Harvester will go on display here Saturday afternoon, August 19, at the local International Harvester store at 720 DeSiard street. Visit the establishment and get acquainted with the powerful, go-getting Farmall-A. And remember, the supply will not be plentiful for some time to come. Get your order in early.

"Culti-Vision," the most outstanding of the numerous desirable features of the new Farmall, gives the operator a clear view of his work, while he sits comfortably in the roomy sponge-rubber upholstered seat. Row crops can be cultivated cleaner with the Farmall-A with "Culti-Vision." Direct-attachable planters, cultivators, etc., are available for corn, cotton and all other row crops, including truck and garden vegetables.

Chevrolet Auto Sales Increase

DETROIT, Aug. 12.—Chevrolet dealers' retail sales of new cars and trucks in the final 10 days of July showed a gain of 2,816 units over the previous 10-day period, totaling 24,612, and enabling the company to chalk up 64,917 cars and trucks for the month. The announcement was made here by W. E. Holler, general sales manager.

The month's new unit sales were 13,907 greater than in July, 1938, for a gain of 27.2 per cent, comparison of records indicates. Continuance of substantial volume so late into the summer was characterized as a distinct reversal of the usual trend.

Sales of used cars in the final 10-day period of July totaled 69,891, a gain of 19,118 over the preceding period, for a total of 160,760 in July. This is an increase of 25,091 units, as compared with July, 1938, and gave Chevrolet dealers a combined new and used car total of 225,677 for the month.

Acousticon Man Will Be At Hotel Frances Monday

Here's good news for the hard of hearing: V. Nesbitt, manager of Acousticon Institute of Shreveport, will be in Monroe tomorrow on his monthly visit to the city. He will be a guest of Hotel Frances.

Mr. Nesbitt comes to Monroe each month to service Acousticons in use in this vicinity and to confer with persons whose hearing is impaired.

Acousticons, distributed and serviced by Acousticon Institute of Shreveport, are hearing devices that definitely restore hearing. There are models that sell for a little as $47 and easy time payments are available to purchasers.

There are no obligations attached to a conference with Mr. Nesbitt. If you are hard of hearing, seek his advice. He'll be able to help you.

The headquarers of Acousticon Institute of Shreveport is 231 Ricou-Brewster building, Shreveport. When you are in that city, Mr. Nesbitt would be glad for you to visit him there.

Don't take a chance when you need a hearing aid. Get one that has proven its worth. Acousticons have the approval of the council of physical therapy of the American Medical association.

Have Your Radio Work Done By Nettles-Bernelle

The season of good radio reception is near at hand and when it arrives you'll want to have your receiving set ready for the outstanding programs that are then featured.

To assure the best reception, have your set checked and repaired by Nettles-Bernelle Radio and Electric service, 311 Ouachita avenue. The work will be done by one of the proprietors, J. C. Nettles, a graduate engineer with wide pratical experience.

Mr. Nettles suggest that now is the time to have receiving sets overhauled, when reception is poor and no extraordinary programs are on the air. He reminds that the football season, with all of its exciting games, is scarcely a month off.

In addition to reconditioning radios, Nettles-Bernelle Radio and Electric service engages in specialized electrical work. It repairs electric motors of every kind, including those that provide power for fans. It installs and repairs household light plants. It rewinds armatures. And it does industrial power designing.

When anything goes wrong with one of your electric motors, even those of one of your household appliances, call Nettles-Bernelle Radio and Electric service. The telephone number is 2044. If you plan to utilize electric power to operate machinery, seek the services of Nettles-Bernelle. Mr. Nettles, being an electrical engineer, can provide you with a power estimate that will save you both money and trouble.

U. S. Offers Best In Low Price Tire

Your car will know the difference and your pocketbook will welcome it, too—The U. S. Tire, the latest tire offered by the United States Rubber company.

Now, at an amazing low price, you can get all these newest tire advancements that will make your car stop quicker, ride smoother and quieter and save you money:

Newest sharp-edged multiple ribs—This provides quick-stop safety and control of skids.

All of these features are incorporated in The U. S. Tire: U. S. tempered rubber tread, world-famous U. S. tread design, safety bonded cord body, full mold size and quality control by the United States Rubber company from the rubber tree to the finished tire.

The U. S. Tire, moreover, carries the U. S. lifetime guarantee. This protects you to the last mile without limit as to time and mileage.

The U. S. Tire is distinctly the buy in the low price field. It and a complete line of all other tires manufactured by the United States Rubber company are handled by 707 Tire Service, corner of Harrison and Hall streets.

BACKWARD INTEREST IN FALL FASHIONS

Pre-fall fashion showings indicate strong back interest in both dresses and hats—actual bustles or bustle-effect frocks and trim, forward-plunging chapeaux with huge, dramatic bows across the back or flaring downward from the rear crown. Dashing visored models, postillions, flat-ish skimmers and swirled turbans are among the earliest favorites.

The BEAR CAT
Combination
GRAIN and ROUGHAGE MILL
Also ENSILAGE CUTTER

You already know what hammer mills are and what some of them will do. But did you know that the Bear Cat is a hammer mill, feed cutter and silo filler all in one? It, and it alone, makes feed of almost anything that grows.

The Bear Cat which is handled in the Monroe trade area by Frick company, 129-133 North Grand street, will enable you to increase the value of your feeds one-third.

The Bear Cat is the only mill on the market that handles all roughage, whether green, dry or wet. There is no beating of feed through a screen, no injurious heating. The Bear Cat uses centrifugal force to grind the feed, with free-swinging hammers working over concaves. Quick-changing screens pass coarse, medium or fine feeds, as desired.

Equipped with ten SKF self-aligning ball bearings, it can be driven by any tractor that can pull a plow. Governor control on feed rolls prevents choking. The lawn-mower type cutter is adjustable and does the work faster than the average straight knife.

Before you buy a hammer mill, see the Bear Cat in action. Watch it fill a silo 40 or 50 feet high. See how it mixes grain and roughage into a thriving ration for your stock and poultry. Watch it save on power costs while cutting, cracking, grinding or blowing feed into the bins.

Inform Frick company of your needs and it will furnish you details on a Bear Cat mill to meet them fully. These mills are on display at the company's headquarters, 129-133 North Grand.

Frick company also handles Frick sawmills, edgers, trimmers, tractors, power units, steam engines and boilers, threshers, combines, balers and other machinery that is the last word in power farming. It quotes you direct factory prices on new or rebuilt equipment you require.

Livestock Require Minerals In Diet

Because it is an economical and unexcelled source of both calcium and phosphorus, mineral elements that are essential to balanced animal nutrition, Digesta-Bone has won increasing favor among cattlemen and dairymen.

Mineral deficiencies are now recognized as common in the natural forage plants, and the average feedlot ration—because much of the feed is grown on soils of low fertility—is apt to be similarly unbalanced.

When added to the feeding ration, sterilized bone meal not only supplies calcium and phosphorus deficiencies but also greatly aids in the assimilation of the other feeds consumed; thereby it improves the conversion of feed into flesh and bone. Its palpatability (increased by its lack of odor due to high-temperature of processing) quickens the natural appetite of the animal. Livestock deprived of a sufficient supply of calcium and phosphorus develop depraved appetites. They gnaw bones, eat wood, even dirt, etc. Digesta-Bone overcomes such tendencies and prevents their recurrence.

To build up the general condition of the herd, at least one per cent of Digesta-Bone should be included in the ration. It is also advisable to place mixture of equal parts of bone meal and salt in a box or division of the feed trough protected against weather, where the animals can have free access to it. This also takes care of any abnormal appetite for minerals.

The dairy cow's needs are particularly acute. Without phosphorus in the feed, milk flow is eventually reduced.

One gallon of milk contains, roughly, one-fourth ounce of lime, one-three ounce of phosphoric acid, and one-sixth ounce of chlorine. For maintenance and for production of one gallon of milk, the cow should normally receive in her daily ration two and one-fourth ounces of lime and two ounces of phosphoric acid. Experiments have demonstrated that increased milk flow results when bone meal is amply provided and that the lactation period is more extended than is otherwise the case, thus clearly reducing cost per unit of milk.

For the breeding stock, for the cow in calf, and for the young stock after weaning, Digesta-Bone finds its widest use, stimulating development and reproduction.

For fattening, for commercial markets, for shows, Digesta-Bone produces exceptional gains, reducing substantially the feeding cost per hundred pounds gain in weight.

Finally, Digesta-Bone effectually builds up body-resistance to diseases in the herd and in its progeny to come.

NOW I KNOW

IT'S FAR MORE THAN THAT

... it's constant proof of the utterly different method of Electrolux operation—no machinery at all! Good reason why only Electrolux can offer all these big advantages:

(1) No moving parts to wear
(2) Lasting efficiency
(3) Continued low operating cost
(4) Fullest food protection
(5) Savings that pay for it

A TINY GAS BURNER takes the place of all moving parts in Electrolux. And this simpler, more efficient operation makes possible not only the permanent silence, but also the long, low-cost service of Electrolux. Courses For Operators Proposed In Many Louisiana Cities

B. G. Cole, in charge of water purfication at the Monroe municipal waterworks plant, has just returned from Bunkie, La., where a meeting was held by a committee of the Louisiana conference on water supply and sewerage, and at which plans were completed for the holding of schools throughout the state.

As planned by E. C. Ludtke, of the state department of education, men will be named who are qualified to instruct in the line of plant and system operation, and schools will be held in early fall in key cities of the state, one of which will be in the city hall of Monroe. Operators of plants of this nature in a radius of 50 miles will be invited to attend the school which will require five nights each week when all phases of water purification will be considered.

In order that all engaged in this work in the state may attend, a school of this nature will be conducted simultaneously in a large number of cities of the state.

Financing of the schools will be by the state department of education. Similar schools are being conducted throughout the state for firemen, auto mechanics and other lines and are proving helpful. Similar vocational schools, too, are in progress in other states such as in Texas and Oklahoma.

108 Attend Meet; Ouachita Girl Wins Wildlife Contest

Approximately 108 farm men and women from Ouachita parish returned Friday night from the twenty-sixth annual state short course exercises at Baton Rouge, Mrs. Jewel McQuiller, parish home demonstration agent, said Saturday. The week's short course closed Thursday night with an address on farm legislation by United States Senator Allen Ellender.

The Ouachita representatives left here early last Monday morning for the course, which featured talks and exhibitions by experts in various aspects of farm life.

On their return, Mrs. McQuiller said, the group was joined by 11 members of parish 4-H clubs, who had been attending the state wildlife meeting at Camp Grant Walker during the week.

The agent announced Miss Frankie Louise Sheffield of the Indian Village community and a member of the Calhoun 4-H club, had won first place in the state contest for insect collecting. Miss Sheffield placed first in collecting, identifying and mounting the insects and in submitting a paper on the advantages of preserving wildlife. She will be given a trip to the sulphur mines in south Louisiana in the fall as a reward.

STILL SEEK HARD ROAD SURFACING

In the opinion of the Chamber of Commerce the hardsurfacing of the stretch of highway between St. Joseph and Winnsboro is of utmost importance as it will furnish a direct route through Monroe trade territory to the Twin Cities. In the past a conference over the need for improving this highway was had with former Governor Richard W. Leche and it is now sought to have Chamber of Commerce members hold a similar conference some day this week with Governor Earl Long.

The date has not been decided but it is expected that it will be early this week.

At present a highway maintenance crew is completing work on the road between Arcadia and Homer and by August 31 this will be finished. It is the desire to have this crew transferred to the St. Joseph-Winnsboro highway improvement job as soon as the Arcadia-Homer work is completed. In fact this was assured by Governor Leche, but now that the administration head has changed renewed assurance is sought at this time.

HARDWOOD DATA TO BE PREPARED

An extensive survey is to be made by the Chamber of Commerce of hardwood timber reserves in northeast Louisana. Two great resources overtop all others in this area, that of natural gas, the supply of which will last for many years, and that of hardwood. The chamber is desirous of having a survey made of hardwood hereabouts with a view of interesting furniture concerns to locate their plants in north Louisiana. Considerable assistance has been received from L. F. Eldridge, of the United States forestry reserve in New Orleans, in data that has been and is being prepared of hard woods.

A year ago, 500 or more large furniture manufacturers were given literature showing the advantages of this section for the obtaining of raw material required in their particular line of industry. No definite results were obtained but it is believed that a follow-up with more extended data will produce some concrete objectives.

SEPTEMBER 11 TO BE OPENING DATE

Necessary minor improvements and repairs are to be made on buildings of the city school system to prepare for the reopening of the fall term which will in all probability be on Monday, September 11, although the date has not been positively determined, stated Superintendent E. L. Neville.

It is also probable that the Ouachita parish schools will open on the same date as city schools, providing construction work looking to the enlarging of three schools is completed at that time.

Northeast Junior college also will reopen September 11, but no classes will be held during the first week, which is to be devoted to registration only.

"CURIOUS! I ALWAYS THOUGHT OF SILENT ELECTROLUX OPERATION SIMPLY AS A CONVENIENCE"

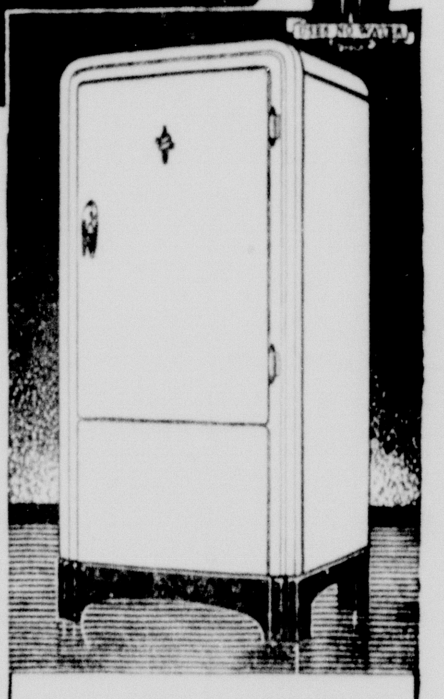
IT'S FAR MORE THAN THAT

. . . it's constant proof of the utterly different method of Electrolux operation—no machinery at all! Good reason why only Electrolux can offer all these big advantages:

(1) No moving parts to wear
(2) Lasting efficiency
(3) Continued low operating cost
(4) Fullest food protection
(5) Savings that pay for it



A TINY GAS BURNER takes the place of all moving parts in Electrolux. And this simpler, more efficient operation makes possible not only the permanent silence, but also the long, low-cost service of Electrolux. Owners find that Electrolux actually saves enough on refrigerating cost and on food bills to pay for itself.

OKAY, BRANG ME OUT A HAMBURGER
VERY WELL, ONE HAMBURGER
GREETINGS, POPEYE MY FRIEND
AHOY WIMPY, YER IN FOR A SUSPRISE
I WANT SERVICE!
WHAT KIND OF A DUMP IS THIS JOINT?
BAM!
MY DEAR, I DID NOT KNOW YOU WERE HERE
FORGIVE ME FOR SPEAKING SO HARSHLY TO THE ONE I LOVE
YOU ARE THE LIGHT OF MY LIFE, I CAME HERE PURPOSELY TO ASK YOU TO MARRY ME
LET US PLIGHT OUR TROTH WITH A HAMBURGER
YES, LET'S DO
PICKLES AND ONIONS ON IT, PLEASE
OH, I AM SO HAPPY
HE LOVES ME, WE SHALL BE MARRIED
KITCHEN
GIVE US A TOASK, WIMPY
I EAT TO OUR FUTURE HAPPINESS
SQUISH
A DISHCLOTH!!
MADAM, YOU MAY CONSIDER OUR ENGAGEMENT BROKEN
